SCHOOL BOARD MINUTES
DECEMBER 26, 1991
School District #441

SCHOOL BOARD MINUTES
School District #441

The Board of Education of Ind. School District No. 441 met in special session on January 8, 1992 in the R.I.C. conference room in Newfolden, Minnesota. Members present: Doreen Amundson, Roger Anderson, Eldon Augustine, David Bakke, Mark Carlson, Donna Fosholm, Doyle Harstad, Supt. Gene Busch.

The agenda was presented with David Bakke presiding.

Mark Carlson presented the Teacher's Contract Agreement. $2500 toward family health insurance (cafeteria style insurance) 4.87% increase for 1991-92 school year; 4.59% increase for 1992-93 school year.

Motion by Mark Carlson and seconded by Doyle Harstad to approve the Teacher Contract as proposed for the 1991-92 and 1992-93 school years (copy on file in Supt. office).

Recessed at 11:50 until 12:45 p.m.

The meeting began at 12:45 p.m. with a call to order by Chairman David Bakke.

The meeting was turned over to Kraus-Anderson Construction Manager Gary Hook.

Engineer testing report on steel in corridors by music room and shop areas will have to be replaced.

Marvin Windows will be here to take a look at area and give estimate.

Roof design will have an 18" slope. Building codes no longer allow flat roofs and this will help with snow load on roof.

By Thursday or Friday will be looking at interior design of new building.

Because of heat transfer paper-like material melted into concrete and is extremely difficult to remove.

There will be testing of concrete in the gym.

The roof design will be looked at during School Board Convention in St. Paul at Kraus Anderson facilities in Circle Pines, MN. Board members, staff and administration will take a look at that time.

A cost comparison study will be done concerning replacement cost versus clean-up cost. This will include bleachers, hallway lockers, gym lockers, and any other items being considered for clean-up. Testing company will be looking at condition of bleachers.

The Board will be considering options concerning alarm systems.

1) Centralized alarm system hooked to local fire department (which is state law) plus smoke detectors.

2) Sprinkler system in building (city water would not be able to handle) would require holding tanks etc.

3) Fire proofing steel and fire walls.

The gym floor will be replaced and a large portion of the shop area.

The District is working under emergency law.

Kraus-Anderson contract with the school district will be drawn up. The District's attorney will be talking to Kraus-Anderson's legal department.

The steel for the corridors will be arriving in two weeks.

Motion by Donna Fosholm to adjourn, seconded by Eldon Augustine. Motion carried.

No matter how hard they worked....how deeply they concentrated....how much energy they expended....how loudly they snored, fishermen at the Knights of Columbus fishing derby Sunday couldn't coax the fish to bite. But the wind was still, the sun was (relatively) warm and the crowd was orderly, permitting the occasional brief siesta on the ice. Brad Poole won the $50 prize for largest (and only) fish with a four-ounce mud puppy—and that should tell you something about fast angling action.

Fishing derby has everything but the fish

Annual Knights of Columbus fishing derby on the Red Lake river in Thief River Falls had the cooperation of the weather and the public Sunday afternoon but the fish were extremely uncooperative.

Traditionally held on one of the coldest, most miserable days of the winter, the derby this year broke with tradition in a big way. Not only did the temperature soar to 44 degrees, there was virtually no wind and the comfort level on the open expanse of ice was definitely tolerable for the approximately 450 people who participated.

Only catch of the day was a quarter-pound mud puppy landed (or is that iced?) by Ryan Poole of Thief River Falls. He received a $50 savings bond for the largest catch of the day.

Oldest fisherman of the day was Sidney Engstrand of Newfolden, age 87, and youngest was seven-week-old Carl Mooney of Thief River Falls.

Minnows for the derby were supplied by Gary Hoffman of Gary's Bait.

Prize winners in the derby drawing were Teresa Nelson, Thief River Falls, $500 grand prize; J.C. Penney company (donated to American Cancer Society); Scott Wieboll, Thief River Falls; Tony DeHaan, Red Lake Falls; Phillips Iron and Metal, Thief River Falls; and Keith Axvig, Red Lake Falls, $100 each.

Midwest Motor Express will expand in the West

Midwest Motor Express, Inc., has announced a major expansion in its Western Region operations which covers the states west of the western borders of North Dakota and South Dakota, according to Marlin Kling, general manager of Midwest's home office in Bismarck, ND.

Kling said the expansion will have no direct affect on the office in Thief River Falls but may have an indirect affect due to anticipated increased volumes of freight due to the western expansion.

Midwest has been at Impasse with its Teamsters union drivers since August 12, 1991, in North Dakota and Minnesota and settlement of the strike seems unlikely.

Kling said the western expansion will include addition of 25 truck tractors by February 1 for the company's over-the-road operations, creating job opportunities for approximately 25 to 30 people. In conjunction with the implementation of equipment into the western region, on-line freight tracing services will be available on a systemwide basis.

"These two steps are very important in our commitment to customer service," Kling said. "They are in response to our customers' needs for on-time deliveries and shipment disposition information. Business revenue from our western area for the year is up approximately $2.2 million as of November."

Midwest has recently entered into a marketing alliance with a Canadian trucking firm that provides for a reduction in transit time of several days for international shipments due to in-house customs clearing capabilities.

Midwest has 31 terminals in 13 states. The local office is served by the manager of the Grand Forks, ND, office and is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. with Colleen Paulson handling the operations.

Minnesota narcotic arrests evaluated

Of the 7,307 narcotic arrests made in 1990 in Minnesota, 22 per cent (1,603) were made by the narcotic enforcement task forces (special narcotic units made up of officers from neighboring jurisdictions). Of the 3,194 narcotic arrests for marijuana in Minnesota for 1990, 22 per cent (709) were made by the narcotic task forces. Of the 1,201 narcotic arrests for opium and cocaine in Minnesota for 1990, 41 per cent (490) were made by the narcotic task forces.

The narcotic task force program began in 1988 with 34 narcotic task forces receiving grant funds. In 1990 there were 31 narcotic task forces receiving grant funds.

A new publication from Minnesota Planning looks at the narcotic task force efforts in Minnesota for 1990. The report, Narcotic Task Forces At-a-Glance looks at the perceptions of narcotic task force agents and administrator; and also looks at their efforts in Minnesota for 1990.

"According to our study, task force participants think the program increased cooperation and coordination among local agencies and has removed dangerous drugs from our streets," said Linda Kohl, director of Minnesota Planning.

This study was completed jointly between the Minnesota Criminal Justice Statistical Analysis Center which is part of Minnesota Planning, and the Office of Drug Policy, department of public safety. Minnesota Criminal Justice Statistical Analysis Center has been evaluating the narcotic task force efforts since 1990 and the Office of Drug Policy has been administrating federal funds for the narcotic task force program since 1990.

Major findings:

- A majority of narcotic task force members believe the narcotic task force program is "very effective" in their efforts to identify,

At their regular meeting of January 27 the Thief River Falls school board presented member Larry Belmont with a certificate of achievement for his participation in over 100 hours of Minnesota school board association sponsored programs and activities over a three-year period.

Initiated in 1986, this awards program sponsored by the MSBA is to reward school board members who seek improvement in understanding and applying their roles and functions and to encourage all members to participate in an organized program of school board member development. The program also recognizes those school districts which value and demonstrate school board member development.

Other current School District 564 board members who have received this certificate of achievement in the past include Harry Sjulson, Maryel Anderson and Dennis Kiesow. Discuss alcohol use with your children

(Third in a series of three articles on Parents, Alcohol and Pre-Teens.)

The first two articles of this series explored the important role that parents play in influencing their children's use of alcohol, tobacco or other drugs, as well as why it is difficult for many parents to know what to say or do to help their children cope with the choices they must make. A set of guidelines was shared that can be used to help parents talk with their children. This third and final article offers specific ideas and suggestions for parents to help prevent problems from occurring and to take action if a child is experiencing a problem caused by alcohol, tobacco or other drug use.

It's easy enough to tell our children not to drink alcohol, smoke cigarettes, chew tobacco or use other illegal drugs because it is illegal. Sometimes that is where our conversation ends and our children are left wondering if there are any other reasons why they shouldn't use and if there are any benefits for not drinking or using these other drugs.

First, we can be positive role models for our children. Children learn far more from what they see us do than what we say. As a parent, you don't have to be a nondrinker to discuss and model safe, legal and appropriate standards regarding alcohol use.

Second, we must be honest in discussing both the risks and benefits of alcohol and other drugs. We know well that many chemicals have the potential to cause serious health, social, legal and economic problems and yet many chemicals can also protect from disease, speed recovery from injury, comfort the ill and are an important part of religious or other social celebrations.

We can give clear examples of how these drugs can cause short-term as well as long-term problems. We can help children understand that smoking cigarettes is costly, leads to bad breath, dirty clothes, reduces endurance and can lead to other serious longterm health consequences in the future. We can clearly tell our children that use of alcohol impairs judgement, can lead to sexual health problems and affects one's ability to drive a car and therefore, presents a great risk.

Third, we can tell our children that a benefit of not using these drugs is that they will give themselves the best possible chance to develop a variety of essential skills. The adolescent who chooses to abstain from alcohol, tobacco and other drugs gains the best opportunity to develop life skills such as conflict resolution, problem solving and goal setting. Using alcohol or other drugs to cope with stress of adolescence mistakenly masks normal problems and actually interferes with the development of important life skills.

Fourth, when free of the influence of alcohol or other drugs, our children can do their best in a variety of areas including academics, athletics, music and driving.

Fifth, parents can help their children understand that developing independence, self-responsibility and maturity occurs normally, naturally and most effectively when free of alcohol or other drug use.

Last, we can help our children realize that friendships can develop honestly and be based on mutual interests and not on the effects of alcohol or other drugs. People are less likely to say or do things that they will later regret when they abstain from alcohol and other drugs.

Parents can begin to communicate three messages to their children at a very early age and continue to reinforce them regularly through adulthood.

The first message is abstinence from alcohol, tobacco, and other illegal drugs is a very safe and acceptable life-long decision. Second, underage use of alcohol is illegal, risky and unnecessary. Third, if you choose to use alcohol when you reach the legal drinking age, we want you to have a set of guidelines that will allow you to know how to do so safety and appropriately. These three messages are clear and direct. They are neither inconsistent nor mixed.

We know that some young people will not hear these messages or will hear other, stronger counter-messages that encourage them to use alcohol or other drugs. If that happens, it is important for parents to know what to say and what to do if they are concerned about their son or daughter.

First, it is important to identify the specific behavior that is of concern. A single incident of unacceptable behavior can lead to serious consequences and should be a signal for parents to talk with their children. A pattern of incidents is a clear signal that professional help might be needed. It is clearly a parent's right and responsibility to talk with her/his child about behavior that concerns her/him. The difficulty can often arise in not knowing exactly what to say or how to say it. Talking openly, honestly and respectfully can help put the child at ease and often break through the defensiveness that can occur with alcohol or other drug use.

Second, while there is no foolproof way to share concern with a

BIBLE STORIES SHOW THAT HUMAN NATURE WILL NEVER CHANGE

If you have ever spent much time reading the Bible, you know that it contains many fascinating stories that illustrate both the strength and the weakness of human nature. Those parables and other incidents have provided the basis for many a sermon, which you have undoubtedly heard at your House of Worship if you have been attending it regularly, and they can often furnish the answer to some problem or situation you may be facing today; just by the application of a few timeless principles. However, whether you're concerned with financial matters, human relationships or whatever, the message here is that throughout our history and despite our ever-changing lifestyles, human nature has remained the same since those ancient days which were recorded in the Bible, and that your House of Worship is the best place to learn this.

Human nature will not change. We shall have... weak and strong, silly and wise, bad and good.

- The narcotic task forces removed more than 900 pounds of marijuana, approximately 15,000 grams of cocaine, more than 123,000 marijuana plants, more than 22,000 dosage units of LSD, more than 5,000 grams of amphetamines/methamphetamines.

Discuss alcohol use with children

child, the following ideas have been helpful to many parents: Tell him/her that you care and you are concerned; tell him/her exactly what he/she has done that concerns you, being as specific as possible; tell him/her exactly what you would like to see change and what you expect in the future. Also, tell him/her what you are willing to do in order to help.

It is essential that throughout this conversation parents listen carefully to what their children say. Some will say nothing. They may not have been prepared for this discussion and not ready to talk at this time. Some may become angry and tell you it is none of your business and to stay out of their lives, others may make changes in their behavior and others may tell you of difficult feelings that are creating serious problems in their lives.

If you discover deep-seated problems or if the behavior doesn't change in a way that you hope to see, seeking professional help is often the most caring action we can take. There are a variety of school-based and community-based resources in our community to help.

Parents have a special relationship with their children and are in a unique position to observe how they act in a variety of situations. What to say, what to do if a child's use of alcohol or other drugs is creating a problem can be a simple straightforward statement of care and concern with a willingness to listen and seek professional help and support when necessary.

Parents play an important role in helping their children develop safe and healthy lifestyles, as well as resolving problems that interfere with their development. Parents working with other parents can make a safer, healthier community for their children. It's Time to Talk is a program developed jointly in 1988 by the Duluth Public Schools, the Harbortown Rotary Club of Duluth, and Hazelden Health Promotion Services and is offered regularly in communities throughout Minnesota. It has been helpful to many parents in opening up family communication about the use and nonuse of alcohol and other drugs.

For further information about this program, please call Julie Dondelinger at 1-800-247-1303 or Carrie Bang at 281-2546.

OSHA reports deaths decline

Minnesota's Occupational Safety and Health administration (OSHA) reports that the number of work-related fatalities for 1991 declined by 48 per cent and is the lowest in years.

There were 19 work-related deaths during the 1991 calendar year—11 in the general industry area and eight in construction—as compared with 36 on-the-job fatalities in 1990 and a five-year high of 46 in 1987.

The aim of OSHA is to reduce workplace accidents and injuries through education, regulation and enforcement of OSHA standards, according to John Lennes, commissioner of the Minnesota Department of Labor and Industry.

"We are confident that our inspection, education and consultation program have proven their effectiveness by helping to reduce fatalities and work-related injuries throughout Minnesota," Lennes said. "The department will continue to develop and enhance its programs in the hope that the deaths of our workers will become a thing of the past."

Foreign Ownership Means Loss Of Control

If one would believe the writing of Robert Samuelson in Newsweek magazine, one would have to believe that it doesn't really matter that the United States has changed its status from a world creditor to a world debtor.

"The ranting and raving about the evils of our being a great global debtor," he writes, "is mostly sound and fury."

Taking issue with that contention is Harold F. Breimyer, Professor Emeritus at the University of Missouri.

"That is not true," be says of the sound and fury description. "His line of reasoning is specious. It not only misleads, it also discourages corrective policy action."

The U.S. was a debtor natico until World War I, when it became a creditor nation and remained so until the mid 1980s. At the present time, estimates are that U.S. net holdings of property plus bonds and other debt paper abroad totals $1,764 billion, and foreigners' boldings in the United States are $2,176 billion. Even if the numbers are not exact and subject to fluctuations, it would appear our investment position as a nation is a negative $400 billion.

So what's the difference? In Samnelson's article in Newsweek, he gives the reassurance that the negative balance is small compared to our Gross National Product and we aren't close to the desperate position of countries like Argentina and Brazil.

"That is correct," Professor Breimyer says. "But it remains true that henceforth we must either spend less than we earn— major change—or see our net investment position worsen."

In one respect Samuelson is right in saying foreign investment in the United States is not a sign of weakness, Professor Breimyer admits. "If the United States were Haiti the Japanese (or Europeans) would not put a single yen (mark; pound, guilder) into our economy. It's because we are resource-rich that they put in lots of their money—they want some of those resources themselves.

"On the other hand, if we were still dominant in technology, especially high technology, the Japanese would not be able to ontsell us internationally and thereby lay claim to a portion of our economy. In this respect our change to debtor status is an indication of a weakening competitive position."

Samuelson said that paying interest and dividends abroad won't impoverish the United States. "But let there be no doubt," Professor Breimyer warns, "the more dollars we send to foreign owners and creditors, the fewer we have for our own living and domestic investment."

Then the professor gets to the scary part.

"The most engaging part of the Samuelson argument relates to bow we could go about paying off our foreign debt," be writes. "Most of our obligations are denominated in dollars. Hence, Samuelson argues, 'we're not at the mercy of foreign creditors' because 'we repay (them) by printing more dollars.' That is, we could inflate our way out.

"There's a good chance that we will in fact take that course. But in doing so will likewise pay off creditors at home, say 10 cents on the dollar. And what would happen to pensioners and retirees on fixed dollar incomes?

"One last point is not even mentioned by Samuelson. It bears on what it means to turn the ownership of productive assets over to foreign investors. In a capitalistic system sale of those assets constitutes transfer of control. Pundits such as Robert Samuelson may ratioaalize all they wish but no nation wants to lose control over its means of production—that is to say, over its eccoomic destiny."

More After-Thoughts On Dismantling of GMC

"If community newspapers are the watch dogs of the common good, writes Dave Simpkins, president of the Minnesota Newspaper Foundation board, "we served as the French poodles as the great heist of the highlands occurred. While we slept quietly at our keyboards, a $300 million bundle of cash was stolen from rural Minnesota."

He is referring to a topic we have given editorial comment about a number of times in the past—legislative changes which diverted Minnesota lottery funds from their announced purposes.

"This sad tale of woe centers around the rise and fall of the Greater Minnesota Corporation (GMC)," Simpkins writes.

"Four years ago Gov. Rudy Perpich and his trusty side-kick Terry Montgomery had a scheme to create rural jobs. Through applied research they would find new uses for agricultural products as well as assist new industries.

"With money from half of the proposed lottery they hoped to build a $300 million fund and use the interest off that fund to invest in rural Minnesota.

"But the Greater Minnesota Corporation became as highbrow as it was high tech. Soon it became an ivory-towered think tank located in the posh offices of the International Centre overlooking the sparkling Twin Cities skyline. There, the corporation gathered the best and brightest of urban minds to solve rural problems," Simpkins continues.

"Within two years the sushi began to sour. Montgomery got caught chasing Norwegian girls, Perpich withdrew his support, and the legislative bandits began surrounding the stagecoach, wanting to get their hands on the big lottery strongbox.

"The Greater Minnesota Corporation was dismantled and its share of the lottery went into the state's general fund to help balance a shaky budget. A new Minnesota Technology Inc. was established to carry on the development aspects of the corporation at a fraction of its cost. Another $4 million went into the Agricultural Utilization Research component of the corporation and $2 million went into Business Innovation Centers.

"The baby was thrown out with the bath water and barely a whimper was heard from the rural press."

Simpkins is right, and we of the rural press stand properly chastised. Perhaps collective informed complaint could have influenced legislative action to purge and revitalize the GMC instead of plunder and dismantle it. Then again, we may be guilty of assuming more persuasive power than we can actually demonstrate. At any rate, we as a diverse group of businesses drawing our financial breath from the rural economy, didn't make much of an effort to guard the fort. We will try to keep a sharper lookout in the future.

Seek to create awareness of rail crossings

Minnesota Operation Lifesaver (OL) is a safety program designed to educate the public regarding the possible hazards at and around railroad crossings. Sponsored cooperatively by the Minnesota Safety Council and participating railroads, it is part of a nation-wide effort to create an awareness by the general public of the potential hazards of rail/highway grade crossings, and is focused on reducing the number of crashes, deaths and injuries incurred at these crossings.

Since National Operation Lifesaver's inception in 1972, such deaths have decreased by 65 per cent. This dramatic decrease makes Operation Lifesaver one of the most successful highway safety programs in America.

To help the public understand the potential dangers at and around railroad crossings, Minnesota Operation Lifesaver offers free education programs to interested groups throughout the state. Some groups which have found the program especially helpful are school, clubs, civic organizations, community groups and businesses. Each presentation incorporates video tape segments, and is designed specifically for the needs of your group. OL speakers reached over 30,000 people in Minnesota in 1991.

To schedule an Operation Lifesaver presentation, or for further information regarding the program, please contact the Minnesota Safety Council, (612) 291-9150 or 1-800-444-9150.

Foreign Ownership Means Loss Of Control

If one would believe the writing of Robert Samuelson in Newsweek magazine, one would have to believe that it doesn't really matter that the United States has changed its status from a world creditor to a world debtor.

"The ranting and raving about the evils of our being a great global debtor," he writes, "is mostly sound and fury."

Taking issue with that contention is Harold F. Breimyer, Professor Emeritus at the University of Missouri.

"That is not true," he says of the sound and fury description. "His line of reasoning is specious. It not only misleads, it also discourages corrective policy action."

The U.S. was a debtor nation until World War I, when it became a creditor nation and remained so until the mid 1980s. At the present time, estimates are that U.S. net holdings of property plus bonds and other debt paper abroad totals $1,764 billion, and foreigners' holdings in the United States are $2,176 billion. Even if the numbers are not exact and subject to fluctuations, it would appear our investment position as a nation is a negative $400 billion.

So what's the difference? In Samuelson's article in Newsweek, he gives the reassurance that the negative balance is small compared to our Gross National Product and we aren't close to the desperate position of countries like Argentina and Brazil.

"That is correct," Professor Breimyer says. "But it remains true that henceforth we must either spend less than we earn— major change—or see our net investment position worsen."

In one respect Samuelson is right in saying foreign investment in the United States is not a sign of weakness, Professor Breimyer admits. "If the United States were Haiti the Japanese (or Europeans) would not put a single yen (mark, pound, guilder) into our economy. It's because we are resource-rich that they put in lots of their money—they want some of those resources themselves.

"On the other hand, if we were still dominant in technology, especially high technology, the Japanese would not be able to outsell us internationally and thereby lay claim to a portion of our economy. In this respect our change to debtor status is an indication of a weakening competitive position."

Samuelson said that paying interest and dividends abroad won't impoverish the United States. "But let there be no doubt," Professor Breimyer warns, "the more dollars we send to foreign owners and creditors, the fewer we have for our own living and domestic investment."

Then the professor gets to the scary part.

"The most engaging part of the Samuelson argument relates to how we could go about paying off our foreign debt," he writes. "Most of our obligations are denominated in dollars. Hence, Samuelson argues, 'we're not at the mercy of foreign creditors' because 'we repay (them) by printing more dollars.' That is, we could inflate our way out.

"There's a good chance that we will in fact take that course. But in doing so will likewise pay off creditors at home, say 10 cents on the dollar. And what would happen to pensioners and retirees on fixed dollar incomes?

"One last point is not even mentioned by Samuelson. It bears on what it means to turn the ownership of productive assets over to foreign investors. In a capitalistic system sale of those assets constitutes transfer of control. Pundits such as Robert Samuelson may rationalize all they wish but no nation wants to lose control over its means of production—that is to say, over its economic destiny."

More After-Thoughts On Dismantling of GMC

"If community newspapers are the watch dogs of the common good, writes Dave Simpkins, president of the Minnesota Newspaper Foundation board, "we served as the French poodles as the great heist of the highlands occurred. While we slept quietly at our keyboards, a $300 million bundle of cash was stolen from rural Minnesota."

He is referring to a topic we have given editorial comment about a number of times in the past—legislative changes which diverted Minnesota lottery funds from their announced purposes.

"This sad tale of woe centers around the rise and fall of the Greater Minnesota Corporation (GMC)," Simpkins writes.

"Four years ago Gov. Rudy Perpich and his trusty side-kick Terry Montgomery had a scheme to create rural jobs. Through applied research they would find new uses for agricultural products as well as assist new industries.

"With money from half of the proposed lottery they hoped to build a $300 million fund and use the interest off that fund to invest in rural Minnesota.

"But the Greater Minnesota Corporation became as highbrow as it was high tech. Soon it became an ivory-towered think tank located in the posh offices of the International Centre overlooking the sparkling Twin Cities skyline. There, the corporation gathered the best and brightest of urban minds to solve rural problems," Simpkins continues.

"Within two years the sushi began to sour. Montgomery got caught chasing Norwegian girls, Perpich withdrew his support, and the legislative bandits began surrounding the stagecoach, wanting to get their hands on the big lottery strongbox.

"The Greater Minnesota Corporation was dismantled and its share of the lottery went into the state's general fund to help balance a shaky budget. A new Minnesota Technology Inc. was established to carry on the development aspects of the corporation at a fraction of its cost. Another $4 million went into the Agricultural Utilization Research component of the corporation and $2 million went into Business Innovation Centers.

"The baby was thrown out with the bath water and barely a whimper was heard from the rural press."

Simpkins is right, and we of the rural press stand properly chastised. Perhaps collective informed complaint could have influenced legislative action to purge and revitalize the GMC instead of plunder and dismantle it. Then again, we may be guilty of assuming more persuasive power than we can actually demonstrate. At any rate, we as a diverse group of businesses drawing our financial breath from the rural economy, didn't make much of an effort to guard the fort. We will try to keep a sharper lookout in the future.

Seek to create awareness of rail crossings

Minnesota Operation Lifesaver (OL) is a safety program designed to educate the public regarding the possible hazards at and around railroad crossings. Sponsored cooperatively by the Minnesota Safety Council and participating railroads, it is part of a nation-wide effort to create an awareness by the general public of the potential hazards of rail/highway grade crossings, and is focused on reducing the number of crashes, deaths and injuries incurred at these crossings.

Since National Operation Lifesaver's inception in 1972, such deaths have decreased by 65 per cent. This dramatic decrease makes Operation Lifesaver one of the most successful highway safety programs in America.

To help the public understand the potential dangers at and around railroad crossings, Minnesota Operation Lifesaver offers free education programs to interested groups throughout the state. Some groups which have found the program especially helpful are school, clubs, civic organizations, community groups and businesses. Each presentation incorporates video tape segments, and is designed specifically for the needs of your group. OL speakers reached over 30,000 people in Minnesota in 1991.

To schedule an Operation Lifesaver presentation, or for further information regarding the program, please contact the Minnesota Safety Council, (612) 291-9150 or 1-800-444-9150.

Governor Carlson ends plans for tribal casino

Governor Arne Carlson is opposed to further expansion of all gambling, said Cyndy Brucato, press secretary for the Governor.

On February 4 Governor Carlson sent the Red Lake band of Chippewa a letter explaining his opposition to the expansion of Indian gaming to Red Lake Falls, East Grand Forks or Thief River Falls.

Brucato said the governor recognizes the economic benefits gambling has produced for tribes, but where an action by him would cause an increase in gambling, he would not take that action.

Brucato explained that his opposition is not just to the expansion of Indian gambing, but all forms of gaming including the lottery. That's a position he has held for several months, Brucato said.

Tribal Chairman Butch Brun was not making any comments about the letter Monday. A copy of the letter from the Governor was released, however.

The letter, which was addressed to Brun, states as follows: "Thank you for your letter in which you inquired regarding my position on the issue of newly acquired lands for purposes of Indian gaming. Apparently the proposals you sketched in your letter would involve the process of taking new lands into trust for gaming purposes. Section 20 of the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act permits the Secretary of Interior to determine that gaming may be established on newly acquired land but only if the Governor concurs in that determination.

"I announced several months ago that I was in favor of and that there needed to be a moratorium on gambling in Minnesota. Although I fully support Indian Gaming as a means to economic improvements, in cases where an action by me will cause an increase in gambling, I will not take that action. To be consistent with my position that there must be a moratorium on gambling I would not concur in a determination by the Secretary of the Interior that gambling be established on any newly acquired Indian land."

Review of the Casino Proposal

■ On or about August 21, 1991, the Red Lake band of Chippewa expressed interest publicly in bringing a casino to Thief River Falls.

■ On September 3 representatives of the Thief River Falls media began examining and presenting information and comments from other communities in Minnesota that already have casinos.

■ On September 5 the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce membership voted to endorse a casino to the business community. On or about the same time the Ministerial Association decided to oppose the casino.

■ On September 17 an informational meeting, which drew a crowd of over 500 people, was held at the city auditorium.

■ On September 24 the city council unanimously passed a motion to show the Red Lake band that the council was looking at their proposed venture in a positive light, but the council required a legal contract to review before a final vote. The council was also advised to take an "arms length" position relative to a proposed advisory vote.

■ A public, but not officially authorized, advisory vote was proposed and advertised for October 19. On October 19, following requests by various factions to vote and not to vote, the public advisory vote, was held. Eighty-four per cent of the voters (1,017), who voted, were opposed to the casino.

■ On December 10 the Thief River Falls city council and the Pennington county board of commissioners formally approved an invitation to the Red Lake band of Chippewa to establish a gaming casino in Thief River Falls. On the same day, however, the Red Lake band of Chippewa tribal council decided to study Red Lake Falls and East Grand Forks as possible sites for a proposed casino, citing racism as a reason for looking at sites other than Thief River Falls. The final request to the Governor, however, included Thief River Falls.

■ On January 28, the city council approved a resolution of qualified support for a gaming casino in the city of Red Lake Falls, if Thief River Falls was not chosen as the site for the casino.

■ On February 4, 1992, Governor Arne Carlson decided not to endorse a further expansion of gambling in Minnesota and rejected the location of new casinos on non-Indian lands.

Novak receives award

Franklin Middle school instructor named "Teacher of Excellence"

by David Hill
Associate Editor

When the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce presented Ron Novak an award at its annual banquet in January he wasn't there to accept the award. He was doing one of the things he likes best, which so happens to be one of the reasons he was awarded the Excellence in Education award by the chamber.

The Minnesota Chamber Foundation's Excellence in Education awards recognize and honor teachers of excellence. The awards are provided for current classroom teachers in public and non-public schools throughout all of Minnesota. Candidates presented awards at the local level are nominated to win a state award as well.

Though as Novak admits, being presented the award at the local level has been one of the highlights of his career, it was more important the night he received the award to be with his Pee Wee A hockey team at a three-day tournament in St. Cloud. After all, one of the reasons he received the award was because of his dedication to students, and the local hockey program.

Jean Heinrichs, chairperson of the Chamber Education committee, stated in her nomination of Ron Novak that he was selected because of his dedication to the profession of teaching, to his students, to parents and the community of Thief River Falls.

"As a teacher, Ron Novak has

Prestegaard named county recorder of the year in Minn.

Eugene Prestegaard was honored at the Minnesota Association of County Officers Convention held at the Radisson Minnetonka in Minneapolis February 4-7 as the Outstanding County Recorder of the Year, and presented a plaque. Each year the State Associations each select a member of their group to recognize.

He attended grade school there, later attending Lincoln high for two years, graduating from NWSA at Crookston with the Class of 1937 and the Advanced Class of 1938, with major classes being in the commercial field.

Both Eugene's parents were deceased by March 1948. In January 1950 he took an extensive trip to the states of Washington, California and Louisiana returning in April. Not finding something he felt more suitable, he continued to farm. In 1956 he was approached to apply for the Deputy Sheriff position, which he would not consider; however, in 1957 when it was again mentioned he did consider and was appointed Deputy Sheriff and began working with Sheriff Charles R. Richards April 1, 1957. He continued in this position until becoming Register of Deeds (now County Recorder) on January 1, 1969 and which position he presently holds.

Eugene was active in and a member of the executive boards of the Minnesota Association of

Workshop set on education foundations

"Investigating the Concept and Planning the Reality of a School Foundation" is the topic of a workshop to be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. March 13 at the Brown Conference Center at the University of Minnesota—Crookston under sponsorship of the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund.

With cutbacks in funding and increased competition for the tax dollar, communities and schools are seeking new ways for public education to keep up with the changing technology and increasing information that students must learn, according to Pat Berger of the Initiative Fund staff.

An education foundation or fund that is set up as a partnership between the school and the community can provide students with a wider range of educational opportunities than can be financed through the normal budget.

The workshop is designed for communities that are (1) interested in investigating the education foundation concept; or (2) ready to take planning steps to create a foundation or fund.

A team of community members is encouraged to attend including school board members, parents, community leaders, business and agri-business people, teachers and school administrators.

The workshop presenter is Joyce Hagen, executive director of the District 593 Education Foundation in Crookston. Hagen holds a law degree from the University of North Dakota and a masters degree in nonprofit administration from Columbia University. She is a lecturer at the University of North Dakota and a consultant in nonprofit management.

Cost of the workshop is $10 per person which includes printed materials, lunch and coffee breaks. Registration forms are available from NWMIF offices at Crookston (phone 281-6528) and at Bemidji (phone 759-2057) and must be returned by March 6.

The Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund (NWMIF) is a public foundation operating within 12 counties of northwestern Minnesota. As part of its commitment to strengthen the capacity of individuals, organizations and communities to shape their future, the NWMIF offers workshops and seminars that encourage and energize people to devise creative responses to change that will build a future with greater economic opportunity.

1992 aging plan gets OK

Following recommendation by the advisory committee of the Area Agency on Aging, members of the Northwest Regional Development commission (NWRDC) approved the 1992 plan on aging at their quarterly meeting January 25 in East Grand Forks.

The area plan serves as the agreement with the Minnesota Board on Aging which allocates Title III Older Americans Act funds to the NWRDC and 13 other area agencies on aging throughout Minnesota.

"Northwest Area Agency on Aging receives over $500,000 annually to provide planning and grant funds for services that promote dignity and independent living for older persons," states Faith Rud, agency director.

"Services provided through Title III grants include home health aide care, medical transportation, legal service, housekeeping, insurance advocacy and congregate and home delivered meals.

"In addition," Rud said, "agency staff provide assistance to senior groups and service providers to promote the development of programs to address community concerns regarding senior needs."

Areas of particular focus in 1992 include discussion of long-term care needs and gaps, and enhancing awareness of services available in the region. The purpose of both efforts is to allow seniors to remain in their place of residence by involving them in the service network at a stage where needs are emerging and can be met with community-based service for minimum cost rather than allow needs to progress to the point that nursing home placement is the only option for meeting an array of needs.

"The area agency welcomes your questions and comments," Rud said. "For further information or to obtain a copy of the 1992 area plan, write to me at 525 Brooks Avenue South, Thief River Falls, MN 56701 or call 681-2637 or 1-800-537-0601."

been successful in contributing to students' growth intellectually, emotionally and socially. When Ron relates to students, it is always in a positive, constructive way. From a parent's observation level, Ron builds confidence and self esteem in his students," Heinrichs said.

About 27 years ago Novak came to Thief River Falls — "and it seems like it was yesterday," Novak adds.

Novak graduated from high school in 1960 in Ely, and completed two years at the junior college in Ely, two years at Bemidji State University. He graduated from Bemidji State University in 1965 and has been teaching in Thief River Falls ever since. Currently, he teaches sixth grade Minnesota history, language, and one class of eighth grade geography.

Novak said his father, who worked in an underground mine, had a strong influence on his decision to become a teacher. He said his father told his children that he would never live to see them work in a mine. Novak confided that his father came from the school of thought that held as its principle belief that education was very important. So, it was only natural that all three of his sons completed their education. Without his support, Novak said, he wouldn't be a teacher.

One of the most enjoyable aspects of his career as a teacher, Novak said, has been working with children and watching the progress and enthusiasm. He said he loves to work with children.

During his years as a student, Novak also played sports. And, he said, sports played an important roll in his education. So it was almost natural that he combine his love for education with his love for sports. "That's why it's such a great occupation," Novak said.

Heinrichs said Novak is a great asset to the community. "He has demonstrated good sportsmanship on and off the ice — whether it is in class at school or directing hockey."

As much as the chamber award meant to Novak, he said it's just as rewarding to him when he sees former students who come back to Thief River Falls and he learns of the successes they have achieved. "It's nice to see that you played a little part in their education," he said.

Novak and his wife Carol have two sons, Scott and Jeff, and a daughter Lynn. During the 27 years he has been a teacher in Thief River Falls, the community has been very good to him and his family, Novak said. He said he appreciates all the support he has received over all these years and thanked the Chamber of Commerce for the award.

Spanish teen to speak at Franklin Wed.

To Eduardo Lecubarri, 18, international education is a familiar term. He grew up in Santander, Spain, spent two of his high school years in England and is a student this year at the Northwestern Minnesota Global Studies Institute in Red Lake Falls.

For the Spanish teenager, life in the United States has been an opportunity to gain proficiency in writing and speaking English, and to learn more about American and international culture. This Wednesday, February 12, he will be speaking with students in Walter Redinger's classes at Franklin middle school in Thief River Falls.

Although Lecubarri has learned to adapt between cultures, he says there are differences. "School is going well," he said, "but I have many, many things to learn. It is different. In Spain more memory work is required, and you don't always know how you will be graded by your instructor. I think in the U.S. they grade more fairly."

As part of the Global Studies program, international students spend nine weeks of the school year with a host family. This winter Lecubarri is living with Gary and Linda Graff and their children Isaac and Danny in Red Lake Falls. He says his time in England helped prepare him for life with an American family and the Graffs say they are enjoying their temporary "teenage son."

Lecubarri is the fourth in a series of Global Studies students to visit Franklin middle school since the first of the year. Student speakers share cultural perspectives from their native countries and their presentations are arranged for the classes by Redinger.

Friday is the day our hearts and thoughts turn to love. Friday is Valentine's Day.

Take a few moments and contemplate some of the most familiar words written about love. In the contemplation of these words from I Corinthians decide how you can better love yourself and those around you. "Love is patient and kind."

It's interesting that patience and kindness are treated as a unit. How can one be kind and not patient? If one is patient, kindness will most naturally result. Can you always be kind to your children or spouse or friends or acquaintances? Even those we love the most are not always treated kindly by us. What if we tried to be more patient with each other? Kindnesses to each other would be so much more evident. Love is patient and kind.

"Love is never jealous or envious." Jealousy and envy are also a unit. If I'm going to envy my neighbor's good fortune, I will surely find that jealousy is a part of my life. To be loving to each other we need to praise each other's good fortunes, but we need to also praise our own good fortunes. Envy and jealousy will leave when we learn to appreciate what we have. Love is never jealous or envious.

"Love is never haughty or selfish or rude." It's interesting that these words do not tell us to not love someone who is haughty or selfish or rude. But, these words do tell us that these types of behavior have no place in the life of someone who wants love to be a major ingredient in his or her life. Being kind to one another eliminates selfishness and rudeness. Listening to each other can eliminate haughtiness. Love is never haughty or selfish or rude.

"Love does not demand its own way." Sometimes all we want is our own way. To see that we get our way without demanding it is a component of love. It means we need to hear the needs and concerns of each other. We may find that our ways are mutual when we bother to listen. Love does not demand its own way.

"Love is not irritable or touchy." Well, I guess we are all unlovely at some times of the day. Greet me too cheerfully in the morning and you will see how touchy I can be! But, the overall attitude that wants to always be irritating to others or always offended is not a part of a loving life. Love is not irritable or touchy.

"Love does not hold grudges and will hardly even notice when others do it wrong." Grudges seem to be the way of life for some people. To live with a grudge against others is to live a life that could use a touch of love. Don't honor the wrongs others do to you by holding a grudge against them. Your life will be the more loving by concentrating on the rights done, not the wrongs. Love does not hold grudges.

"Love is never glad about injustice, but rejoices when truth wins out." The enormous injustices in this world are enough to make all of us not believe in love. Instead we need to seek for the rights that are done every day. We need to seek the kindnesses. We need to seek the times of wrongs that are righted. Love rejoices when truth wins out.

"If you love someone you will be loyal to him no matter what the cost." Loyalty is a word we forget in modern America. We no longer marry with the precept that we will love each other until death parts us. Loyalty involves expecting the best of each other. Loyalty involves defending each other against the assaults of life. Love is loyal.

Look at the love you have for those around you. Are you loyal to those you love? Are you kind to those you love? Are you patient with your loved ones? Are you glad when right prevails? Do you hold grudges against those in your life? The days are few in which we have to live. Live your life with the grace that love can bestow in it.

Speaking Of . . .

by Sharon LaCoursiere

. . . Laundry, with Love

With Valentine's Day coming up on Friday, I thought it would be nice to write something about it. I couldn't think of a thing.

Then I remembered that my son-in-law said I could use some of his columns while I was sick. Well, I'm not sick, but I'm going to use this one anyway.

You remember my son-in-law, Jon Flatland, the one I called the Master of Disaster. Well, Master of Disaster or not, he knows how to write some funny stuff. He and my daughter, Christie (sometimes known as "The Giffer") have a newspaper in Ashley, North Dakota, and he writes an award winning weekly column, "Thaughts While Shaving..."

His story may not seem to be very romantic. In fact, it might not seem like a valentine story to you at all, but I know it is. I know Jon and laundry, and I know that Cupid had to have a hand in this somewhere or he wouldn't have touched a button on the washing machine. Besides, it is about marriage, and what else does Valentine's Day lead to?

Three Temperatures, One Detergent

"I've been happily married to the Giffer for almost six years now and in that time I've learned a lot about being a husband. Probably the biggest lesson was learning that being married means you have to share certain things—like the hathroom mirror in the morning and all the household chores.

"It would be different if our house was bigger and we had 'his' and 'hers' bathrooms. But we don't. It's good, however, that she's considerably shorter than I am, so I can see right over her as I brush my teeth or comb my hair.

"The household chores would also be different if she didn't work. If my beloved were just a housewife, she'd have all kinds of time to putter around the house doing the dishes and dusting and taking care of the laundry.

"Laundry. Just the sound of the word casts fear into the hearts of some husbands. Not me though—because I'll try anything once. And like most men, I don't need to read any instructions or ask anybody for help. I'll figure it out on my own.

"That's how it was the first and the last time my wife asked me to handle the laundry duties. Now don't get me wrong—I'm not completely without knowledge on this subject. After all, I can single-handedly drop a load of some blue jeans into the washer with some soap and they come out perfect every time. But my better half asked me to tackle the whites and colors and all those other things too.

"As I sorted the clothes, I remembered that TV commercial, 'Three temperatures, one detergent.' Or was it 'One detergent, one temperature?' I forgot. Oh well, it can't be that difficult.

"My sweetheart had told me before she left, 'Sort the clothes and wash all the whites together, then do the colors, but you also have to sort the colors because some can't be washed together. Also, be sure you don't wash any sweaters because they have to be done a special way...' The rest of it is just a blur in my mind.

"When I got done sorting, I had eight different piles of clothes. Geez, I thought, this will take all day.

"To save time, I combined three of the piles with other piles. Hey, I'm a guy. I didn't know any better!

"The first load went into the washer.

"Was it three temperatures, one detergent, or was it one detergent, one temperature? And is this the stuff they advertise on TV?

"I dumped a bunch of soap in the washer, set the temperature on hot water and let 'er rip. In no time at all, it was done washing and I transferred the load to the dryer. Then another load went into the washer.

"As I sat in the living room watching an old John Wayne western and sipping a soda, I wondered why it took the Giffer the better part of a weekend to finish the laundry.

"'There's nothing to it! A man must have invented the washer but it was a woman who decided the laundry should take all day.'

" I heard the timer on the dryer buzz and I went to retrieve my clothes. Remembering what I had learned from dear ol' mom before leaving for college, I folded each item as I took it out of the dryer and stacked everything neatly in a basket.

"'Hmmm...when did she buy me that pink t-shirt?'

"By the time I finished, the washer was done, so I again transferred the load to the dryer. A while later I was back to folding.

"'Where's all my stuff?' I wondered as I began folding. 'All that's in here are light blue sweat socks. Why would she want all these light blue sweat socks?'

"Then I found what used to be her good blue sweater. It wasn't quite as blue any more and it was quite a bit smaller. In fact, the cat could have worn it.

"Along with the sweater were several other items of clothing that now looked less than half the size they were when I shoved 'em in that dryer.

"At this point, I want to tell you that I figured out I'd screwed up. And realizing this, I immediately discontinued doing the laundry duties.

"Giffer came home that evening to find several stacks of unwashed clothes on the laundry room floor and me sulking in the recliner.

"'Why didn't you finish the laundry?' was her first question. 'And why are you sitting in front of the TV with a light blue wash cloth around your neck?' was the next.

"'You'll find out why I didn't finish the laundry in a second,' I told her. "And this isn't a wash cloth—it's your good sweater.'

"To make a long story short, we've now got a nifty collection of lovely colored socks, underwear and t-shirts, and about $2,000 worth of Barbie clothes.

"For the record, fellas, it's three temperatures, one detergent.

(Thanks, Jon!)

Local members on mission to Haitian church

A team of 10 people sponsored by Valley Christian Fellowship of Crookston returned Tuesday, January 21, from a week of ministry outreach in Haiti. Due to the political situation in the country and the embargo, the various airlines that fly to Haiti had discontinued flights in December. One airline resumed flying to Haiti on Wednesday, January 15, the day the VCF group was scheduled to fly in to the country.

The team members were Les and Janet Sannes of Crookston, Ron and Shawn Goodyke of Euclid, Ollie Urdahl of Viking, Russ Holmaas and Randy Steenerson of Thief River Falls, Doug and Claro Hildenbrand of Grand Forks and Dave Rolf of McIntosh, who attends the Trinity Lutheran church of McIntosh.

The group worked with Pastor Marcel Temival of Croix des Bouquets, Haiti about 12 miles north of Port au Prince. Along with pastoring a congregation and overseeing several other congregations, Pastor Marcel directs a day school serving over 300 orphaned and foster children. He has visited the Valley Christian Fellowship on several occasions over the last few years.

The group helped paint the inside of the church, distributed Gospel literature, shared in nightly services, spent time with the school children and traveled by truck into the mountain region of the country to participate in services held there.

Members of the team, being one of the first mission groups to return to the country since the coup and embargo, felt they were received readily by the Haitian people. The Haitian pastors they met were grateful that someone would come despite the circumstances. They encountered no animosity in spite of the embargo, which in the view of team members has had a very detrimental impact on the Haitian people. Military check points were seen at regular intervals along the roads and on one occasion a vehicle carrying three VCF team members was stopped, the members commanded to raise their hands while they were frisked. They were sent on their way without incident.

In December, families of VCF wrapped for the team to take with it small gifts of soaps, toothpaste, pencils, notebooks and candy for the Haitian orphanage school children. A first grade class from the Aurora Christian School of Aurora, IL, whose teacher heard of the outreach through a relative from VCF, sent a large box of similar items to be taken with the group. Bibles in the Creole language, gas lanterns, and various medical products such as aspirin and vitamins were also taken along.

Scott and Dick Maves of Eagle Drug and Clark Piepkorn of Thrifty White drug in Crookston donated aspirin, ointments, vitamins and other medical products to the project. Dr. Peter Graham, and Dr. Bob Simon also of Crookston donated tooth paste and tooth brushes. Donations of medical supplies, tooth brushes and school supplies were also donated by Ekeren Drug, Bruce Pharmacy, Thief River Falls Dental Community and Northern State Bank in Thief River Falls.

The team members shared their experiences Sunday, January 26, during the morning service at VCF.

Sheriff's Ass'n. begins fund-raising

Pennington County Sheriff Bob Wold has announced plans for the "Minnesota Sheriff" advertising sales campaign. The Minnesota Sheriff magazine is the official publication of the Minnesota State Sheriff's Association, a non-profit educational organization founded in 1885. Specifically, Minnesota Sheriff is distributed to sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, sworn sheriff's personnel, chiefs of police, state criminal justice offices of the Governor and Attorney General, legislators, city officials and county commissioners. Outside the state's law enforcement and judicial areas, subscriptions are supplied to selected libraries, schools, hospitals, newspapers and others promoting the cause of effective law enforcement and educating the public.

Money raised through advertising sales for the magazine is used to support various community projects throughout Minnesota. The only method the Association has to raise those funds is through selling advertising space to local businesses, according to the sheriff. The purpose of the Minnesota State Sheriff's Association is to provide better education and training for the law enforcement personnel and to educate the general public in crime prevention and public safety methods.

Snowmobile enthusiasts from throughout the area gathered at the C'mon Inn in Thief River Falls last week to discuss trail systems and possible solutions for problems, including international border crossings. Sen. LeRoy Stumpf (standing) of Thief River Falls presided at the informal session. Also attending were Sen. Keith Langseth (at Stumpf's right) of Glyndon, Sen. Gene Merriam (at Stumpf's left) of Coon Rapids and Sen. Steven Morse of Dakota. Arctco, Inc., provided pizza and refreshments. Among items discussed were connection of trails from East Grand Forks and Moorhead with the trail system extending north and east from Thief River Falls.

Hanson herd leads county DHIA report

Mark Hanson dairy herd led the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement association for the month of December, according to the report prepared by Mel and Randy Rasmussen, supervisors.

The Hanson herd of 55 cows, milked three times a day, had 85 per cent of the herd in production and averaged 70.2 pounds of milk and 2.56 pounds of butterfat.

Mylo Carlson had the second place herd with 89 per cent of the 63-cow herd in milk and an average daily production of 59.6 pounds of milk and 2.09 pounds of butterfat.

Third place herd was Lyle Swanson with 79 per cent of the 42-cow herd in milk and average production of 55 pounds of milk and 2.20 pounds of butterfat. Swanson's butterfat test of 4.0 per cent was highest in the top 10 herds.

Other herds in the top 10 include the following with number of cows, percentage in milk, average pounds of milk and average pounds of butterfat listed respectively:

Walter Bros. Farm, 100, 81%, 54.4 and 1.98; Bob Schindler, 47, 77%, 47.4 and 1.62; Orlan and Joel Stolaas, 42, 93%, 46.7 and 1.73; Warren Hamrick & Sons, 100, 86%, 45.9 and 1.52; James R. Muzzy, 34, 85%, 44.2 and 1.75; Pearson Bros., 40, 88%, 43.1 and 1.41; and Tom and Marvin Koop, 32, 91%, 42.9 and 1.56.

Herd averages include all cows in the herd, not only those which are in production. Number of dry cows therefore affects the overall production average. Averaging is done to give the dairyman a record of the herd's total earning power for the month.

During December there were 22 herds on official DHIA test and three owner-sampler herds on test with the Pennington association.

Frank Micleeh, a member of the provincial parliament in Ontario, was among those in attendance recently at a meeting of snowmobilers held at the C'mon Inn of Thief River Falls. The meeting was presided over by Sen. LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls and included Sen. Gene Merriam of Coon Rapids, Sen Steven Morse of Dakota and Sen. Keith Langseth of Glyndon. Among topics of discussion at the informal meeting was an international snowmobile trail system and a method of making border crossings less complicated and more convenient for snowmobilers.

Dimich, Davis nominated for Triple A award

Linnea Dimich

Joel Davis

Lincoln high school seniors Joel Davis and Linnea Dimich have been nominated for the Academics, Arts and Athletics (Triple A) award, according to Terry Soino, Lincoln high school principal.

Joel is the son of George and Janice Davis and Linnea is the daughter of Dr. Tom and Judy Dimich.

Established in 1988, the Triple A award is sponsored by the Minnesota State High School League and the American Automobile Association clubs of Minnesota. The award goes to high school seniors with a 3.0 or higher grade point average who participate in league-sponsored athletic programs and fine arts activities such as theater, speech, music and debate.

Both Davis and Dimich are involved in many school and community activities.

Triple A award nominees will be reviewed by the league's administrative regions. The top two finishers in each region will be invited to attend a special luncheon at the St. Paul Civic Center on March 28 where league officials will announce the state award winners and present the certificates, medals, plaques and cash scholarships for the four winning students and their schools.

Following the luncheon, the award nominees will take part in an on-court recognition ceremony at the state basketball tournament.

Students at Lincoln high school decorated some walls of the cafeteria during Sno-Fest 1992, which was held at the school last week. Each class was responsible for decorating one wall. The walls were then judged and points awarded to the class. At the end of the week, the class with the most points was awarded Sno-Fest king and queen honors. The 10th grade were the overall winners. During the wall decorating contest, however, the seniors placed first. Pictured in descending order, the top photo is of the senior wall, which won first place, followed by the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen.

INSURANCE Update
by Carol Nelson
According to the Institute of Transportation Engineers, two-thirds of all car collisions in this country occur at intersections. The opportunity for collision at two-lane road intersections is so high because automobile traffic has the chance to move in many different directions. When a car is hit from a side angle, passengers are most vulnerable. While traffic-light controlled intersections are likely to be the sites of rear-end collisions at low speeds, uncontrolled intersections are where deadlier right angle collisions occur.
No one knows when a mishap will occur while on the road. Even if you are the most cautious driver, you never know about the "other guy". It's important to protect your interest by carrying adequate amounts of insurance. If you have questions about your coverage or about insurance in general, we will be happy to assist you. The office of NORTHERN STATE AGENCY is conveniently located in the Northern State Bank building. To reach us, call 681-4042. Office hours are 8:30-5 Mon.-Fri.; 8:30-6 on Thursdays.
Note: According to the National Safety Council, angle collisions account for nearly 33 percent of all fatal accidents involving two cars.

TRF girls challenge Bemidji win streak

Unbeaten status of the No. 7-ranked Bemidji girls high school basketball team remained intact Friday, but not without a challenge from North Sub-Section 8AA rival Thief River Falls. The 10-7 Prowlers took the 16-0 Lumberjacks to the final seconds before surrendering a 45-42 decision in front of a large, and very vocal, Lincoln High School gymnasium crowd.

Bemidji handled Thief River Falls 44-31 three weeks earlier on the Lumberjacks' court, but could never really shake the upset-minded Prowlers this time around.

A 16-11 first quarter scoring edge – which included an 8-0 Bemidji finish – proved to be the difference as the Lumberjacks maintained that five-point spread with a 23-18 half-time lead and a 35-30 third quarter advantage.

An 8-for-11 fourth quarter at the free throw line secured the victory for the Lumberjacks, who were just 1-for-7 from the field over the final eight minutes.

Biggest scoreboard margin was a 35-26 difference when the Lumberjacks' Beth Toftum hit a short jumper with 1:31 remaining in the third quarter.

But Thief River Falls met the challenge with a 7-0 run that was completed with a three-point play by sophomore guard Toni Chiodo to pull the Prowlers within 35-33 with just 49 seconds elapsed in the fourth quarter.

That got the crowd going for the stretch run. A back-door lay-up for Chiodo with 3:06 left cut the Bemidji lead to just 38-37 and when junior forward Leslie Ammerman, inserted into the game when sophomore starter Lori DeLap ran into foul trouble, hit from the side for the second time in the fourth quarter, the Prowlers had a 39-38 edge with 1:41 remaining.

Only Bemidji field goal of the fourth quarter, a rebound basket by 6-0 junior center Jess Thompson, promptly put the Lumberjacks back on top.

Thompson then made one of two free throws with 36 seconds to go for a 41-39 Bemidji lead.

A shot by Thief River Falls guard Jodi Kruta rolled off the rim with 20 seconds showing. Bemidji grabbed the rebound and Shanna Rusten made both tries on a bonus free throw opportunity with 15 seconds to play, expanding the Lumberjacks' lead with 43-39.

Kruta came back to drill a three-point shot with nine seconds left to pull the Prowlers within 43-42, but there were just two seconds remaining when the Prowlers fouled Rusten in the backcourt on the inbounds play, and the 5-5 senior guard added two more free throws to wrap it up.

"It was a great team effort," said Thief River Falls coach Sally Wiltse. "We played the kind of game we needed to play to beat them, but..."

Thompson scored 13 points and Rusten, the only senior in the Bemidji starting unit, wound up with 10. But Rustan's biggest contribution came on defense, where she stuck with the high-scoring Kruta all night long, limiting her to 14 points.

"Rustan is a very tough defensive player," acknowledged Wiltse. "She was on Jodi like glue the first time we played them, and we knew she would be there again."

The Prowlers tried to combat Rustan's attention on Kruta by getting the ball to 5-10 junior forward Amy Adams on the wings, and she responded with 13 points. But when DeLap picked up her fourth foul midway through the third quarter, the Thief River Falls strategy had to be altered.

"We wanted Amy shooting on the outside, where she's much more effective," pointed out Wiltse. "But when Lori picked up her fourth foul, when had to move her (Adams) inside."

And the Lumberjacks took away the fast break opportunities with a 38-26 rebound advantage and deliberate style of play.

"Bemidji slows it down a lot," explained Wiltse. "That's their style. They do it well. It's a little frustrating. It takes the adrenaline and excitement out of a team. You want to hurry and go back on offense, but they're holding on to the ball. You get impatient."

Thief River Falls was 19-for-58 from the field (33 percent) and with just five offensive rebounds, rarely got more than one shot at the basket. The Prowlers were a quiet 2-for-5 at the free throw line. Bemidji went 17-for-50 from the field (34 percent) and finished 11-for-17 at the line.

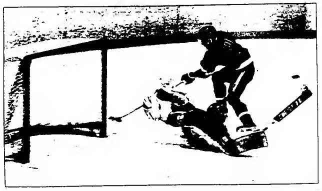
Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
Bemidji	16	7	12	10	45
Thief River Falls	11	7	12	12	42

Bemidji - Jess Thompson 13, Noelle Cochran 2, Nancy Komulainen 2, Erica Lyseng 7, Ruth Tenk 6, Beth Toftum 2, Shanna Rusten 10, Heidi Hanson 2, Renae Scholz 1

TRF - Toni Chiodo 5, Jodi Kruta 14, Lisa Ulrich 4, Amy Adams 13, Lori DeLap 2, Leslie Ammerman 4

Thief River Falls guard Jodi Kruta tried to get by Bemidji defender Erica Lyseng during Friday's North Sub-Section 8AA girls high school basketball game in the Lincoln gym. Kruta scored 14 points, but the Prowlers fell to the unbeaten Lumberjacks 45-42.



Sprawling across the goal mouth, Thief River Falls goalie Barry Dowers kept forward Ryan Savegeau from scoring when the Alexandria sophomore came in alone during Saturday's Section 8 high school hockey game at the Sports Arena.

Prowlers win final swim dual

Thief River Falls boys finished the 1991-92 regular season high school swimming schedule Thursday with their first win in five dual meet tries – a late-reported 97-88 victory at Moorhead.

"It was a good, solid meet for us," said Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken. "We swam a lot of kids in off-events, just to see how they would do.

The Prowlers won eight of the 12 events, including a double-victory for Brad Kragness in the 200 individual medley and the 100 backstroke.

Other individual Thief River Falls winners were Matt Carlson, 50 freestyle; Daryl Kiesow, 100 butterfly; Adam Jacobson, 100 freestyle; and Tony McEnelly, 500 freestyle. Jacobson, Kiesow, Kragness and Carlson also combined on a first place finish in the 400 freestyle relay. They are all juniors. The Prowlers won the 200 freestyle relay with a younger unit featuring sophomore Guy Drevlow, freshman Simon Krystosek, eighth grader Sam Adams and seventh grader Jason Curfman.

Section 8 swimming and diving championships will get underway Friday at 12-noon at the University of North Dakota Hyslop Pool in Grand Forks. Saturday finals start at 10:30 a.m.

Prowlers, Cards tie 2-2

Three times Thief River Falls has gone into overtime this winter, and for the third time, the eight-minute extra period failed to decide the issue Saturday as the Prowlers skated to a 2-2 Section 8 high school hockey tie with Alexandria.

It was the final regular season home appearance of the 1991-92 season for the Prowlers. The question is, will they step on to the Sports Arena ice again? Thief River Falls will finish the schedule with games at Bemidji Tuesday and at Fergus Falls Friday. A current five-game winless streak has knocked the 10-7-3 Prowlers from a guaranteed top four seed for post-season tournament play into the wait-and-see category, based upon their final two starts and the Feb. 19 coaches' Section 8 tournament seeding voting.

Top eight vote-getters will be grouped into the Section 8 Tier I tournament. Teams seeded 9-through-18 will compete in the Section 8 Tier II playoffs. Both winners – Tier I and Tier II – will advance into state tournament play.

Another new twist this year is the fact that the Section 8 tournament games will be played at the sites of the higher seeded teams until both Tier I and Tier II semifinals and finals move into the Thief River Falls Sports Arena.

Tier II starts post-season play Thursday, Feb. 20, with the No. 17-seeded team at No. 16 and No. 18 at No. 15. Tier II quarterfinals Saturday, Feb. 22, will have the 16/17 winner at No. 9, the 15/18 winner at No. 10, No. 13 at No. 12 and No. 14 at No. 11.

The Tier I quarterfinals Friday, Feb. 21, will have the No. 8-seeded team at No. 1, No. 7 at No. 2, No. 6 at No. 3 and No. 5 at No. 4.

In Thief River Falls, the Tier II semifinals and finals will be played Friday, Feb. 28, and Thursday, March 5, while the Tier I semifinals and finals will be played Saturday, Feb. 29, and Friday, March 6.

"The way the section is going this year, outside of the disadvantage of being on the road for the round round, I really don't see much of a difference where you ended up being seeded and who you end up playing," noted Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo. "It's just going to be a matter of who's on a roll and who is playing well that particular night."

The Prowlers looked assured of a top-four finish back on Jan. 21 when an impressive 9-4 win over Warroad left them 10-4-1. But since then they have lost to Roseau 4-1, tied East Grand Forks 4-4, lost to Moorhead 5-1, fell to Crookston 6-5 and Saturday wound up with the 2-2 tie against Alexandria.

"A tie is always frustrating," acknowledged Chiodo. "You put in all that time and all that work, and you end up leaving the building not knowing if you should be happy or sad. But really, we did not play badly. It was a tight game. Alex is a solid club. It just another indication how wide open our section is."

The Cardinals opened the scoring at 8:41 of the first period when Mark Kloubec's slap shot from the point sailed through a maze of players and past screened Thief River Falls goalie Barry Dowers.

Thief River Falls tied it 1-1 at 11:01 when Rick Ostby was allowed to walk out of the corner with the puck. Alexandria goalie Ryan Wilson made the save on Ostby, but linemate Jason Svir was there for a quick point-blank rebound.

First period ended with a 2-1 Alexandria lead when Matt Bullard got behind the Thief River Falls defense and stayed a step ahead of his pursuers to beat Dowers at 12:26.

Thief River Falls waited until the 14:53 mark of the second period to tie it at 2-2 when Svir scored off a scramble in front of Wilson as time was running out.

Alexandria put just four shots on net in the third period and Thief River Falls tested Wilson only six times – leaving the tie intact.

Best Thief River Falls chance in overtime was a long slap shot by Ostby that Wilson just got a piece of with just 40 seconds elapsed. The Cardinals' Todd Wagner was in alone on Dowers at 3:27, but the senior netminder made a sprawling save, and 33 seconds later made another nifty pad save on Getty Johnson's shot from the slot area.

Alexandria left with a 13-5-1 record.

Recognition plaque was presented to Don Olson Saturday before the start of the Thief River Falls-Alexandria high school hockey game at the Sports Arena. Olson, the former owner and manager of KTRF Radio in Thief River Falls, was involved in the Prowlers' hockey broadcasts from 1946 through 1982. It was announced recently that he will be inducted into the Minnesota High School Hockey Coaches Hall of Fame during March 12 ceremonies in the Twin Cities. The plaque presented Saturday came from the Blue Line Club on behalf of the entire Thief River Falls hockey community. On hand for the brief ceremony were, left to right, Dale Wennberg, representing the City of Thief River Falls; John Seaverson, President of the Blue Line Club; Olson; and Robert Duncan, Superintendent of Schools for School District 564.

Lumberjacks out-score Prowlers 87-74 in boys high school basketball...

Bemidji beats TRF second time

After struggling offensively through much of the 1991-92 boys high school basketball season, Thief River Falls' point production has seen a dramatic increase in consecutive Friday night North Sub-Section 8A match-ups with Fergus Falls and Bemidji. Unfortunately for the Prowlers, the new-found scoring punch has come at the expense of defense. First they lost a 75-70 home court shoot-out with Fergus Falls, and a week later dropped a high-scoring 87-74 decision at Bemidji.

The latest setback put the Prowlers at 2-13 for the year. They were scheduled to host Moorhead tonight (Tuesday) in their third straight North Sub-Section 8AA assignment before heading to East Grand Forks Thursday.

The numbers were bigger, but Bemidji wound up with its second 13-point win of the year over Thief River Falls Friday. The 7-6 Lumberjacks left Thief River Falls back on Dec. 10 with a 68-55 victory.

"We're scoring points now, but our defense isn't so good," noted

Skippers' balance keys 62-56 victory

Five Middle River players scored from 9-to-15 points Friday as the Skippers defeated visiting Tri-County 62-56 in boys high school basketball.

Gilbert Olson led the balanced Middle River attack with 15 points, while Jarrett Walton and David Nelson both had 13, John Sparby netted 10 and David Blazek added 9.

"That's the first time we've had four double figure scorers since the (Thief River Falls) Christmas tournament, and it's the best overall game we've played since the Christmas tournament," said Middle River coach Eldon Sparby. "It was a good team performance; a very positive outing for us."

Corey Splide scored a game-high 16 points for the Wildcats, while Johnathon Pearson finished with 14 and Tom Engen had 10.

Middle River was 23-for-56 from the field (41 percent) and 12-for-17 at the free throw line. Tri-County went 20-for-53 from the field (38 percent) and 9-for-14 at the line. The Skippers had a 36-28 rebound edge, and the Wildcats had twice as many turnovers – 18-9.

Lone Alexandria goal, coming early in the third period, occurred on a five-minute power play opportunity.

Freshmen girls lose

Thief River Falls freshmen girls fell to 4-13 for the year following back-to-back basketball losses to East Grand Forks and Bemidji.

East Grand Forks led at the quarter stops 11-5, 27-12 and 43-15 in beating Thief River Falls 52-26 Thursday. Kelly Skeim scored 9 points and Carrie Lawrence had 8 for the Prowlers.

Bemidji broke open a close game in the final quarter Friday to win 42-29. Thief River Falls trailed only 8-7, 18-17 and 28-23 at the quarter stops. Lawrence led the Prowlers with 8 points.

TRF JV falls 58-55

Thief River Falls put up three shots from three-point range in the final 14 seconds, but couldn't come up with the tying basket in losing a 58-55 boys junior varsity high school basketball game at Bemidji Friday.

Bemidji had quarter leads of 14-8, 31-22 and 43-35.

John Gunstad and Josh Balmer led the Thief River Falls scorers with 12 points each, while Preston Treat added 10.

Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "We've started playing a little more up-tempo game, and we're shooting a lot better than we did earlier. We want to keep the point production up, but we've got to play better defense."

Bemidji turned a 17-17 first quarter tie into a 44-29 halftime lead, then maintained a 64-49 third quarter spread.

"The second quarter was the difference," acknowledged Brekke. "We were a little tired, and they got a run on us."

Four Thief River Falls scorers hit double figures as Darin Wald and Tom Upham both hit 18, Kelly Swanson had 15 and Wade Evenson netted 13.

Thief River Falls was 31-for-63 from the field (49 percent) and 9-for-12 at the free throw line. Bemidji went 38-for-66 from the field (58 percent) and 7-for-10 at the line. The Lumberjacks out-rebounded the Prowlers 34-27, and they topped the turnover charts 15-14.

Eagles get by Nordics 65-62

Recent trends continued for both teams Friday when Grygla-Gatzke edged Marshall County Central 65-62 in North Border Conference boys high school basketball.

It was the fourth straight win for the host Eagles and the third consecutive loss for the Nordics. And they've all been the close shave variety.

Grygla-Gatzke has climbed to 9-6 for the year with a nerve racking week that included down-to-the-wire wins over Roseau 70-68 in overtime, Warroad 54-52, Kittson County North 65-59 in triple-overtime and now Marshall County Central.

Over the same time span Marshall County Central fell to 8-8 with luckless losses at the hands of East Grand Forks 53-46, Badger-Greenbush 69-64 and finally Grygla-Gatzke.

"You need a certain amount of luck," acknowledged Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson, "but we've managed to find a way to win in each one. I could feel the confidence in the kids. After going down to the wire four games in a row, the kids become accustomed to the pressure. They've experienced it before, and they know how to handle it."

It was a see saw after that featured a 15-10 Grygla-Gatzke first quarter lead, a 29-28 Marshall County Central halftime edge and a 41-41 tie at the end of the third quarter.

It was still tied, 59-59, when the Nordics' Chad Bjorgaard sank two free throws with 1:33 remaining.

The Eagles' Mitch Bernstein made two sets of free throws – first with 63 left and then with 22 to play – to give Grygla-Gatzke a 53-59 edge. But it quickly became a 63-62 game when Shane Borg drilled a three-point basket with nine seconds showing.

Two free throws by Justin Lunsetter with seven seconds showing sealed it for the Eagles.

"It was a good game," pointed out Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "We played better than we did the two previous losses, but it's still disappointing. That's three games in a row where we've run into teams who have refused to make a mistake down the stretch. We're not playing perfect, but we're not getting any breaks, either."

Ryan Bakken put on a shooting clinic to lead the Grygla-Gatzke offense, hitting 10 of 13 field goal attempts en route to a game-high 24-points. Bernstein netted 19. Tim Olson had a 23-point, 13-rebound performance for Marshall County Central, while Borg and Bjorgaard both contributed 10 points.

Marshall County Central was 22-for-54 from the field (41 percent) and 14-for-23 at the free throw line. Grygla-Gatzke went 22-for-40 from the field (55 percent) and 19-for-27 at the line to make up for a 39-25 rebound deficit. The turnovers were even at 11 apiece.

The Nordics were scheduled to meet Tri-County tonight (Tuesday) at Middle River. They will be at Roseau Friday. The Eagles were to play Lake of the Woods tonight in Baudette. They will be at Middle River Friday.

Huskies shoot down Flyers

Goodridge spotted Fisher a 10-0 head start Saturday before coming back to pick up a 71-57 boys high school basketball win on the road.

It was the seventh straight win for the 13-3 Huskies, who were scheduled to host Red Lake County Central tonight (Tuesday). They will be at East Grand Forks Sacred Heart Friday.

Goodridge recovered from the slow start to out-score Fisher 35-10 the rest of the first half. The Huskies were up 16-14 at the end of the first quarter, had a 35-20 halftime lead and maintained a 55-40 third quarter spread.

"We missed some easy shots at the beginning," noted Goodridge coach John Rahn. "We did a nice job after that. It was a complete team effort."

Donavon Quam continued his senior year scoring feats for the Huskies with 32 points, and he received offensive support from Willie Vettleson with 20 points and Peter Grosz with 10. Brian Doty and Lance Reitmeier led the Flyers with 17 and 16 points, respectively.

Goodridge shot an impressive 56 percent from the field, hitting 27 of 48 attempts, and had a 13-for-26 night at the free throw line. Fisher shot only 31 percent on a 20-for-64 showing from the field. The Flyers were 9-for-14 at the line.

With Donavon Quam, Eldon Quam, Shane Wilkens and Vettleson all grabbing eight rebounds each, the Huskies beat the Flyers on the boards 39-24.

Wolverines lose to Rams

North Border Conference leader Roseau handed a struggling Grygla-Goodridge squad a one-sided 72-32 girls high school basketball setback Monday in Roseau.

"It was not a very good outing for us," admitted Grygla-Goodridge coach Mike Gast. "We didn't handle their press very well – we didn't do anything very well."

Roseau's pressure defense produced a 23-6 first quarter lead, a 39-9 halftime spread and a 58-17 third quarter gap as the Wolverines dropped to 1-16 for the year.

Charissa Lundbohm led a balanced Roseau attack with 12 points. Kathy Smeby finished with a game-high 13 points for the Wolverines.

Grygla-Goodridge was 13-for-49 from the field (27 percent) and 5-for-9 at the free throw line. Roseau went 28-for-59 from the field (47 percent) and wound up 14-for-21 at the line. The Rams out-rebounded the Wolverines 34-24.

A busy Grygla-Goodridge week included a match-up with Badger-Greenbush tonight (Tuesday) in Grygla and a Thursday trip to Red Lake Falls.

Dale Narlock, Thief River Falls, knew he had what in archery is called a Robin Hood, which occurs when one arrow splits another down the center. But, what do you call it when a third arrow is split, besides lucky? Narlock made the shot at the indoor Thief River Falls Archery Club range located in the Old Arena about two weeks ago. He uses a XI Legend Magnum bow, 60-pound pull, and 2117 Easton Arrows. He shoots for the Amoco 24 Car Wash team and has been involved in archery for three and one-half years.

School Dist. 561 – Goodridge

The following minutes are not official until approved by the board at the next regularly scheduled meeting.

Proceedings: Special joint meeting with Grygla Board, February 3, 1992, 1:00 PM.

Members absent: Lowell Smeby, Grygla.

Also present: Superintendent Holtart, Principal Hendrickson, Goodridge, Principal Lusignan, Grygla.

The meeting was called to order at 1:06 PM by Chairman Vigen. Pledge of Allegiance was given.

Hanson moved, Hyland seconded to dispense with the regular agenda items and approve the special meeting agenda. Motion carried.

Superintendent Holtart presented a report which showed declining projected enrollments in both districts. He also reported on which districts have recently become involved in paired academics.

The shared superintendent's contract was discussed. Hanson and Hyland from the Goodridge Board and Anderson and Sundberg from the Grygla Board, agreed to work together to change the format for the superintendent's evaluation prior to the next annual evaluation in November. The boards discussed negotiations for the Superintendent's 1991-1992, 1992-1993 contract package.

The boards discussed other shared programs including German/Art, Football, Girls Athletics, and Homecoming activities. It was recommended that policies continue to be examined for consistency between the two schools which would impact the districts' shared activities and programs.

Concern was expressed that there is a need for a standard of ethics policy for coaches and other extracurricular staff hired from outside of the two districts regular staff. It was recommended that this policy language be proposed at the next pairing committee meeting.

Potential extracurricular programs to share were discussed. Following discussion, the boards agreed to strongly encourage the high schools to work toward holding a combined Junior Senior Prom and Banquet in 1993. Combining of yearbooks, boys basketball, and knowledge bowl were recommended to remain separate at this time and be examined for combination at another time. The boards agreed to pursue sharing programs in competitive speech and spring plays or musicals.

Curriculum programs and master schedules were reviewed by the principals. The administration was directed to investigate working toward complimentary curriculum schedules and areas where the two schools could work together to expand curriculum offerings.

The possibility of having the driver's education course taught outside of the regular school day in a joint agreement was discussed.

Combining support programs, such as bus maintenance, was left for discussion at a future time.

Hanson moved, Gallagher seconded, on behalf of the Goodridge school board, to contact the State Department of Education to request a facilities and programs study. Motion carried. A similar motion was passed by the Grygla board.

Chairman Vigen turned the chair over to Vice-President Hanson.

The boards discussed policy language concerning the drug and alcohol association/possession rule as listed in student handbooks. Concerns were expressed regarding the enforceability of the rule and its interpretation. It was recommended that this policy be review at the pairing meeting in April.

The boards agreed to hold another joint meeting after receiving a report on the State Department of Education facilities and programs study.

The Grygla board adjourned at 5:50 PM.

Gallagher moved, Kotrba seconded, to support the administration's and athletic director's interpretation of Student Policy #745.6 ("Conduct for Students Involved in Minnesota State High School League Activities") and ruling in the case reported on January 27, 1992, due to location of the incident, Highway Patrol officer's report, and the definition of said policy as found on page twelve of the student handbook. Motion carried, 3 yes, 2 no, 1 abstain.

The board briefly discussed setting a date for the committee to meet on recommendations for language concerning student memorials.

Meeting adjourned at 5:20 PM.

Speech season underway at LHS

Speech season for 1992 is getting underway at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls, according to Connie Stock, speech coach. Informational meetings are being held after school and last year's speech students are promoting participation in their communication classes.

Speech is a Minnesota State High School league sponsored event with individuals competing at meets in the area throughout the season and attempting through subregion and regional competition to reach the state finals.

On March 28 Lincoln high school will be hosting a speech meet for 200 to 300 area students. They compete on an individual basis with other students in their particular events and team totals are a total of the individual scores. Awards are given at each meet.

There are several events in which students can compete, Stock points out. Original Oratory, Great Speeches and Informative Speaking are areas where traditional speeches are written and presented by the student. Extemporaneous events include Extemporaneous Speaking, focusing on current events; Discussion, involving a small group discussion of a current event using cooperative and critical thinking skills; and Extemporaneous Reading, where the students interpret excerpts from prose or poetry through reading.

Other interpretive events include Serious Prose, Serious Poetry, Serious Drama and Humorous Interpretation, all of which are literary selections a contestant has prepared in advance of competition.

Performance events are Storytelling, taken from pre-selected anthologies, and Creative Expression, which is entirely original material.

Practice times are set up on an individual basis with the coach and students are encouraged, although not required, to participate in tournaments throughout the season.

Franklin middle school also has a novice speech program, coached by Diane Marshall. Anyone in grades 6-12 is eligible to participate in the speech program and should contact Connie Stock for more information.

ON VALENTINE'S DAY LET'S REMEMBER WHAT TRUE LOVE MEANS

Now true love is a word that we often have heard,
And yet seldom know how to display.
For it's not very hard to send someone a card,
With a message of love to portray;
But its origin springs from a number of things,
With a meaning that's hard to convey.
Now to do a good deed for some person in need,
Our religion will show us the way:
Such as helping the poor as a way to be sure
That the rules of our faith we obey.
So wherever you go, if you let your love show,
That's the spirit of Valentine's Day.
— Gloria Nowak

They do not love that do not show their love
— William Shakespeare

commandment that ye love one another as
I have loved you."

Mrs. Rodahl's first graders have been learning all about Antarctica and penguins during the month of January. We learned there are 17 species of penguins, and they don't all live where it's icy and cold. To end our unit we had a white food tasting party. The children brought popcorn, crackers, cheese, cereal, chips, mints, bread, coconut and several other white foods. We had a table full of food and a terrific time!

We have a new student in our classroom this week. Her name is Annie Mickelson, and she comes to our school from Fort Frances, ON. We are very happy to have her with us!

CLIMB Theatre's production of "Terry Most Magical Video Voyage" was presented at the Strandquist school to grades Kindergarten through 3rd grade. It was sponsored by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Minnesota. The emphasis of this program is to promote and encourage the building of a healthier Minnesota and reinforcing good mental and physical health. The students learned good health habits from "Beastie Friend" and the huggable "Gnleb". The program was enjoyed by everyone.

The Strandquist elementary students are having a snow sculpture contest. Each class is erecting a sculpture and the winners will be treated to a popcorn party. We're happy the weather has been warm. It helps alot with the construction.

Parent-teacher conferences were held on Wednesday, January 29. We are happy to have our parents visit our classroom and our teachers and have them see how we have decorated the school with all of our hard work.

The Bill Of Responsibilities

Much is made, and rightly so, of the Bill of Rights which farms the basis for our freedom in this great nation. We treasure our rights and we make use of them every day, most of the time without realizing that we are doing so. We become very defensive when any attempt is made to take any of those rights away from us.

We expect those rights to be available to us and we expect our elected officials to abide by them and preserve them for us. But should we expect to enjoy the benefits of our rights without accepting a good deal of responsibility as well?

Commissioned by the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, PA, a few years ago, a group of prominent scholars drafted a so-called "Bill of Responsibilities" which parallels our rights and expectations. "Freedom and responsibility," declares the preamble, "are mutual and inseparable; we can ensure enjoyment of the one only by exercising the other. The 10 articles drafted by the scholars include the following:

(1) Be fully responsible far your own actions and for the consequences of those actions. Freedom to choose carries with it the responsibility for our choices.

(2) Respect the rights and beliefs of others. In a free society, diversity flourishes. Courtesy and consideration toward others are measures of a civilized society.

(3) Give sympathy, understanding and help to others.

(4) Do our best to meet our own and our families' needs. There is no personal freedom without economic freedom. By helping ourselves and those closest to us to become productive members of society, we contribute to the strength of the natian.

(5) Respect and obey the laws. Liberty itself is built on a foundation of law. That foundation provides an orderly process for changing laws. It also depends on our obeying laws once they have been freely adopted.

(6) Respect the property of others, both private and public. No one has a right to what is not his or hers. The right to enjoy what is ours depends on our respecting the right of others to enjoy what is theirs.

(7) Share with others our appreciation of the benefits and obligations of freedom. Freedom shared is freedom strengthened.

(8) participate constructively in the nation's political life. Democracy depends on an active citizenry. It depends equally on an informed citizenry.

(9) Help freedom survive by assuming personal responsibility for its defense. Our nation cannat survive unless we defend it. Its security rests on the individual determination of each of us to help preserve it.

(10) Respect the rights and meet the responsibilities on which our liberty and our democracy depends.

Unlike the Bill of Rights which is a part of our formal structure, the Bill of Responsibilities carried no legally enforceable weight. There is no way to legally compel our citizens to be responsible citizens. But the list is a reasonable guide for reasonable people and conveys a message that a civilized society must take to heart. We love our freedom; we must be responsible to keep it.

Health Care Thoughts To Keep In Mind

Availability af health care and insurance to pay for health care is becoming a mare frequent topic of political debate on both state and national scenes. More and mare politicians are leaning in the direction of a government-operated and therefore government-funded form of operatian.

A study recently conducted for Communicating for Agriculture revealed a number of circumstances in a number of countries which shawed rural areas ta be caught short in those countries' health care programs.

A citizen of Canada, for instance, is one-third as likely to have access to open heart surgery and one-eighth as likely to be able to obtain a brain scan as a citizen of the United States, and rural Canadians often find that modern medical technology is available only in large cities.

In Narway, residents of Oslo are 15 times more likely to be able to see a specialist than people living in the northern part of the country.

Under Brazil's free health care system, urban residents see doctors nine times as aften as rural residents, receive 15 times more physicians' services and are almost five times more likely to be hospitalized.

In Mexico, where free health care is a constitutional right, 85 per cent of the country's health care resources are consumed by 35 per cent of the population, mainly in large cities.

Despite 40 years of promises to create regional equity, Britain spends least on hospital services in those rural areas which are most underserved.

Despite 40 years of promises to create equality of access to health care, spending per person varies by a factor of two to one across the regions of New Zealand and the number of surgeries perfarmed varies by more than six to one.

Despite 20 years of promises in Canada, the distributian af physicians per capita among the provinces varies by almost three to one and within Ontario by a factor of more than four to one.

Canadian provincial governments restrict modern medical technology to hospitals, usually in large cities, and actively discourage outpatient surgery. Rural residents must travel to the cities for the services of most specialists and for most surgical procedures.

Despite many recent claims, there is little evidence of efficiency in countries with national health insurance. While peaple wait for months and even years for hospital admission, haspital managers appear uninterested in admitting more patients. As the hospital waiting lines continue to grow throughout Canada, at any time almost ane in five hospital beds is empty and a fourth af all beds is being used by nursing home patients.

Although health care is theoretically free ta all in Britain, 12 per cent of the populatian has purchased private health insurance. Although health care is free to all in New Zealand, one-third of the population has private health insurance and one-fourth of all surgery is perfarmed in private hospitals—which are located mainly in urban areas.

Before we leap headlong into a government health care program we should consider safeguards for the lower populated areas. Once programs are in place it can be expected that health care will be treated the same as any other government program—the attention will be given where the votes are concentrated. And that doesn't make the future of rural health care look very bright.

Working family credits help low income families

The new Minnesota Working Family Credit and the expanded federal Earned Income Credit will help put more money in the pockets af low-income working parents.

The credits can pravide a larger tax refund to warking parents who earn less than $21,250 a year. The two credits offer a boost to parents who may earn too much ta receive other forms of government assistance but who still struggle ta adequately support themselves and their families. The credits also are available to people who earn too little to file a tax return.

The Working Family Credit is based on 10 per cent af the federal Earned Income Credit. Together, the two credits can provide eligible families with a refund of up to $2,222. The average combined refund is estimated at $800. An estimated 150,000 Minnesota families are eligible far the credits.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

That was quite a shocker when "The Times" came out with that story about there being a million dollars warth af lottery tickets sold in Thief River Falls in the past year. I can only imagine what a blow it must have been to the good people wha thought that they were protecting us from temptation by keeping the casino out of town. Actually I guess that it should be up to the individual to learn ta resist temptation. Sin is everywhere.

What I would like to see is for these and mare goad people ta channel their efforts inta trying to do something about something that, I believe, is a far warse vice than gambling and that is SMOKING. It takes the maney from both the rich and poor, not just an accasional thing as gambling would likely be for most people. For a large per cent of the peaple, it ruins their health as well.

I was pleased ta see the Letter to the Editar by Olaf Stolns. I was beginning ta think that I was the only ane concerned about the number of yaung people smoking. I used ta walk quite a bit when the weather was nice and if yau happened by the school at break time or after school was out, the number of kids smoking was amazing. So much has been dane to educate them to the harm af smaking. Many praminent people wha were dying of cancer made thase flicks on TV warning them nat ta smake. Why won't they listen? It seems to me they aren't even as pretty after they have been smoking a while.

As I walked farther uptown, in the space af one block (it takes me about twa minutes) I saw three women driving cars with a cigarette in their face and children in the car. Thase children were smoking too, even thaugh they had na chaice in the matter.

Everyone should read the article in the May "Readers digest" entitled "Mind If I Give You Cancer?" by David Reuben, M.D. If yau don't have it around the house, I am sure that yau can find it at the library.

I surely wauld find it interesting if someone could find out approximately haw much money was spent in the past year far cigarettes in T.R.F. I have been naticing the prices in the store. I thing $2 a pack is a fair average estimate. That should mean that it would cost $730 far one persan to smake one pack a day, so for two people it would cost $1,460. If thase two people smoked two packs a day each that wauld amount to $2,920.

I think that I just heard someone say, "What business is it af hers?" Many of these peaple are on welfare. Then I think that it gets to be my business and yours.

Naw I get to the mast personal concern of this letter. I would like ta warn yau alder peaple to recansider before giving up yaur homes and moving into public housing, especially if you are adversely affected by smake as I am. The camplex where I live is divided inta units of six ar seven apartments surrounding a common Atrium. In the place that I maved from I had faur smakers an my wing so I thought I was lucky when there was only ane smoker in this unit, but she lives next ta me and - thraugh na fault of hers, but from a flaw in the building - the smoke cames into my apartment. She is a good neighbor and a most cansiderate smaker. I have never seen her smake in the Atrium.

Well, I thaught that I had a bright idea and went to the manager with it. I asked if she cauld not, whenever possible, kind af work taward getting as many as possible af the units non-smaking. You know, when someone applied for an apartment if they were smokers try ta get them into a unit that already had smokers. She said she wasn't allowed to discriminate in any way. The first name up had to have the apartment.

I had a hard time believing this so I wrote to the Attorney General. The letter that I gat back from his affice said that there was no law controlling smaking in public housing but to talk to the manager. They thought that it shauld be all right ta try ta get some of the units non-smaking. Well, I had talked to the manager so where to go from there?

I also had asked if we cauldn't have a "NO SMOKING" sign in the Atrium and she said, "No that is their home and they have ta ga out there ta wash clothes. It seems ta me that I am be discriminated against when smaking makes me sick. As far as that goes my neighbors are, too. We all have to ga out there to wash clothes. I don't know of any non-smoker who likes the smell of stale tobacco smoke.

Of course, na ane except the anes wha get sick from it will believe me. Everybady had an Uncle or Grandpa that smoked all his life and lived ta be 90. I am wandering how many peaple were affected by his second-hand smoke?

Sincerely,
Donella Larson

YOUR TIMES

by Brian E. Reese
Williams, Minnesota

Many listened to the President's "State of the Union" address and the message was what we already know—the Union is in serious trouble.

The President's and the Democratic response to the problem all said the same thing—"More Government" and "More Spending." They talk about "tax cuts" this year, when last year it was "tax increases." They talk about new programs, which means more spending, which means more of the same, which means more government, which means less freedom for the citizens of this country. All this talk sounds great but how did our dollar of today become worth only seven cents of what a 1970 dollar was?

A study showed that when the President was a Republican, social spending increased 14 percent more than when we had a Democrat in the White House. President Bush has increased the size of government by more than 20 per cent in his first three years of office. So most would say its the Republicans that are the problem. But doesn't the U.S. Constitution require that all money bills originate in the House of Representatives? So wouldn't it be true that if the Democrats wanted to cut spending they could do it since they control the House of Representatives? The problem lies in the fact that "Washington" is out of control. In 1992 it will spend $4 billion each day, costing an average household $291 a week and that isn't including "Off-Budget" items.

Rep. Collin Peterson, who represents this area in Washington, draws a weekly pay check of $2,406. That's more than most of his constituents make in a month, so his constituents should expect that he is doing everything in his power to cut and eliminate the big spending bills that come before Congress. It is very sad too say that he isn't doing such.

Trim (P.O. Box 8040, Appleton, WI. 54913) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, educational organization and publishes a triannual bulletin listing usually eight bills that are voted on in Congress. All bulletins use the same bills nationwide. The last eight bills called for spending $370.6 billion dollars or an average cost per household (that's you and me, taxpayer) of $3,882. The criteria used to judge whether these bills should pass or fail is based on the U.S. Constitution. Based on that criteria, NONE of these bills should have passed, yet every one did and Mr. Peterson voted "yes" on every one.

Another tool to find out how your Congressman votes is the "Conservative Index" published in the "New American." (P.O. Box 8040, Appleton, WI. 54910). It uses the same criteria for 20 bills voted on by the Congress and gives a per cent of correct vote, based on what is allowed by the U.S. Constitution. Mr. Peterson's score was a depressing 25%.

I know personally that Mr. Peterson has tried to make excuses about the way he votes, but if he votes for an unconstitutional bill, then he is violating his Oath of Office that states in part "to uphold the Constitution."

During the debate of HR 2686: Fiscal 1992 Interior Appropriations, Philip Crane (R-IL) offered an amendment to eliminate all $178 million earmarked for the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA). During the debate Crane brought up the fact that the founding fathers defeated a similar proposal, offered by Charles Pinkney of South Carolina at the convention of 1787 and since the founding fathers were so very explicit in their views of funding the arts, to fund such was not a legitimate function of a national government and that they should obey their Oath of Office. Mr. Peterson voted against the amendment and for the bill in its entirety.

Some may ask why I dispute the way that Mr. Peterson votes. The truth is that I can't afford a Congressman like him. I also feel very strongly that he should do what he swore to do—"Uphold the Constitution."

We don't need "term limitation" amendments, we need to be informed of our Congressmen's voting record and defeat the bad ones. If the budget were drafted according to what the U.S. Constitution allows it would be approximately 20 per cent of what it is today. We as citizens could enjoy that other 80 per cent to do with as what we wanted, as free citizens should be able to do. Mr. Peterson's record shows that he doesn't care much about freedom but would rather have the citizen serving an all powerful government. His call for a national "socialistic" health care program is another way that a citizen loses freedom and becomes more of a slave to government.

We all know that the "Union of Soviet SOCIALISTIC Republics" (USSR) is a failure, but Mr. Peterson voted "Most Favored Nation Trading Status," (House Joint Resolution 346) for the USSR, and continues to vote for socialism in this country.

If you feel free now, by 2015 you will not feel that way, for if the present rate of government spending continues, government will spend the entire GPN of this nation—that's every dollar that the citizens produce. If this happens, then we will be truly slaves to the all-powerful government that Mr. Peterson and his colleagues, both Republican and Democrat, continue to vote for.

Another thing that bothers me greatly is the fact that all politicians, including Mr. Peterson, continually use the word "Democracy" when they talk about our form of government. I have a challenge for Mr. Peterson: If he can find the word "Democracy" in the "Declaration of Independence," "Bill of Rights" or the "Constitution," than I will vote for and promote his next election; but if he doesn't find it, then he will not seek re-election.

We are guaranteed a Republican form of government by the U.S. constitution, one which limits government. We still have that power and it lays in the ballot box. Only we can change the path from socialism that Mr. Peterson is trying to lead us down. I only hope for freedom's sake that you use it.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

This is intended to be an open letter to parents, coaches and sports fans:

As the winter sports season begins to wind down to playoffs and tournaments, it seems a good time to take a perspective view of high school athletic programs in general. We have been exposed to so many college and professional sporting events on television that we tend to forget that high school athletes are still learning and as such are subject to making judgmental errors.

I participated in sports in high school, have raised a family and also have served my time in the public school systems of Minnesota. Along the way I have had the opportunity to observe more than a few winners and losers and feel justified to make some comments.

Participation in sports should be an enjoyable experience. Granted, winning is more fun than losing, but unfortunately not every team can always be a winner. As parents we should not judge our teams only by the number of wins and losses. If we do, we are guilty of removing some of the benefit of participation.

Parents should not try to re-live their successes or avoid their former disappointments through their children. They should not apply undue pressure to participate or excel.

A coach is an adult example and can be one of the most influential adults in many young people's lives. With such a position goes responsibility. You need to keep the proper perspective in using winning as the only measure of success.

My observation through the years has been that the most successful team are coached by leaders who have the respect of the team members. Respect is garned and is most productive when it is earned by providing positive reinforcement.

Inexperience leads to mistakes. The purpose of the coach is to explain what is wrong and how it could have been done. The manner of presentation should encourage someone to want to do it right. Negative comments such as calling someone lazy, chicken or stupid only reflect on the person making the comments. Remember, they are the product of your own efforts in coaching.

Fans should refrain from expecting perfection at this level of participation. Instead, be proud of the efforts made by the team members and watch for the improvement they make from week to week. Remember, many of the decisions they must make have to be done in a split second, without the perspective you have from the stands. They do not have the experience to have faced all situations that arise and respond with reflex action.

Let's all relax and enjoy the event we are watching with enthusiasm and support. We will enjoy it more and let the athletes return to having fun and being a better person for having participated.

Sincerely,
Alan Dalen

Deer Hunters sell hides for habitat help

Seven chapters of the Minnesota Deer Hunters association in northwestern Minnesota sold 2,780 deer hides for $12,025.14 Saturday in support of the "Hides for Habitat" program.

A fur buyer from Willmar was top among seven bidders in the statewide sale of some 37,000 deer hides offered through the state association. The successful bid was $6.03 for No. 1 hides and $1 for No. 2 hides. No. 2 hides were graded as small or damaged from drag marks, large holes or spoilage.

Thief River Falls chapter had the largest number of hides with 890 grading No. 1 and 442 grading No. 2, resulting in a payment of $5,808.70.

Other chapters participating, with number of No. 1, No. 2 and total hides listed respectively, include the following: Lake of the Woods (Baudette), 145, 71 and 216, Crookston, 100, 43 and 143; Warroad, 67, 21 and 88, East Grand Forks, 174, 85 and 259; Karlstad, 172, 146 and 318, and Roseau, 290, 134 and 424.

With two representatives of the hide buyer doing the grading and sorting, the transfer of hides from storage at Altra Power Battery company warehouse to trucks for transport began at 7:30 a.m. and was completed about 11:30 a.m.

On hand for the project were about 12 Thief River Falls chapter members; John Kvasnicka, executive director of the Minnesota Deer Hunters association; and three prisoners on a work release program from the Pennington county law enforcement center.

Thief River Falls chapter offered a number of appreciation prizes to donors of hides to the program this year. A Winchester Model 1300 Slugmaster shotgun was won by Mark Koop of Route 5, Thief River Falls, and 37 other winners won boxes of Federal rifle cartridges.

Throughout the state the 62 local chapters of the state association collected some 37,000 hides in the "Hides for Habitat" program.

Thief River Falls chapter will use its share of the hide sale proceeds for a number of area projects, including food plots along the Snake river east of Warren and trail improvement in the Elm Lake and Eckvoll Wildlife Management Areas.

2,780 deer hides collected by seven chapters of the Minnesota Deer Hunters association in northwestern Minnesota were shipped out of Thief River Falls Saturday morning. Sold to a fur buyer from Willmar under a state-wide bid process, the hides brought a total of $12,025.14. Chapters from Thief River Falls, Lake of the Woods (Baudette), Crookston, Warroad, East Grand Forks, Karlstad and Roseau will use the funds in habitat improvement and other projects to benefit deer and deer hunters in this part of the state.

Community growth fund looks at local sales tax

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Economic development is the goal of a community growth fund that may be funded through a local sales tax in Thief River Falls.

A task force created by the Thief River Falls city council to study community growth and a proposed sales tax met last week in Thief River Falls. Members of the group include individuals who had indicated that they were interested in participating in the task force during a meeting in October of 1990. The group held its first meeting last Thursday morning and will meet again this week.

The city began looking at the sales tax for a number of reasons. First, government aid has been reduced to the point where the city is only able to maintain its infrastructure and has nothing left for other projects. Secondly, there are a growing number of special project requests, including: a swimming pool, convention center, purchase and renovation of the Soo Line Depot, river cleanup, Riverwalk bridge, athletic complex at the arena, economic development, improving handicapped accessibility of public facilities, tourist park expansion and many others. These projects have been proposed by many different groups of people in the community, giving rise to the belief that a sales tax might be an acceptable way of raising money to fund the projects. The total cost of these projects has been estimated at $15 million.

Bouyed by successful experiences with the sales tax in the five Minnesota cities that have the tax and several North Dakota cities like Grafton and Grand Forks, the group plans to present proposed legislative language to the city council. Special legislation will have to be adopted by the state legislature if Thief River Falls is to have a sales tax.

The legislative language currently being considered allows residents of the community to call for a referendum by petition. According to similar language drafted by the city of Mankato, which adopted a sales tax in 1991, the taxes are subject to a referendum on petition by ten per cent or more of those voting in the last general election. During the last general election 2,972 people voted in Thief River Falls. Therefore, a petition signed by 297 registered voters could call for a referendum.

Another aspect of the language of the legislation calls for a limit on how much sales tax could be charged on higher ticket items. Language being considered for Thief River Falls would put that upper limit at $25.

Property owners in Thief River Falls already bear a heavy burden. One of the distinct advantages to a sales tax is that the burden of paying for special projects is spread over a wider area. People who may not own property or who live outside the community will be helping to pay for services that they already take advantage of but aren't paying for.

A sales tax could also create jobs and save taxpayers money. One example used by the committee is the swimming pool. If the city were to bond for an $800,000 swimming pool the term would probably be 15 years at a current interest rate of 6.5 per cent. Over the life of the bond total costs on interest would be $475,000, bringing the real cost of the project up to $1,275,000. With a sales tax of one half of one per cent or one per cent, the entire project could be paid for in two to four years.

If instead, three projects were undertaken at the same time, these projects would undoubtedly create jobs and eventually bring more people to the community.

Members of the committee who met with the Times Thursday afternoon, don't believe a local sales tax would have a negative impact on sales. According to Jane Mattson, president of the Chamber of Commerce in Thief River Falls, they pay a six per cent sales tax on clothing in Grand Forks. The sales tax hasn't chased customers away from Grand Forks and it won't chase them away from here.

Selection is what drives a person to a community to shop, said Roger Shaffer, member of the committee.

Jerry Wigness, city clerk, who was asked to study the issue by the council and participate on the committee, pointed out that a sales tax is relatively popular among taxpayers because of its low visibility. It seems, he said, that not many people give it a second thought once it is started. It is collected in such small increments over a large number of transactions that it is hardly noticed. Wigness also noted that these are tax dollars that stay in the community.

Part of the reason the interview was granted to The Times was to get the information out to the public and get input from them. The committee will have to act relatively quickly if legislative language is to be prepared for the 1992 legisla-

Several of the people meeting in Thief River Falls last Wednesday, February 12, to consider formation of a Civil Air Patrol squadron here are pictured above. Hegrenes, Group I Commander from Minnesota Group I headquarters in Duluth.

Interest high to form CAP squadron here

Approximately 100 attend informational meeting Wednesday at airport

Unexpectedly high interest in the formation of a Civil Air Patrol squadron in Thief River Falls was shown Wednesday evening, February 12, when approximately 100 people attended an informational meeting. The session was held at the Thief River Falls Technical college aviation facility at the regional airport.

About 75 people indicated they would like to proceed further in developing a CAP squadron here, according to David Odette, who is serving as the local contact person.

"It was a much larger turnout than we had expected," Odette said, "and we are still somewhat overwhelmed by the number of people who attended and expressed interest. We are also aware of interest by others who made contact in advance and said they would be unable to attend the Wednesday meeting."

Odette said another meeting will be held in two to three weeks to start the formal process of squadron formation. Date, time and location will be announced when final arrangements have been completed. Anyone interested in further information is invited to contact him at home (681-7729) or at work (681-6674).

Attending Wednesday's meeting from the Minnesota Wing Operations office in Minneapolis were Lt. Col Bruce Sexton, Minnesota Wing Director of Emergency Services; Lt. Col. Melanie Mornard, Director of Cadet Programs; Major Jon Hole, Wing Operations-Pilot; and Cadet Captain Kevin Campbell, Cadet Advisory Council-Recorder.

Col. Dennis Rock, Minnesota Wing Commander who had been scheduled to attend, had to return to Minneapolis when the airplane in which he was traveling to Thief River Falls developed an in-flight mechanical problem.

Attending from Minnesota Group I headquarters in Duluth were Major Lynn J. Hegrenes, Group I Commander and Major Bruce Hegrenes, Duluth Composite Squadron.

Those on hand from Bemidji Composite Squadron were Lt. Col. Bob Dunbar, Director of Communications; and Capt. John Walker, Bemidji Composite Squadron Commander.

Cristina Soto of Costa Rica ends stay here

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

For Cristina Soto, describing snow to her family which has never experienced it, was not too difficult. "I told them it was very cold and you can play in it," she said.

The 16-year-old from Costa Rica has been a guest since the end of August with the Joe and Barb Natvik family of rural Thief River Falls. She has attended Lincoln high school here with the sophomore class, although she will complete her high school education this year following her return to Costa Rica soon.

Cris, as she is known to the many friends she has made here, will be leaving Friday enroute to her home via Washington, DC. She is a student under the CAPS program which is operated through the 4-H club program in Costa Rica.

The 4-H program is conducted through the schools in Costa Rica and for two years Cris has been part of a project which works with young boys and girls in her community. Her American "sister," Beth Natvik, described it as being similar to the 4-H Ambassadors program in the United States.

Cris was eligible for the group of 80 Costa Rican students—40 boys and 40 girls—traveling to the United States due to her high scholastic standing. Only the top students are considered for the program. For a short time after coming here she had difficulty with the English language in her classes, but she now feels quite comfortable in her studies.

She plans to enter the university in the capital city of Costa Rica next year, knowing she will have a scholarship but not knowing how large. Cris is a strong volleyball player in her community and expects to play at the university. It may help in the amount of scholarship money she receives.

"You need good grades," she said. "Some scholarships not only pay for your school and your food but give you extra money for yourself. Those are the best, but there are very few of them." Cris plans to study chemistry with a view

Swenson gift helps to fund endowment for TRF library

Thief River Falls public library has initiated an endowment fund as well as acquired a variety of books in different subject areas as a result of a donation of Arctco stock from Lowell and Marge Swenson of Thief River Falls.

Sale of the stock by the library resulted in more than $10,000 in cash, part of which was used for immediate book purchase and service needs and part of which was used to establish the endowment fund.

"Interest from the fund will be used to assist the library in acquisition of materials for years to come," stated Janice Upham, who chairs the public library board. "This gift was given to the library late in the 90th anniversary year in 1991 and allowed the board to create a fund which had frequently been discussed but always lacked money to establish."

Money placed in the endowment will be invested through the Northwest Regional Library Foundation, established to handle endowment funds for all branch libraries in Pennington, Red Lake, Roseau, Kittson and Marshall counties. Thief River Falls and Roseau public libraries are the first to make use of this foundation.

While the funds will be pooled for investment purposes, interest earned will accrue to the individual libraries and therefore be available for use by those local libraries. Anyone interested in contributing to the foundation may contact the Northwest Regional Library headquarters office at 101 East First Street in Thief River Falls.

"The foundation was one of the Northwest Regional Library's long

Aviation grads return to hire TRFTC students

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

For Randy Myers and Paul Votava it was a homecoming of sorts, a chance to look for familiarity among a multitude of changes and renew some acquaintances among many new faces.

Myers and Votava, both graduates of the aviation maintenance program of the Thief River Falls Technical college, were at the college's aviation facility at the Thief River Falls regional airport last week to interview candidates for employment with their company, Basler Aviation Enterprises of Oshkosh, WI.

Votava is originally from McIntosh and Myers is from Pequot Lakes. Both were graduates in the Class of 1983. Myers went to work for Basler Flight Service, Inc. immediately after graduation and is now production manager for the Basler Aviation Enterprises division.

Votava went on to flight training at Crookston and spent a couple of years as a crop sprayer before joining Basler Airlines, a freight company, where he is now chief pilot.

Myers and Votava were joined on the recruiting trip to Thief River Falls by Kathy Hughes, personnel manager for the company.

Hughes, Votava and Myers conducted approximately 40 interviews with graduates of the local aviation program as part of its effort to hire an additional 25 workers for its Oshkosh plant. Decision on which applicants will receive job offers is expected to be made this week.

Myers said that in addition to himself and Votava there are six or seven other graduates of the TRFTC who are employed at Basler. The company now has a total staff of about 105 people in all areas of its operation.

Basler Aviation Enterprises rebuilds the dependable DC-3 aircraft, either on contract for planes owned by others or as its own planes for resale. "They're like new planes when they come out of the shop," Votava said.

The project involves adding 40 inches to the length of the fuselage, replacing the propeller engines with Pratt & Whitney PT6-67 turbine engines, reinforcing the wings and fuselage, installing state of the art avionics and electrical system and fitting them for either passenger transport or cargo and freight.

More than 10,000 DC-3 planes were built and about 2,000 remain in the national registry as in operation in the United States. Basler has completed 15 such conversions and has orders for 15 more which will carry the company through the end of 1993.

Utilizing its 100x150 double-decked shop, the company is expanding its work force to [illegible] a year. Customers have included the U.S. Forest Service, U.S. military and customers in Africa and South America as well as other pri-

Interest high in CAP squadron for T.R. Falls

Among local people in attendance were State Sen. LeRoy Stumpf; Pennington County Sheriff Bob Wold; Thief River Falls City Alderman Jean Heinrichs, member of the airport committee; Bob Bergan, executive director of the Thief River Falls chamber of commerce; and Duane Holland, Deputy Chief of the Thief River Falls police department.

Sen. Stumpf opened the meeting with introductions, then turned the floor over to Major Lynn Hegrenes who made a slide presentation on the history of the CAP and its operation as a group of volunteers. Organized just prior to World War II, CAP had as its first mission to patrol coastal waters of the United States in search of enemy submarines.

Following World War II the current mission of CAP evolved. As a civilian auxiliary of the air force, it is a support organization that can be called upon to provide immediate emergency search and rescue or disaster relief on a local, state or national basis. Senior and Cadet (ages 13 to 18) members are involved in the ongoing educational training processes to maintain their unit in a state of immediate response. Members are volunteers and therefore not paid for the time they spend in providing these valuable services.

Following the slide presentation, each of the CAP personnel in attendance spent a few minutes describing his or her area of expertise—communications, Cadet program, emergency services, search and rescue, operations, etc. The floor was then opened for about half an hour of questions and answers, followed by formation of smaller groups with specific areas of interest.

"The DC-3 was one of the best designed and best built planes ever made," Myers said. "Its record for dependability is phenomenal. But as the planes age the ability to get parts becomes more difficult. Going to turbine engines increases air speed, cargo capacity and fuel efficiency."

Both Votova and Myers were making their first return visit to the aviation mechanics department here since their graduation and were impressed with the new facilities and the program being offered.

"We appreciate having these representatives from Basler Aviation come to Thief River Falls to interview our graduates," stated Dr. Orley Gunderson, president of the technical college. "We hope they will find the people who meet their needs.

Cris has two brothers and a sister, all younger than she is. Her mother is a housewife and her father is a maintenance supervisor at a gold mine, in charge of caring for the heavy equipment used in the mining operation. There are a number of active gold mines in Costa Rica.

Prior to Cris' arrival, the Natvik family had been host to two other exchange students, both under the 4-H program and both from Japan. These were for only a few days' stay, however, and Cris has become more like a member of the family.

Despite her first exposure to snow and cold weather, she has had an opportunity to try most of the activities connected with a Minnesota winter. She did some sliding on a sled, used skis and skates, tried curling and snowmobiling and even built a snowman.

She said she wants to thank her American family, her teachers at Lincoln and the other students she has come to know. She said she had no trouble with the food of this area and praised Joe Natvik's cooking. Joe is at home during the day while Barb works at Northern Motors.

Sometime, perhaps when she completes her university studies, she plans to come back to the United States. "I will come back again," she said.

And Beth Natvik would love to visit her Costa Rican sister's country as well. She would like to experience living in a country where the residents don't know what snow is like.

Yes, chicken is good food, but how to cook it? Try this recipe when you want something spicy, and you can microwave it for a fast meal, too:

Plum-Barbecued Chicken

3 pound broiler-fryer chicken, cut and skinned
1 can (16 ounces) purple plums in juice, drained and pitted
1/4 cup chopped onion (about 1 small onion)

range plans to enable individual member libraries to earn additional funds for acquisition of materials," Mrs. Upham added. "The Thief River Falls library board also made raising endowment monies and placing them in the foundation one of its goals to aid in carrying out the long-range goals of the library.

"These goals include increasing the number of library materials and services, remodeling the building to accommodate additional services and materials, and reaching out to become an even more vital and contributing member of the community."

Mrs. Upham said that Lowell and Marge Swenson have long had a personal interest in the local library and recognized the immediate as well as the long-term needs.

"This generous donation near the end of our 90th anniversary year provided an excellent climax for the anniversary celebration and a vital beginning for what we hope will grow to be a very beneficial source of needed funds in the future," Mrs. Upham added.

Dear Readers,
Hallucinations are not uncommon following the death of a loved one. The widow who comes home and opens the door to the aroma of her husband's pipe, even though he has been gone for more than a year - the husband who reaches for his wife in the night because he feels her presence next to him - the mother who hears her son in the kitchen fixing a snack, as he often did in life. Such experiences often occur after a death.
Respectfully,
Belmont Funeral Home
Larry Belmont

VA encourages refinancing of VA home loans

With VA home loan interest rates at their lowest in 14 years, the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) is encouraging veterans to refinance existing, higher rate VA-guaranteed home loans.

The current interest rate on the VA-guaranteed home loan is eight per cent. VA encourages veterans to refinance loans with interest rates that are two per cent or more higher than the current rate. For lesser differences in rates, refinance costs eat up much of the savings.

Nationwide, more than one million VA-guaranteed loans currently carry interest rates of 10 per cent or higher, with a total dollar amount of more than $65 billion. The potential individual and collective savings to veterans are substantial. An $80,000 30-year loan at 10 per cent, for example, has a monthly payment of $702.06; that would drop to $587.02 a month if the loan were refinanced at eight per cent.

Veterans considering refinancing should contact a private lending agency. If there are questions concerning eligibility for a VA-guarantee of the refinanced loan, the veteran should contact the nearest VA regional office. Toll-free numbers are available in all states.

Croatian student to visit Franklin

Vladimir Bosnjak, 18, of Osijek, Croatia, will speak to Walter Redinger's classes at Franklin middle school Wednesday, February 19. Bosnjak is finishing his high school education at the Global Studies Institute in Red Lake Falls.

A war following Croatia's declaration of independence from Yugoslavia in 1991 left much of Osijek in near rubble.

"We were living in the basement of our home," Bosnjak said. "You don't know what it's like, to hear missiles exploding over your house. It was too dangerous to stay. There was no school for my brother and I. A Slovanian family took in my mother and brother. I came to the United States, but my father stayed in Osijek."

Bosnjak will talk to students at Franklin about life behind the "Iron Curtain," the freedom that followed the fall of communism and the current state of Croatian independence.

PRESIDENTS' DAY SALE ON THIS WEEK!

by Sharon LaCoursiere

Speaking Of . . .

. . . Is Yours a BAD Business or a GOOD Business?

Most businesses depend on customers, clients, other people, no matter what you call them. And who is the person those customers, clients, people first deal with when they contact the office—a receptionist or secretary. Receptionists and secretaries are the ones who answer the phones and greet the people as they come in the door of the business. That makes the receptionist or secretary pretty important to a business, if you ask me!

Some smart businessmen and women keep an eye on things, and you can tell that they know that the person doing the phone answering and greeting can make their business flourish or flounder. The telephones in the smart businessman or woman's office are manned by informed, pleasant people who know how to answer your questions, when to have you hold to talk to someone else (but don't let you hold too long without checking to see if you fell asleep), and when and where to schedule an appointment for you. These smart businessmen and women have smiling people at the reception desk to greet you and make you feel welcome and comfortable when you walk into the office. These are GOOD businesses to deal with.

Then there are the other businesses—the ones you hate to call or go into. These are the BAD businesses. They are the ones where the boss must have cotton in his ears and blinders on his eyes, because he or she doesn't seem to hear or see what is going on at that front desk. All too often, this is the type most of us are forced to deal with day after day.

When you call these BAD businesses, you inevitably get someone who must be having a BAD day. This person barks into the telephone as if you were their dog and you had done something that caused them not to like you very much. When you can recover your wits enough after the crabby commencement to finally stammer out why you are calling and ask whatever question you needed answered, you are immediately placed on hold, no warning whatsoever.

When this happens, you don't really mind. Anything, even dead air, is better than speaking to that crabby voice. Finally, after several minutes, another voice comes on the line. Evidently this person is having a very BAD day, because he or she sounds as crabby, if not more crabby, as the first. Now you must repeat everything to the second crabby voice that you told to the first crabby voice, hoping this one can answer your question so you can get the heck off of the line and get back to work.

No such luck! This crabby person doesn't know any more about anything than the other crabby person did, and you are once again placed on hold. This is the time you either choose to pack it in and hang it up, or else get mad enough to hang on to the bitter end. This is the time your blood pressure may creep upward, too, so keep an eye on it.

If you are lucky, someone with some brains will finally come on the line to answer your question. If you are not lucky, you may be passed from crabby person to crabby person, endlessly, until you can no longer tell one from the other. By the time you either get helped or hang up, I guarantee you that you will be having a BAD day!

When you walk into one of these BAD businesses, you can tell right away. No one notices you! Of course, if you have had contact with this particular BAD business before, you might like it just as well that you can creep in, unnoticed, and sit there in the corner, but beware of doing this. You might find yourself sitting there in that corner the rest of the day until the office closes and never get to where you were supposed to be going or see whoever it was you were supposed to be seeing!

At these BAD businesses, if you should be fortunate enough to get a glance from whomever is manning the reception desk, you might wish you hadn't. Receptionists at BAD businesses do not have a smile for you. They look at you like you interrupted them at something very important and had no right to do that. (Can't you tell that they are very busy and important and do not have time to deal with the likes of you?)

These BAD receptionists scowl and snap at you and tell you to sit, again, just as if you were a wayward puppy. You usually do just as they say and sit, too, don't you?

What's more, these BAD receptionists never seem to tell anybody you are waiting. They are very busy doing busy things at their desk and can't be interrupted for anything so trivial as announcing a customer, client, or other person. You never see that they buzz the boss on an intercom, get up to tell him you're there, or even give out a yell in his general direction, announcing you.

After what seems like several hours, if you are lucky, the receptionist might amble off somewhere, and you find yourself hoping, hoping, hoping that she is going to tell the boss you are out there waiting, and not just getting up to make a trip to the powder room.

You know, with the state of the economy and the recession and unemployment and all, I can't understand why any businessman or woman with any brains in his or her head would keep a receptionist or secretary who made their business into a BAD one.

I'm not advocating "fire," but just "re-hire." Move the crabby people into the other room where they can crab at each other and get it out of their systems, and go out and hire someone smiling and sweet to sit out front and do the greeting for the business.

Surely, with all of those pleasant people out there looking for jobs, it wouldn't cost much to hire someone nice to be the first person to speak with your customers, clients, people. Not only would it be good for the economy, but it just might do wonders for your business, too, don't you think?

YOUR TIMES

by Sam Dodge
I-R Party Chairman
8th Congressional District
Foreston, MN

Like a church mouse I have sat silent while Governor Carlson has trampled many of the ideals and issues Republicans like myself have fought so hard for. Like the proverbial phrase "the straw that broke the camel's back", Governor Carlson has gone too far with his support of a presidential primary and publicly announcing he would sign a bill allowing abortions on demand.

Although the Governor had trouble vetoing the Democratic redistricting bill last year, he had no trouble vetoing postponement of the Presidential Primary bill that passed the Minnesota Legislature by better than a two-thirds majority.

Our government was designed with checks and balances and our legislators are definitely a part of that system. The governor does have the power to veto, but when he abuses that power against an overwhelming majority of the Legislature and voting public, it becomes the Legislature's duty to exercise the reality of checks and balances put in place by our founding fathers.

I feel the recent veto by Governor Carlson is arrogant, self-serving, and shows little respect for the Legislature and Minnesota voters. Many legislators were responding to local government officials asking for a postponement of the presidential primary because of their tight budgets. By his veto, Carlson insists Minnesota taxpayers pay for what will turn out to be a meaningless primary having no effect on the outcome of presidential candidates of either political party.

For all intent and purpose this issue should be dead, but I hope not. It is my hope that Minnesota voters will put the pressure on their legislator to override this veto when they convene again on February 18. Abuse of power is the issue.

The presidential primary is the first step in knocking out the caucus system and making the state of Minnesota to full primary state. If this happens, no longer will the candidates have to meet with the grassroots supporters and address their concerns and interests. Campaigns will be reduced to 30 second sound bites and to those who can raise and spend the most money.

People like myself could not rise through the party ranks because of our work and effort, but would have to raise and spend thousands of dollars in campaign efforts. Is this what we want for Minnesota? I think voters are tired of politicians who spend millions of dollars for a job that pays only a few thousand.

Many people sing the praises and benefits of "town meetings." Well, on March 3 this year we will have over 4,000 town meetings we call caucuses. Voters with many viewpoints will meet and hammer out issues that will become "planks" in their political party's platform.

Candidates will have to organize on a grassroots level if they are to be successful at gaining the endorsement of their party. Issues then play an important role at this stage of the political process —moreso than money. And Minnesota wants to throw this away? I hope not.

Governor Carlson seems determined to alienate Republicans one at a time by his disregard for their ideals and principles until he is left with only a handful to sing his praises. As for me, I am through singing.

Not that long ago, as a pro-life conservative leader, I stood up for the governor all across this state. I stood up when all his liberal "friends" lost their voices and hid in the closet. Well, no more governor.

Carlson's opposition to the death penalty and my right to bear arms, along with his support of the homosexual lifestyle, and the killing of defenseless human beings in the womb are only four of the "straws" he has laid on me. But when he wants to silence my voice and vote through the caucus system, this is the straw that "breaks the camel's back."

I will no longer sit quietly while the governor tramples plank after plank of our Party's Platform that I and other activists spent much time building.

It is my sincere hope that voters will turn out in record numbers to the caucus on March 3 and let their voices be heard loud and clear. Even though the turnout may be low, I have found they are attended by people who have a high concern for the direction our government should take.

A government closest to the people is the best form of government. I urge voters to USE IT BEFORE YOU LOSE IT !!

As IR chairman of the Eighth Congressional District I do not speak for all the Republicans in my district but feel I do speak for those who elected me. And that is more than I can say for the Governor.

These photographs were printed from the Pennington County Historical society's collection of glass negatives which were originally taken by J. Borry, an early photographer in Thief River Falls. The picture above shows a family relaxing in their porch, reading magazines, such as the "Sunday Magazine" held by the boy who is seated. The young women in the wicker chair is doing embroidery. In the picture to the right shows four men after a hunting trip, showing off their catch of birds hung on a string. Their hunting dogs are resting in front of them. Exhibits at Pioneer Village include the types of clothing, magazines, stitchery, guns and stuffed birds, as are seen in these pictures, which were taken in the early 1900's. The Historical society is presently engaged in planning summer activities for the Pioneer Village.

Alfalfa seed production is subject of meeting

Alfalfa seed production and forage management principles will be highlighted at a seminar in the Gotzke senior center Thursday, February 20, at 1 p.m.

"The past couple of years many alfalfa producers have been asking questions as to what's involved in producing alfalfa seed," states Howard Person, Pennington county agricultural agent. "They want to know if it's feasible, about pollination and when and how to harvest."

Otto Lee, Lake of the Woods county extension agent, will answer these and other questions as he reviews successful practices producers use in the seed producing area of northwest Minnesota.

"If you're looking at an alternative use of alfalfa, plan to attend this program sponsored by the Northern Lites Cluster of the Minnesota extension service," Person said.

He also noted that he can be contacted at 681-2116 for further information.

Pierre Bottineau was the guest speaker at the Northwest Ducks Unlimited Greenwings banquet held Sunday at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls. Bottineau, also known as Tom Gibson of Bottineau, recounts the life of the voyageur in the 1800s. He talks about the animals, man and the environment, pointing out that nature is in balance and we must respect the homes of the "wild ones" to keep it that way. Gibson developed his presentation while working as a naturalist at Lake Metigoshe State Park in the summer of 1983. He wanted to teach people about the environment in an entertaining way — a way they won't forget what they have learned. Over 100 youngsters attended the banquet.

Agassiz Audubon Society offers program on bats

Ask people which mammal they like the least and the response might often be "bats." Yet of all mammals, the bat is truly remarkable in its ability to fly and navigate.

Perhaps myths and superstitions have replaced common sense respect of this creature. If you would like to enjoy finding out the real, fascinating facts about bats, then attend the program, "Mystery of the Bat," sponsored by the Agassiz Audubon Society at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 25. The meeting will be held in the basement of the city auditorium, located on the corner of Main Avenue and Second Street in Thief River Falls.

A short presentation about bats will be followed by a game and activity for elementary-age children. Those interested may then build a bat house.

The program is free and open to the public. Anyone wishing to build a bat house during the program should send their name, address and $2 per house to the Agassiz Audubon Society, Route 1, Box 45A, Warren, MN 56762.

Appeals court gives new life to milk lawsuit

The United States Court of Appeals has given new life to the Minnesota Milk Producers Association's (MMPA) lawsuit challenging provisions of all USDA milk marketing orders east of the Rocky Mountains. The United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit issued a ruling on February 11, 1992, reversing a lower court decision that had dismissed the MMPA lawsuit.

The lower court has ruled that dairy producers have no legal right to challenge the Secretary's milk marketing orders and, in this particular case, did not claim sufficient personal harm or ask for an appropriate remedy to justify judicial intervention on behalf of the dairy producers. The appeals court reversed on both grounds.

"This is a wonderful day for Upper Midwest dairy producers," said Bill Dropik, president of MMPA and a Douglas County dairy farmer. "Minnesota milk producers have been steadfast since we filed this lawsuit in January 1990 in our belief that the federal milk marketing orders are unfair to Upper Midwest dairy farmers and that filing a lawsuit in federal court was our last resort. Congress has refused to correct the situation, the Secretary of Agriculture has refused to correct the situation, so the directors of MMPA decided that it was our responsibility to ask a federal court to correct the situation. We are delighted with the appeals court decision that allows us to push ahead with our lawsuit."

The MMPA lawsuit challenges two key provisions of all of the 30-plus federal milk marketing orders east of the Rocky Mountains. First, the lawsuit challenges the Class 1 price differentials in those orders. Class 1 differentials, historically based upon the cost of transporting milk from Eau Claire, Wisconsin, to other marketing areas of the country, sets a price producers receive for their milk in some areas of the country up to $4 more per hundredweight than the price received by Upper Midwest farmers. The lawsuit claims that this differential is not justified by federal law and that it unfairly distorts profitability and marketing throughout the country.

Under the challenged orders, Minnesota alone has lost more than 100,000 dairy cows from production since 1986 and thousands of dairy farmers. The lawsuit asks that the federal court declare the Class 1 differentials unlawful under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937.

The lawsuit also challenges pricing provisions in these orders that create economic trade barriers to the marketing of reconstituted Minnesota milk in other marketing areas of the country. These provisions require adjustments in the price paid by milk processors in other markets for milk that is transported from the Upper Midwest and reconstituted. The result is that the Upper Midwest milk is over-priced and, thus, cannot be competitive with the local milk. The MMPA lawsuit asks that these provisions also be declared unlawful and that the Secretary of Agriculture be enjoined from continuing to enforce them.

The Secretary of Agriculture convened national hearings on the milk marketing orders shortly after the lawsuit was filed. The USDA has argued that the initiation of these hearing proceedings render the lawsuit moot—that is, that there is no longer any issue for the court to consider. The court of appeals rejected this argument, ruling that as long as the current USDA orders are in place, the Minnesota producers may proceed with their litigation.

"Our plan, as it has been all along, is to continue with this litigation unless and until the Secretary changes his orders and eliminates this unfairness to Upper Midwest dairy farmers," Dropik said. "If the orders stand or are not changed, we will certainly continue to ask for rulings in the federal court and an injunction."

Prowlers win with final rally

Both sides put together come from behind efforts, but Thief River Falls' fourth quarter rally spelled the difference Saturday as the Prowlers defeated Marshall County Central 55-48 in a girls high school basketball game played before a large Lincoln High School gym crowd.

Trailing 11-6 at the end of the first quarter, the Prowlers came back to lead by as many as nine points in the second quarter, fell behind by seven in the third quarter, but out-scored the Nordics 17-7 in the fourth quarter to win by seven.

"It was a great ball game," said Thief River Falls coach Sally Wiltse. "Marshall County Central came ready to play. They played well. We really had to work for it."

Thief River Falls, a 55-51 winner at Fergus Falls the night before, improved to 12-7 for the year. Marshall County Central, after beating Kittson County North 54-42 and Tri-County 53-42 earlier in the week, fell to 10-9.

"I thought we played pretty well, overall, tonight," offered Marshall County Central coach Tom Mjelde. "We've played our best basketball of the season the last three games, and that's what you want to do this time of the year."

The early Marshall County Central lead disappeared when the Nordics turned the ball over eight times in the second quarter after the Prowlers went to a full court press defense. A 6-0 Thief River Falls run started the quarter and a 7-0 surge shattered an 18-18 tie. A steal and a fast break lay-up by Jodi Kruta provided the Prowlers with their biggest lead of the night, 29-21, with 1:41 remaining in the first half.

"We panicked against the press," acknowledged Mjelde. "We've done that before. If we take our time and get the ball to the right people we can handle it, but when they get rattled they think they have to get the ball across time line in three seconds instead of ten."

However, Marshall County Central pulled within 29-26 before the half ended when Kim Davidson hit from three-point range and Sandi Gustafson put up a jumper in the middle.

And when Davidson followed a pair of Thief River Falls second half-opening turnovers with back-to-back three-pointers, the Nordics had themselves a 32-29 lead.

"Kim is a good three-point shooter," said Mjelde. "We want her to take those shots. If she can hit a couple from the outside like that, it really opens up our inside game for us."

Gustafson's short jumper in the middle with 1:02 left in the third quarter provided the Nordics with their biggest lead of the night, 41-34.

But the see-saw affair continued when Leslie Ammerman hit from the side and Kruta spoiled the Nordics' final-shot clock-eating plans with a steal and a lay-up with nine seconds left to pull the Prowlers within 41-38 as the quarter ended.

Those two baskets also kicked off a 10-2 Thief River Falls run that put the Prowlers up 44-43 on a rebound bucket by Ammerman with 5:07 to play.

Tara Underdahl made two free throws with 4:45 showing for a 45-44 Marshall County Central lead, but a set shot from the side by Ammerman, followed by a 12-foot jumper by Toni Chiodo, gave the Prowlers a lead they would never surrender.

Big basket down the stretch was a three-pointer by Kruta with 3:04 left that turned a one-point game into a 51-47 contest.

A free throw by Jill Fosholm kept the Nordics in range, 52-48, with 31 seconds showing, but the Prowlers' Lisa Ulrich got that one back on a quick Marshall County Central foul, and Ammerman put the final points on the board with a lay-up that broke the Nordics' press with 13 seconds to go.

Both sides had three double figure scorers. For the Prowlers, Kruta, a 5-6 senior guard, had 22 points; Ammerman, a 5-7 junior forward, had 12; and Amy Adams, a 5-10 junior center, netted 11. For the Nordics, Gustafson, a 5-9 junior center, had an impressive night in scoring 15 points; Davidson, a 5-7 senior guard, wound up with 13 thanks to the trio of three-pointers, and 5-7 sophomore forward Sara Lokstad scored 10 – well under her 19.6 season average.

"Gustafson had a great game," said Wiltse. Mjelde agreed. "That was her best game of the year," he added.

Mjelde was equally impressed with the play of Kruta. "I knew we couldn't stop her, but we wanted to slow her down," he said. "We did a pretty good job on her in the first half, but she really took over in the second half. It was just like she put it in another gear."

Thief River Falls was 23-for-58 from the field (39.6 percent). Marshall County Central went 19-for-46 from the field (41.3 percent), but that included a 2-for-14 fourth quarter. The Prowlers had a 6-for-8 night at the free throw line, where the Nordics were 7-for-13. Marshall County Central out-rebounded Thief River Falls 24-20, but the Prowlers finished with a 10-8 edge on the offensive boards. The Nordics topped the turnover charts 21-12.

"I think the turnovers made a difference," said Wiltse. "We really didn't get that many points off them, but the fact that we were forcing them to turn the ball over made us feel better, and it took them out of their offense. We got burned a few times on the press, but we were tenacious with it, and I think we persevered."

The Prowlers will host East Grand Forks Thursday and will be in Moorhead Saturday. They close out regular season play Thursday, Feb. 27, at home against Detroit Lakes.

Marshall County Central's regular season-ending schedule called for a Monday game at Crookston and a Thursday drive to Warren.

First place on the line at 8 tonight

A scheduled Northland-Pergus Falls match-up in Minnesota Community College Conference men's basketball tonight (Tuesday) offered first place in the Northwest Division standings as a prize for the winner in the 8 p.m. contest.

Actually, Fergus Falls has been a season-long divisional leader. However, a couple of recent road losses dropped the Spartans to 6-2 in the MCCC, and a 110-101 Northland win at Brainerd Saturday afternoon put the 5-3 Pioneers in position to move into a first place tie with a win tonight.

Northland will close out its 1991-92 conference-counting schedule Thursday with an 8 p.m. game at UMC. The Trojans, like the Pioneers, are 5-3 in the Northwest Division, where the top two finishers earn state tournament berths. Brainerd, 3-5, will watch the three-team battle for post-season positions from the Northwest Division basement, but the Raiders can play the role of spoiler with games remaining against UMC and Fergus Falls.

"It should be a very interesting final week," acknowledged Northland coach Chet Engelman.

Northland lost a 101-96 home court decision to rival UMC last Tuesday. They dropped a 101-92 game at Fergus Falls back on Jan. 29.

The Pioneers beat Brainerd for the second time in eight days with a balanced effort that included six double figure scorers – Larone Greer with 25 points, Joe Comstock 22, Travis Brown 16, Kelly Dahl 13, John Clark 12 and William Mitchell 11.

Down 34-24 midway through the first half, Northland came back to take a 56-49 lead at intermission. Brainerd, an 85-84 loser in overtime here the previous Friday, had a chance to cut into a 53-49 Northland lead in the final moments of the first half, but a turnover, followed by a three-point basket at the buzzer by Comstock, produced a big scoreboard swing.

"That was a real back-breaker right there," said Engelman.

Northland lengthened its lead to 83-67 near the middle of the second half, only to see Brainerd score 10 points in a 58-second flurry to make it close down the stretch.

However, the Pioneers never lost the lead. Up 98-89, they drew fouls on eight consecutive possessions and cashed in on six of the free throw opportunities for their final 12 points.

"We haven't been playing real consistent lately, but that's about as consistent as we've been all year," said Engelman after the road win put the Pioneers at 11-8 overall. "We did some things right for a change."

Gary Arrington scored 28 points and Tony Glenz had 26 in a 1-2 Brainerd scoring punch. Curt Baier chipped in with 17.

Northland had a strong 56 percent shooting performance, hitting 38 of 68 attempts, including a 13-for-24 showing from three-point range. Comstock was 6-for-10 and Dahl went 4-for-4 from outside the three-point circle, while Brown was 7-for-7 from the field on the inside.

The Pioneers also made good on their free throw chances, a 21-for-27 effort that featured 14 of those attempts in the final two minutes.

Brainerd shot 41 percent from the field – 36-for-88 – and the Raiders also kept busy at the free throw line with a 20-for-30 outing.

The rebound battled ended in a 47-47 tie. Mitchell grabbed a team-high 15 rebounds, while Brown had 9 and Greer finished with 8, along with 9 assists. Northland topped the turnover charts 22-14.

Northland finishes regular season play at home Saturday with a non-conference 3 p.m. match-up against North Dakota State College of Science – the No. 1-ranked team in the NJCAA Region 13 polls.

Section 8AA meet starts Friday...

Wrestlers beat Lakers, Spuds

Wins at Detroit Lakes Thursday and at Moorhead Saturday enabled Thief River Falls to finish its 1991-92 regular season dual meet high school wrestling schedule with a winning record.

The Prowlers out-scored the Lakers 43-30 and edged the Spuds 34-33 to wind up 12-11 for the year.

Thief River Falls will compete in the 1992 Section 8AA wrestling tournament Friday and Saturday in Fergus Falls, where the Prowlers will be joined by Alexandria, Bemidji, Brainerd, Detroit Lakes, Fergus Falls, Little Falls, Moorhead, Rocori, St. Cloud Apollo, St. Cloud Tech and Sauk Rapids.

Wrestling starts at 11 a.m. Friday. Finals are planned for 7 p.m. Saturday. Top two finishers in each weight class will advance to the individual portion of the 1991 Class AA state tournament March 5-7 at the St. Paul Civic Center.

In additional to the individual places this weekend, there will also be interest in the team scoring since the top four point producers will qualify for the Section 8AA team dual competition Saturday, Feb. 29, at the site of the top scoring team.

"It looks like there are three real good teams in the south," said Thief River Falls head coach John Anderson, looking at St. Cloud Tech, Rocori and Little Falls. Alexandria and Bemidji appear to be the top contenders from the northern portion of Section 8AA, he noted.

"For us to be in the top four," said Anderson, "we would have to wrestle out of our minds."

However, individually the Prowlers have two outstanding entries in seniors Joel Davis and Matt Kaushagen. Davis will take a 29-0 record into the 125-pound competition. Kaushagen, a state meet entry a year ago, will head into the 160-pound matches with a 25-4 mark.

"Joel and Matt are excellent athletes," pointed out Anderson. "They should be seeded one or two."

Three other Prowlers in the 20-win category who are expected to fare well when the seeding positions are determined Wednesday include sophomore Jon Parish at 119 pounds, freshman John Davis at 145 and junior Lee Nieland at 152.

Kaushagen was joined as a state meet qualifier last year by now-graduated Blaine Parish and Joel Premstad. Both are currently wrestling at the collegiate level – Parish at Mankato State University and Premstad at Jamestown College.

Prowlers lose to Otters 6-1

A disappointing regular season finish was completed Friday when Thief River Falls dropped a 6-1 high school hockey decision at Fergus Falls.

The Prowlers went 0-5-2 in their last seven starts to drop from among the Section 8 leaders into the pack who await the results of Wednesday's coaches seeding votes to see where they fit into the upcoming Tier I/Tier II tournament picture.

Top eight seeds will form the Section 8 Tier I tournament, with first round quarterfinal games scheduled to be played Friday at the sites of the top four seeded teams.

Teams seeded 9-through-18 will be involved in the new Section 8 Tier II tournament. First round Tier II games will be played Thursday – No. 18 at No. 15 and No. 17 at No. 16. Tier II quarterfinals will be played Saturday at the sites of the No. 9, 10, 11 and 12 seeds.

Thief River Falls will play host to both sets of semifinals and championship games. The Sports Arena schedule will include the Tier II semifinals Friday, Feb. 28; Tier I semifinals Saturday, Feb. 29; Tier II championship game Thursday, March 5; and the Tier I championship game Friday, March 6.

Both the Tier I and Tier II Section 8 champions advance to state tournament play. Tier I state tournament games will be played March 12-14 at the St. Paul Civic Center. Tier II state tournament will open March 11 at the Civic Center, then move to the Target Center in Minneapolis for the semifinals and finals March 13 and 14.

Thief River Falls scored first in Friday's regular season finale – a goal by sophomore Marc Seaverson at 2:14 of the first period. But Fergus Falls preceded to score six unanswered goals en route to a 3-1 first period lead, a 5-1 second period cushion and the 6-1 final.

It was another in a growing list of frustrating setbacks for the Prowlers, who will take a 10-9-3 record into post-season play. "The kids deserved a better fate," said Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo. "Territorially we had the advantage. We were in the right spot most of the night. But we couldn't buy a goal. And it seemed like they capitalized on every mistake we made. This one was really frustrating. In some of the other games we maybe didn't play so well. But we were doing the right things in this one – and got nothing to show for it."

Women remain in tournament race with win at Brainerd...

With Rhonda Rothschadl and Alice Dunning producing the bulk of the Pioneers' points this winter, Northland coach Sue Barnd was looking for a little offensive diversity for the 1991-92 stretch run. They got it at Brainerd, where freshman Jill Brantl netted 20 points to lead a group of four double figure scorers. Rothschadl finished with 19 points, Dunning 16 and Nanette Berg 11. Rothschadl also had 18 rebounds and Dunning grabbed 15.

"We played pretty well," said Barnd. "We've been working really hard in practice on getting everybody to put the ball in the hoop. We're still running the same offense, but now they're all looking for their shots instead of just going to Rhonda and Alice all the time."

Northland, a 61-45 winner over Brainerd when the Raiders visited Thief River Falls a week earlier, led 41-33 at halftime.

Section 8 boys high school swimming...

Swimmers make strong showing

Outstanding efforts produced individual gratification, but did not net a state meet berth Friday and Saturday as the Thief River Falls boys wrapped up their 1991-92 high school swimming season at the Section 8 meet in Grand Forks.

"Our kids swam super," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken. "They had some magnificent time drops – times that were well under our goals going into the meet."

However, team and individual honors were still not within the Prowlers' reach. Thief River Falls was sixth in the final team point standings, and the Prowlers did not have a top-two state meet-qualifying finish in any of the swimming events, nor a state meet-qualifying top five showing in diving.

Fergus Falls' six-year run as Section 8 champion was ended by Brainerd in 1991, but the Otters returned to the top again in 1992 with 415 points, followed by Detroit Lakes with 290, Bemidji 258, Brainerd 226.5, Alexandria 217, Thief River Falls 206, Staples Area 127, Melrose 122, Park Rapids 99, Fosston-Bagley 81.5, Sauk Centre-Osakis 79, Moorhead 78 and Crookston 41.

"We didn't qualify anyone, but we had somebody in the finals in almost every event," mentioned Lokken. "The (meet) times were much faster than we anticipated. Our kids were great. I couldn't ask for better efforts. It was bitter-sweet to tell the truth. Our times were incredible. Many of them would have been state-qualifying times last year."

Top eight finishers in Friday's prelims at the University of North Dakota Hyslop Pool competed in Saturday's championship finals, while the 9-through-13 prelim finishers took part in Saturday's consolation finals.

Thief River Falls' top finish was a third by Brad Kragness in the 200 freestyle. He was also fourth in the 500 freestyle.

The Prowlers' Matt Carlson placed fifth in both the 50 and 100 freestyle, and Thief River Falls wound up fourth in both the 200 and 400 freestyle relays. Carlson, Daryl Kiesow, Tony McEnelly and Kragness formed the 200 unit, while Adam Jacobson, Kragness, Kiesow and Carlson were featured in the 400.

All five of those Thief River Falls swimmers are juniors.

Rams hold off Nordics

Marshall County Central turned in a solid performance Friday, said Nordics head coach Ron Ueland, but still came up short in a 69-63 boys' high school basketball loss at Roseau.

"We played real well, but they played a little better," said Ueland. "That's the best I've seen Roseau play."

Marshall County Central had a 16-14 first quarter edge, but Roseau went ahead 35-31 at halftime and then went on a 10-0 run early in the second half to open up a 54-40 third quarter cushion. The Nordics came back to make a game of it, but could never overcome that third quarter deficit.

With 6-7 sophomore Jeff Taylor scoring 16 of his game-high 22 points in the first half, the Rams hurt the Nordics on the inside early, noted Ueland. Marshall County Central managed to hold down Taylor in the second half, but the Roseau transition game kicked into gear as guards Tom Nikunen and Mike Hulst finished with 16 and 10 points, respectively.

Tim Olson led Marshall County Central with 21 points and played a strong defensive game, according to Ueland, in holding high-scoring Dave Pankratz to just 6 points. Robbie Anderson scored 12 points, while Shane Borg and Ivan Hirst both contributed 10.

Roseau shot 63 percent from the field for the game on a 29-for-46 showing, and cashed in on 9 of 11 free throw opportunities. Marshall County Central shot 47 percent (26-for-55) and went 7-for-9 at the line. The Nordics had a 29-24 rebound edge, but also had more turnovers, 12-9.

Marshall County Central, 9-6, was scheduled to visit Middle River tonight (Tuesday). The Nordics head to Argyle Friday.

■ Another strong Thief River Falls effort the following day failed to reverse the results as Moorhead skated to a 3-1 win. Adam Swanson scored the lone Thief River Falls goal. Martell had 22 saves.

Huskies win 46-41 over Sacred Heart

Goodridge ran into offensive problems for the second straight game, but the Huskies' win streak nevertheless remained intact Friday in a 46-41 boys high school basketball win at East Grand Forks Sacred Heart.

It was the second 40-point outing of the week for the Huskies, who got by Red Lake County Central 47-30 last Tuesday.

"We're struggling with our offense right now," acknowledged Goodridge coach John Rahn. "But we still managed to win."

The Huskies' ninth straight win put Goodridge at 15-3 for the year. They were scheduled to visit Red Lake Falls tonight (Tuesday) before driving to Grygla Friday for the third meeting of the year with the rival Eagles.

Early foul trouble for Goodridge standout Donavon Quam created game-long problems for the Huskies against Sacred Heart. The Eagles took advantage of the situation to post quarter leads of 14-10, 25-24 and 35-34.

Quam did finish with a game-high 25 points, including a basket that put the Huskies on top for good, 42-41 with 2:30 remaining, before he fouled out.

The Eagles lost an opportunity to regain the lead when Jason Carl missed a pair of free throws with 30 seconds left, and Goodridge followed with two sets of free throws by Willie Vettleson and Peter Grosz to seal it.

Goodridge shot only 27 percent from the field (15-for-55), but Sacred Heart had problems of its own with 33 percent shooting (16-for-49). The Huskies were 13-for-21 at the free throw line, where the Eagles were a more quiet 3-for-6. Grosz grabbed 10 rebounds and Quam had 8 as Goodridge out-rebounded Sacred Heart 33-23.

Thief River Falls girls beat Marshall County Central 55-48...

Prowlers win with final rally

Both sides put together come from behind efforts, but Thief River Falls' fourth quarter rally spelled the difference Saturday as the Prowlers defeated Marshall County Central 55-48 in a girls high school basketball game played before a large Lincoln High School gym crowd.

Trailing 11-6 at the end of the first quarter, the Prowlers came back to lead by as many as nine points in the second quarter, fell behind by seven in the third quarter, but out-scored the Nordics 17-7 in the fourth quarter to win by seven.

"It was a great ball game," said Thief River Falls coach Sally Wiltse. "Marshall County Central came ready to play. They played well. We really had to work for it."

Thief River Falls, a 55-51 winner at Fergus Falls the night before, improved to 12-7 for the year. Marshall County Central, after beating Kittson County North 54-42 and Tri-County 53-42 earlier in the week, fell to 10-9.

"I thought we played pretty well, overall, tonight," offered Marshall County Central coach Tom Mjelde. "We've played our best basketball af the season the last three games, and that's what you want to do this time of the year."

The early Marshall County Central lead disappeared when the Nordics turned the ball over eight times in the second quarter after the Prowlers went to a full court press defense. A 6-0 Thief River Falls run started the quarter and a 7-0 surge shattered an 18-18 tie. A steal and a fast break lay-up by Jodi Kruta provided the Prowlers with their biggest lead of the night, 29-21, with 1:41 remaining in the first half.

"We panicked against the press," acknowledged Mjelde. "We've done that before. If we take our time and get the ball to the right people we can handle it, but when they get rattled they think they have to get the ball across time line in three seconds instead of ten."

However, Marshall County Central pulled within 29-26 before the half ended when Kim Davidson hit from three-point range and Sandi Gustafson put up a jumper in the middle.

And when Davidson followed a pair of Thief River Falls second half-opening turnovers with back-to-back three-pointers, the Nordics had themselves a 32-29 lead.

"Kim is a good three-point shooter," said Mjelde. "We want her to take those shots. If she can hit a couple from the outside like that, it really opens up our inside game for us."

Gustafson's short jumper in the middle with 1:02 left in the third quarter provided the Nordics with their biggest lead of the night, 41-34.

But the see-saw affair continued when Leslie Ammerman hit from the side and Kruta spoiled the Nordics' final-shot clock-eating plans with a steal and a lay-up with nine seconds left to pull the Prowlers within 41-38 as the quarter ended.

Those two baskets also kicked off a 10-2 Thief River Falls run that put the Prowlers up 44-43 on a rebound bucket by Ammerman with 5:07 to play.

Tara Underdahl made two free throws with 4:45 showing for a 45-44 Marshall County Central lead, but a set shot from the side by Ammerman, followed by a 12-foot jumper by Toni Chiodo, gave the Prowlers a lead they would never surrender.

Big basket down the stretch was a three-pointer by Kruta with 3:04 left that turned a one-point game into a 51-47 contest.

A free throw by Jill Fosholm kept the Nordics in range, 52-48, with 31 seconds showing, but the Prowlers' Lisa Ulrich got that one back on a quick Marshall County Central foul, and Ammerman put the final points on the board with a lay-up that broke the Nordics' press with 13 seconds to go.

Both sides had three double figure scorers. For the Prowlers, Kruta, a 5-6 senior guard, had 22 points; Ammerman, a 5-7 junior forward, had 12; and Amy Adams, a 5-10 junior center, netted 11. For the Nordics, Gustafson, a 5-9 junior center, had an impressive night in scoring 15 points; Davidson, a 5-7 senior guard, wound up with 13 thanks to the trio of three-pointers, and 5-7 sophomore forward Sara Lokstad scored 10 – well under her 19.6 season average.

"Gustafsan had a great game," said Wiltse. Mjelde agreed. "That was her best game of the year," he added.

Mjelde was equally impressed with the play of Kruta. "I knew we couldn't stop her, but we wanted to slow her down," he said. "We did a pretty good job on her in the first half, but she really took over in the second half. It was just like she put it in another gear."

Thief River Falls was 23-for-58 from the field (39.6 percent). Marshall County Central went 19-for-46 from the field (41.3 percent), but that included a 2-for-14 fourth quarter. The Prowlers had a 6-for-8 night at the free throw line, where the Nordics were 7-for-13. Marshall County Central outrebounded Thief River Falls 24-20, but the Prowlers finished with a 10-8 edge on the offensive boards. The Nordics topped the turnover charts 21-12.

"I think the turnovers made a difference," said Wiltse. "We really didn't get that many points off them, but the fact that we were forcing them to turn the ball over made us feel better, and it took them out of their offense. We got burned a few times on the press, but we were tenacious with it, and I think we persevered."

The Prowlers will host East Grand Forks Thursday and will be in Moorhead Saturday. They close out regular season play Thursday, Feb. 27, at home against Detroit Lakes.

Marshall County Central's regular season-ending schedule called for a Monday game at Crookston and a Thursday drive to Warren.

Wrestlers beat Lakers, Spuds

Wins at Detroit Lakes Thursday and at Moorhead Saturday enabled Thief River Falls to finish its 1991-92 regular season dual meet high school wrestling schedule with a winning record.

The Prowlers out-scored the Lakers 43-30 and edged the Spuds 34-33 to wind up 12-11 for the year.

Thief River Falls will compete in the 1992 Section 8AA wrestling tournament Friday and Saturday in Fergus Falls, where the Prowlers will be joined by Alexandria, Bemidji, Brainerd, Detroit Lakes, Fergus Falls, Little Falls, Moorhead, Rocori, St. Cloud Apollo, St. Cloud Tech and Sauk Rapids.

Wrestling starts at 11 a.m. Friday. Finals are planned for 7 p.m. Saturday. Top two finishers in each weight class will advance to the individual portion of the 1991 Class AA state tournament March 5-7 at the St. Paul Civic Center.

In additional to the individual places this weekend, there will also be interest in the team scoring since the top four point producers will qualify for the Section 8AA team dual competition Saturday, Feb. 29, at the site of the top scoring team.

"It looks like there are three real good teams in the south," said Thief River Falls head coach John Anderson, looking at St. Cloud Tech, Rocori and Little Falls. Alexandria and Bemidji appear to be the top contenders from the northern portion of Section 8AA, he noted.

"For us to be in the top four," said Anderson, "we would have to wrestle out of our minds."

However, individually the Prowlers have two outstanding entries in seniors Joel Davis and Matt Kaushagen. Davis will take a 29-0 record into the 125-pound competition. Kaushagen, a state meet entry a year ago, will head into the 160-pound matches with a 25-4 mark.

"Joel and Matt are excellent athletes," pointed out Anderson. "They should be seeded one or two."

Three other Prowlers in the 20-win category who are expected to fare well when the seeding positions are determined Wednesday include sophomore Jon Parish at 119 pounds, freshman John Davis at 145 and junior Lee Nieland at 152.

Kaushagen was joined as a state meet qualifier last year by now-graduated Blaine Parish and Joel Fremstad. Both are currently wrestling at the collegiate level – Parish at Mankato State University and Fromstad at Jamestown College.

NCC basketball...

First place on the line at 8 tonight

A scheduled Northland-Fergus Falls match-up in Minnesota Community College Conference men's basketball tonight (Tuesday) offered first place in the Northwest Division standings as a prize for the winner in the 8 p.m. contest.

Actually, Fergus Falls has been a season-long divisional leader. However, a couple of recent road losses dropped the Spartans to 6-2 in the MCCC, and a 110-101 Northland win at Brainerd Saturday afternoon put the 5-3 Pioneers in position to move into a first place tie with a win tonight.

Northland will close out its 1991-92 conference-counting schedule Thursday with an 8 p.m. game at UMC. The Trojans, like the Pioneers, are 5-3 in the Northwest Division, where the top two finishers earn state tournament berths. Brainerd, 3-5, will watch the three-team battle for post-season positions from the Northwest Division basement, but the Raiders can play the role of spoiler with games remaining against UMC and Fergus Falls.

"It should be a very interesting final week," acknowledged Northland coach Chet Engelman.

Northland lost a 101-96 home court decision to rival UMC last Tuesday. They dropped a 101-92 game at Fergus Falls back on Jan. 29.

The Pioneers beat Brainerd for the second time in eight days with a balanced effort that included six double figure scorers – Larane Greer with 25 points, Joe Comstock 22, Travis Brown 16, Kelly Dahl 13, John Clark 12 and William Mitchell 11.

Down 34-24 midway through the first half, Northland came back to take a 56-49 lead at intermission. Brainerd, an 85-84 loser in overtime here the previous Friday, had a chance to cut into a 53-49 Northland lead in the final moments of the first half, but a turnover, followed by a three-point basket at the buzzer by Comstock, produced a big scoreboard swing.

"That was a real back-breaker right there," said Engelman.

Northland lengthened its lead to 83-67 near the middle of the second half, only to see Brainerd score 10 points in a 58-second flurry to make it close down the stretch.

However, the Pioneers never lost the lead. Up 98-89, they drew fouls on eight consecutive possessions and cashed in on six of the free throw opportunities for their final 12 points.

"We haven't been playing real consistent lately, but that's about as consistent as we've been all year," said Engelman after the road win put the Pioneers at 11-8 overall. "We did some things right for a change."

Gary Arrington scored 28 points and Tony Glenz had 26 in a 1-2 Brainerd scoring punch. Curt Baier chipped in with 17.

Northland had a strong 56 percent shooting performance, hitting 38 of 68 attempts, including a 13-for-24 showing from three-point range. Comstock was 6-for-10 and Dahl went 4-for-4 from outside the three-point circle, while Brown was 7-for-7 from the field on the inside.

The Pioneers also made good on their free throw chances, a 21-for-27 effort that featured 14 of those attempts in the final two minutes.

Brainerd shot 41 percent from the field – 36-for-88 – and the Raiders also kept busy at the free throw line with a 20-for-30 outing.

The rebound battled ended in a 47-47 tie. Mitchell grabbed a team-high 15 rebounds, while Brown had 9 and Greer finished with 8, along with 9 assists. Northland topped the turnover charts 22-14.

Northland finishes regular season play at home Saturday with a non-conference 3 p.m. match-up against North Dakota State College of Science – the No. 1-ranked team in the NJCAA Region 13 polls.

Scoring

Prowlers lose to Otters 6-1

A disappointing regular season finish was completed Friday when Thief River Falls dropped a 6-1 high school hockey decision at Fergus Falls.

The Prowlers went 0-5-2 in their last seven starts to drop from among the Section 8 leaders into the pack who await the results of Wednesday's coaches seeding votes to see where they fit into the upcoming Tier I/Tier II tournament picture.

Top eight seeds will form the Section 8 Tier I tournament, with first round quarterfinal games scheduled to be played Friday at the sites of the top four seeded teams.

Teams seeded 9-through-18 will be involved in the new Section 8 Tier II tournament. First round Tier II games will be played Thursday – No. 18 at No. 15 and No. 17 at No. 16. Tier II quarterfinals will be played Saturday at the sites of the No. 9, 10, 11 and 12 seeds.

Thief River Falls will play host to both sets of semifinals and championship games. The Sports Arena schedule will include the Tier II semifinals Friday, Feb. 28; Tier I semifinals Saturday, Feb. 29; Tier II championship game Thursday, March 5; and the Tier I championship game Friday, March 6.

Both the Tier I and Tier II Section 8 champions advance to state tournament play. Tier I state tournament games will be played March 12-14 at the St. Paul Civic Center. Tier II state tournament will open March 11 at the Civic Center, then move to the Target Center in Minneapolis for the semifinals and finals March 13 and 14.

Thief River Falls scored first in Friday's regular season finale – a goal by sophomore Marc Seaverson at 2:14 of the first period. But Fergus Falls preceded to score six unanswered goals en route to a 3-1 first period lead, a 5-1 second period cushion and the 6-1 final.

It was another in a growing list of frustrating setbacks for the Prowlers, who will take a 10-9-3 record into post-season play. "The kids deserved a better fate," said Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo. "Territorially we had the advantage. We were in the right spot most of the night. But we couldn't buy a goal. And it seemed like they capitalized on every mistake we made. This one was really frustrating. In some of the other games we maybe didn't play so well. But we were doing the right things in this one – and got nothing to show for it."

Women remain in tournament race with win at Brainerd...

With Rhonda Rothschadl and Alice Dunning producing the bulk of the Pioneers' points this winter, Northland coach Sue Barnd was looking for a little offensive diversity for the 1991-92 stretch run. They got it at Brainerd, where freshman Jill Brantl netted 20 points to lead a group of four double figure scorers. Rothschadl finished with 19 points, Dunning 16 and Nanette Berg 11. Rothschadl also had 18 rebounds and Dunning grabbed 15.

"We played pretty well," said Barnd. "We've been working really hard in practice on getting everybody to put the ball in the hoop. We're still running the same offense, but now they're all looking for their shots instead of just going to Rhonda and Alice all the time."

Northland, a 61-45 winner over Brainerd when the Raiders visited Thief River Falls a week earlier, led 41-33 at halftime.

Section 8 boys high school swimming...

Swimmers make strong showing

Outstanding efforts produced individual gratification, but did not net a state meet berth Friday and Saturday as the Thief River Falls boys wrapped up their 1991-92 high school swimming season at the Section 8 meet in Grand Forks.

"Our kids swam super," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken. "They had some magnificent time drops – times that were well under our goals going into the meet."

However, team and individual honors were still not within the Prowlers' reach. Thief River Falls was sixth in the final team point standings, and the Prowlers did not have a top-two state meet-qualifying finish in any of the swimming events, nor a state meet-qualifying top five showing in diving.

Fergus Falls' six-year run as Section 8 champion was ended by Brainerd in 1991, but the Otters returned to the top again in 1992 with 415 points, followed by Detroit Lakes with 290, Bemidji 258, Brainerd 226.5, Alexandria 217, Thief River Falls 206, Staples Area 127, Melrose 122, Park Rapids 99, Fosston-Bagley 81.5, Sauk Centre-Osakis 79, Moorhead 78 and Crookston 41.

"We didn't qualify anyone, but we had somebody in the finals in almost every event," mentioned Lokken. "The (meet) times were much faster than we anticipated. Our kids were great. I couldn't ask for better efforts. It was bitter-sweet to tell the truth. Our times were incredible. Many of them would have been state-qualifying times last year."

Top eight finishers in Friday's prelims at the University of North Dakota Hyslop Pool competed in Saturday's championship finals, while the 9-through-13 prelim finishers took part in Saturday's consolation finals.

Thief River Falls' top finish was a third by Brad Kragness in the 200 freestyle. He was also fourth in the 500 freestyle.

The Prowlers' Matt Carlson placed fifth in both the 50 and 100 freestyle, and Thief River Falls wound up fourth in both the 200 and 400 freestyle relays. Carlson, Daryl Kiesow, Tony McEnelly and Kragness formed the 200 unit, while Adam Jacobson, Kragness, Kiesow and Carlson were featured in the 400.

All five of those Thief River Falls swimmers are juniors.

Rams hold off Nordics

Marshall County Central turned in a solid performance Friday, said Nordics head coach Ron Ueland, but still came up short in a 69-63 boys high school basketball loss at Roseau.

"We played real well, but they played a little better," said Ueland. "That's the best I've seen Roseau play."

Marshall County Central had a 16-14 first quarter edge, but Roseau went ahead 35-31 at halftime and then went on a 10-0 run early in the second half to open up a 54-40 third quarter cushion. The Nordics came back to make a game of it, but could never overcome that third quarter deficit.

With 6-7 sophomore Jeff Taylor scoring 16 of his game-high 22 points in the first half, the Rams hurt the Nordics on the inside early, noted Ueland. Marshall County Central managed to hold down Taylor in the second half, but the Roseau transition game kicked into gear as guards Tom Nikunen and Mike Hulst finished with 16 and 10 points, respectively.

Tim Olson led Marshall County Central with 21 points and played a strong defensive game, according to Ueland, in holding high-scoring Dave Pankratz to just 6 points. Robbie Anderson scored 12 points, while Shane Borg and Ivan Hirst both contributed 10.

Roseau shot 63 percent from the field for the game on a 29-for-46 showing, and cashed in on 9 of 11 free throw opportunities. Marshall County Central shot 47 percent (26-for-55) and went 7-for-9 at the line. The Nordics had a 29-24 rebound edge, but also had more turnovers, 12-9.

Marshall County Central, 9-6, was scheduled to visit Middle River tonight (Tuesday). The Nordics head to Argyle Friday.

Huskies win 46-41 over Sacred Heart

Goodridge ran into offensive problems for the second straight game, but the Huskies' win streak nevertheless remained intact Friday in a 46-41 boys high school basketball win at East Grand Forks Sacred Heart.

It was the second 40-point outing of the week for the Huskies, who got by Red Lake County Central 47-30 last Tuesday.

"We're struggling with our offense right now," acknowledged Goodridge coach John Rahn. "But we still managed to win."

The Huskies' ninth straight win put Goodridge at 15-3 for the year. They were scheduled to visit Red Lake Falls tonight (Tuesday) before driving to Grygla Friday for the third meeting of the year with the rival Eagles.

Early foul trouble for Goodridge standout Donavon Quam created game-long problems for the Huskies against Sacred Heart. The Eagles took advantage of the situation to post quarter leads of 14-10, 25-24 and 35-34.

Quam did finish with a game-high 25 points, including a basket that put the Huskies on top for good, 42-41 with 2:30 remaining, before he fouled out.

The Eagles lost an opportunity to regain the lead when Jason Carl missed a pair of free throws with 30 seconds left, and Goodridge followed with two sets of free throws by Willie Vettleson and Peter Grosz to seal it.

Goodridge shot only 27 percent from the field (15-for-55), but Sacred Heart had problems of its own with 33 percent shooting (16-for-49). The Huskies were 13-for-21 at the free throw line, where the Eagles were a more quiet 3-for-6. Grosz grabbed 10 rebounds and Quam had 8 as Goodridge outrebounded Sacred Heart 33-23.

TRF girls top Otters 55-51

A combined 39-point effort from guards Jodi Kruta and Toni Chiodo sparked Thief River Falls past host Fergus Falls 55-51 Friday in girls high school basketball.

Kruta netted 23 points and Chiodo had 16 as the Prowlers won for the fourth time in six North Sub-Section 8AA starts this winter. With both losses coming at the hands of unbeaten Bemidji, Thief River Falls can earn a No. 2 post-season tournament seed with regular season-ending wins over Moorhead Saturday and at home against Detroit Lakes Feb. 27.

"We played really well," reported Thief River Falls coach Sally Wiltse.

The Prowlers led 13-12 at the end of the first quarter, had a 23-20 halftime edge and a 35-30 third quarter advantage. It turned into an 11-point spread early in the fourth quarter before Fergus Falls rolled behind the scoring of guard Kim Hanson.

The Otters' leader, Hanson was given special attention by the Prowlers' defense and was held scoreless through three quarters. But her fast break rushes produced 13 fourth quarter points to make a game of it.

Thief River Falls never lost the lead, however, keeping the Otters at bay by going 8-for-11 at the line when Fergus Falls was forced into a must-foul situation down the stretch.

Chastidy Anderson and Amy Beyer joined Hanson in double figures for the Otters with 10 points each.

Thief River Falls shot 40 percent from the field, hitting 20 of 50 attempts, and had a 14-for-19 night at the free throw line. Fergus Falls shot only 32 percent on a 19-for-60 showing and went 13-for-18 at the line. The Otters out-rebounded the Prowlers 26-24. Thief River Falls topped the turnover charts 11-8.

Green Wave rally tops Prowlers

East Grand Forks out-scored Thief River Falls 19-4 over the final five minutes Thursday as the Green Wave came from behind to beat the visiting Prowlers 63-55 in a late-reported boys high school basketball game.

It was the tenth straight loss for the 2-15 Prowlers, who were scheduled to host Argyle tonight (Tuesday). They will be at Warren Friday.

East Grand Forks, 8-8 for the year, jumped out to a 22-12 first quarter lead and held on to a 29-23 halftime edge before Thief River Falls went up 40-37 at the end of the third quarter.

The Prowlers enjoyed a 51-44 advantage with 4:56 remaining before the Green Wave put together that late-game surge.

"We just didn't run our offense very well down the stretch," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "We played some really good man-to-man defense in the middle of the game, but we didn't get it done at the end. That one hurt. It was one we thought we could win."

Tom Upham of the Prowlers and Chad Filipski of the Green Wave shared game-high scoring honors with 20 points apiece. Filipski received offensive support from Matt Hustad with 17 points and Pat Whitty with 12. Kelly Swanson joined Upham in double figures for the Prowlers with 12 points.

East Grand Forks beat Thief River Falls by a similar 65-56 margin back on Jan. 3.

Grygla-Gatzke beats Middle River, Fisher...

Eagles extend win streak

Grygla-Gatzke stretched its winning streak to seven games with boys high school basketball victories at Middle River Friday and at Fisher Monday.

The 12-6 Eagles got by the Skippers 61-57 and held off the Flyers 58-50.

Grygla-Gatzke	61
Middle River	57

Mitch Bernstein gave Grygla-Gatzke a jump start and Jeremy Engelman supplied a finishing kick Friday as the Eagles beat Middle River 61-57.

Bernstein scored 11 of his 19 points in the first quarter, while Engelstad netted 13 of his game-high 23 points in the final quarter as Grygla-Gatzke made amends for a 51-49 loss to Middle River back on Jan. 10.

It was close throughout – 17-17 at the end of the first quarter, 30-28 Grygla-Gatzke at halftime and 42-42 through three quarters.

"I thought it was a pretty well-played game on both sides," said Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "I thought our kids played well. It was a good effort on our part."

Gilbert Olson scored 18 points, while David Nelson and David Blazek both had 15 for the Skippers.

Grygla-Gatzke was 24-for-57 from the field (42 percent), but just 12-for-21 at the line. However, the Eagles made up for some of those missed free throws by grabbing the rebounds, pointed out Johnson. "We had some key offensive rebounds, especially on the missed free throws," he said.

Middle River went 22-for-54 from the field (41 percent) and wound up 12-for-17 at the line.

The Eagles had a 33-32 rebound edge and the Skippers topped the turnover charts 12-10.

Middle River, 12-8, was scheduled to host Marshall County Central tonight (Tuesday). The Skippers have a make-up game Thursday at Roseau and will entertain Hallock-Kennedy Friday.

Scoring

Middle River - Jarrett Walton 6, Gilbert Olson 18, David Nelson 15, John Sparby 1, David Blazek 15, Daniel Kochmsiedt 2.

Grygla-Gatzke	58
Fisher	50

A solid first half made up for a less-than-perfect second half Monday as Grygla-Gatzke posted a 58-50 win over Fisher.

The Eagles jumped out to a 17-6 first quarter lead and had a 32-14 halftime cushion before being out-scored 36-26 in the second half.

"First half, we played well both offensively and defensively," said Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "In the second half we stood around and waited for the game to end."

Mitch Bernstein and Ryan Bakken both scored 14 points for the winners, with Scott Rindahl contributing 10. Chris Hoff and Mike Stratton led Fisher with 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Neither team shot very well. The Eagles were 19-for-53 from the field (36 percent) and the Flyers went 17-for-64 (27 percent). The two teams also struggled at the free throw line, where Grygla-Gatzke was 18-for-29 and Fisher went 7-for-18.

Three Eagles were in double figures on the boards – Bakken with 12, Rick Warne 10, Justin Lunsetter 10 – as they out-rebounded the Flyers 46-28. "We did a nice job on the boards," mentioned Johnson.

The turnovers were even at 11 apiece.

Scoring

RLCC girls lose to RLF

Poor shooting did in Red Lake County Central Saturday as the Mustangs lost a 48-32 girls high school basketball make-up game at Red Lake Falls.

Red Lake County Central shot just 23 percent from the field for the game, a 12-for-52 showing that included a not-so-pretty 5-for-30 first half. And 18 of those first half misses came inside the paint area around the basket, pointed out Red Lake County Central coach Rick Kolvisto.

Those numbers added up to Red Lake Falls quarter leads of 9-5, 20-14 and 34-25.

Red Lake County Central's defensive efforts held the Eagles' Amy Oscarson, who scored 25 points in an earlier 57-46 win over the Mustangs, to just 8 points in the rematch, but Red Lake Falls' Amy Dahle picked up the slack with an 18 point game – including three second half three-point baskets that kept the Mustangs at bay.

Moorhead and East Grand Forks were winners over the Thief River Falls juniors and sophomores in boys high school basketball last week.

Leslie Ammerman scored 13 points, Alison Peterson had 10 and Vanessa Anderson finished with 9 in the balanced Thief River Falls offense.

Red Lake Co. Central	55

Clearbrook-Gonvick grabbed a 20-11 first quarter lead and never looked back in beating Red Lake County Central 68-55.

The Bears were up 35-25 at halftime, and after the Mustangs had pulled within four near the end of the third quarter, re-opened a 55-43 gap to start the fourth quarter.

Jeff Brunsberg led the winners with a game-high 29 points. Teammates Joe Johnson and Jeremy Bakken both netted 10. Jacob Melby paced the Mustangs with 22 points, with Ryan Melby scoring 12 and Bill Maul 10.

Red Lake County Central shot a nifty 54 percent from the field (26-for-48) – a considerable improvement for a team that has been in the 30 percent range on occasion. Clearbrook-Gonvick shot 46 percent (27-for-59), but wound up with five 3-point baskets while Red Lake County Central didn't have a one.

The Bears were a perfect 9-for-9 at the free throw line, where the Mustangs went 3-for-8. Red Lake County Central finished with a 30-23 rebound edge, but also topped the turnover charts 20-12.

"We didn't play too bad," noted Red Lake County Central coach Todd Fore. "I was really happy with our shooting percentage.

Wolverines lose 52-49

Fisher took over in the final minute Monday to turn back visiting Grygla-Goodridge 52-49 in girls high school basketball.

The Wolverines took a 47-46 lead on a Kathy Smeby basket with 1:10 left, but the Flyers' Gretchen Wagner promptly hit a 3-point basket, and then Fisher wrapped it up at the free throw line.

"That three-point basket killed us," said Grygla-Goodridge coach Mike Gast. "We worked so hard to come back, and then they just threw one in on us. We dug ourselves too big a hole early. We put them at the free throw line way too many times in the first half."

Smeby had a 22-point, 12-rebound game for the Wolverines. Wagner led the Flyers with 19 points.

Grygla-Goodridge was 17-for-51 from the field and 15-for-22 at the free throw line. Fisher went 18-for-55 from the field and 13-for-20 at the line.

The 1-19 Wolverines will finish regular season play at East Grand Forks Sacred Heart Thursday.

Impressions . . .

Well, the race has begun!! The race for President of the United States has its first Presidential primary election on Tuesday, February 18. How appropriate that this day immediately follows President's Day—the day we honor our country's first President as well as those who have since held the office.

I have to admit that I have never seen the reason for Presidential Primary elections. I understood that they seemed to be the way the numbers were weeded to just a few candidates, but I did not understand the purpose of these primary elections until I looked up "Presidential Primary" in my encyclopedia. So, for those of you who, like me, are not politically literate, the reason for Presidential Primaries is to choose delegates to the national party conventions. So, the people of the State of New Hampshire who vote on Tuesday will be telling their political bodies who they want their state's delegates to support during their party's presidential conventions which will be held later this year.

Truly, the race has begun!!!

But, most of us will not be caught up in the race to the extent that the candidates and their closest supporters will be. Most of us will be meeting the candidates via the media. Most of us will make decisions as to the future leadership of our country through educated guesses. Most of us will not be able to sit down and look each candidate in the eye and by looking make a decision based on character impressions as well as the issues.

The issues do become very important. It's through the issues that we will strive to make our choice next November for President. It will be interesting to see what the issues will become in this race. It is still to early for us to ascertain the primary issues, but maybe we can begin to guess at the issues.

I think that the main issues in this race will be "at home" sort of issues. The people of our nation will be wanting to know how the various candidates will help our economy. The coasts of our country are in severe economic distress. The candidates will have to demonstrate a concern and help for the people afflicted by hard economic questions.

Health care goes hand in hand with economic care. A healthy nation is a nation that will be able to thrive economically. The issues in this race will probably be turned at some point to how each candidate foresees a national health care program.

Education also goes hand in hand with the economy. A nation with high educational standards will be able to compete in this world's economy. The issue in this race may sometime turn to what kind of educational standards each candidate expects to promote.

Abortion will most likely be part of the issues of this race. How influential it becomes in the choice we make in November will depend on how vocal the various sides become. The candidates will need to tell us their view on this volatile issue.

Vietnam is already an issue in this race. It will become a non-issue when the candidates of that era continue to move forward in spite of various criticisms, our nation cannot afford to dwell on past wartime responses. Our nation needs to dwell on its present and its future. The ruling age of our population is currently that age that was most personally affected by the Vietnam war. The issues will decide whether we allow ourselves to concentrate on the past, or look to our nation's future.

The race has begun! I'm proud to be able to express my opinion when I go to the polls to vote.

The issues are important. But, to me, more important than the issues are the eyes of the candidates. I will make my decision not only on what I hear the candidates say, but also how they look. Do they look like slimy, controlling, shifty-eyed characters? Or, do they look like they have some inner character which will make them a candidate of choice after all the words are spoken?

Listen to the issues during this Presidential race, but also look into the eyes and try to ascertain the character of the candidate for whom you will vote. Compare the issues and character and then make your choice.

School District #564 Proceedings

such time as taxes levied by the District in 1991 for collection in 1992, receipts of which are to be recorded as assets of the Operating Funds and the Capital Expenditure Fund of the District pursuant to the Uniform Financial Accounting and Reporting System for Minnesota school districts (including any amounts paid by the State of Minnesota to replace such taxes which will be received prior to the maturity date of the Certificates), and which remain to be received are in the amount of 105% of the principal and interest due on the Certificates on their maturity date, there shall be deposited in the Debt Service Fund all subsequent receipts of such taxes until the balance in the Debt Service Fund is sufficient to pay the entire principal amount of the Certificates and interest due thereon at maturity.

The full faith and credit of the District are pledged to the payment of the Certificates, and, in accordance with Minnesota Statutes, Section 475.61, the District hereby covenants and agrees that in the event of a deficiency in moneys to pay principal of and interest on the Certificates when due, it will levy and cause to be extended upon all taxable property within its corporate limits such ad valorem taxes as may be required for the payment of such principal and interest in full.

Section 11. Certification. The Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to file a certified copy of this resolution with the County Auditors of Pennington, Marshall and Red Lake Counties and to obtain from each of the County Auditors a certificate that the Certificates have been duly entered upon the bond register.

Section 12. Authorization of Transcript. The officers of the District and the County Auditors are hereby authorized to furnish to the Purchaser and to Dorsey & Whitney, the attorneys approving the legality of the issuance of the Certificates, certified copies of any resolution of the District relating thereto, and such certificates and affidavits as to other matters appearing in their official records or otherwise known to them as may be reasonably required to evidence the legality and marketability of the Certificates. All such certified copies, certificates and affidavits, including any heretofore furnished, shall be deemed to constitute representations and recitals of the District as to the correctness of all statements contained therein.

Section 13. General Covenant. The District covenants and agrees with the owners from time to time of the Certificates that it will not take or permit to be taken by any of its officers, employees or agents any action which would cause the interest on the Certificates to become includable in gross income for federal income tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code) and applicable Treasury Regulations (the Regulations), and covenants to take any and all actions within its powers to ensure that the interest on the Certificates will not become includable in gross income for federal income tax purposes under the Code and the Regulations.

Section 14. Statement of Expenditures and Receipts and Arbitrage Certificate. The Board estimates that (i) the Certificates will not be outstanding after a period ending thirteen months after the date on which they are issued, and (ii) the amount of the Certificates authorized to be issued does not exceed the maximum anticipated cumulative cash flow deficit to be financed by such taxes and other funds for the period for which taxes and other funds are anticipated and during which the Certificates will be outstanding, as contemplated by Section 1.103-14(c)(1) of the Regulations. The Treasurer of the District is directed to prepare a statement of estimated expenditures and receipts during the period for which such taxes and other funds are anticipated and during which the Certificates will be outstanding, for the purpose of verifying the correctness of this estimate. In the event that such statement does not verify such estimate, the principal amount of the Certificates shall be reduced to such amount as will not exceed such maximum anticipated cumulative cash flow deficit. Prior to the issuance of the Certificates, the Chairman and Clerk, being the officers of the District charged with the responsibility for issuing the Certificates pursuant to this resolution, shall execute and deliver to the Purchaser a certificate as contemplated in Section 1.103-13(a)(2)(ii) of the Regulations stating the facts, estimates and circumstances in existence on the date of issuance and delivery of the Certificates which indicate that the proceeds of the Certificates will not be used in a manner that would cause the Certificates to be "arbitrage bonds" within the meaning of the Code and Regulations. The statement of estimated expenditures and receipts during the period for which such taxes and other funds are anticipated and during which the Certificates will be outstanding, as prepared by the Treasurer of the District, shall be attached hereto.

Section 15. Arbitrage Rebate Exemption. The District hereby represents that the Certificates qualify for the exception for small governmental units to the arbitrage rebate provisions contained in Section 148(f) of the Code. Specifically, the District represents:

(a) substantially all (not less than 95%) of the proceeds of the Certificates (except for amounts to be applied to the payment of costs of issuance and amounts to be deposited in the Operating Funds and the Capital Expenditure Fund pursuant to Section 9) will be used for local governmental activities of the District, and

(b) the aggregate face amount of all "tax-exempt bonds" (including warrants, contracts, leases and other indebtedness, but excluding private activity bonds) issued by or on behalf of the District and all subordinate entities thereof during 1992 is not reasonably expected to exceed $5,000,000. To date in 1992, the District has issued no such tax-exempt bonds.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, if the arbitrage rebate provisions of Section 148(f) of the Code apply to the Certificates, the District hereby covenants and agrees to make the determinations, retain records and rebate to the United States the amounts at the times and in the manner required by said Section 148(f) and applicable Regulations.

Section 16. Qualified Tax-Exempt Obligations. Pursuant to Section 265(b)(3)(D)(ii) of the Code, the District hereby designates the Certificates as "qualified tax-exempt obligations" for purposes of Section 265(b)(3) of the Code. The District has not designated any obligations in 1992 other than the Certificates under Section 265(b)(3). The District hereby represents that it does not anticipate that obligations bearing interest not includable in gross income for purposes of federal income taxation under Section 103 of the Code (including refunding obligations as provided in Section 265(b)(3) of the Code and including "qualified 501(c)(3) bonds" but excluding other "private activity bonds," as defined in Sections 141(a) and 145(a) of the Code) will be issued by or on behalf of the District and all "subordinate entities" of the District in 1992 in an amount greater than $10,000,000.

II. GOVERNING BOARD

Section 1. Powers and Duties. The Joint District shall be operated by a Joint Vocational Technical Board, hereinafter referred to as the "Joint Board." Each participating school district shall have one vote to be used by the member, or if the member is not present, by the alternate. A Joint Board member must be a resident of the appointing school district and may be a school board member of the appointing school board.

2.2. Board Service. Each member and alternate so appointed shall serve at the pleasure of that member's appointing school board and is subject to recall by a majority vote of the full membership of the appointing school board. If a vacancy occurs on the Joint Board, it must be filled by the appropriate appointing board for the remainder of the unexpired term. Section 6. Policies. At the organizational meeting, or as soon thereafter as possible, the Board may adopt policies governing its procedures which may include the time, location, and frequency of its regular meetings, the manner of calling special meetings, the duties and powers of its officers, the compensation of Board members, and such other provisions as may be useful and necessary for the efficient conduct of its business. No policy shall be adopted which conflicts with the provisions of this Agreement or the Joint District's enabling legislation.

Section 7. Officers. At the first meeting of the Joint Board and at its annual meeting each year thereafter, the Joint Board shall elect from among its members a chair, a vice chair, a clerk, and a treasurer. RESOLUTION RELATING TO $1,105,000 GENERAL OBLIGATION TAX ANTICIPATION CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS OF 1992, AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE, AWARDING THE SALE AND ESTABLISHING THE TERMS THEREOF

BE IT RESOLVED by the School Board (the Board) of Independent School District No. 564 (Thief River Falls), Minnesota (the District), as follows:

Section 1. Authorization. It is hereby found, determined and declared that certain amounts receivable by the District from collections in 1992 of general taxes levied in 1991 for school purposes will not be received in time to meet necessary expenditures for the purposes for which such taxes were levied. To meet such expenditures, it is therefore expedient and necessary for the District forthwith to borrow money by the issuance of its tax anticipation certificates of indebtedness. It is hereby found, determined and declared that general taxes levied by the District for school purposes which are due and payable in calendar year 1992, as to which taxes no penalty for nonpayment or delinquency has attached, including amounts paid by the State of Minnesota to replace such taxes, whether paid in that calendar year or not, and receipts of which taxes are to be recorded as assets of the Operating Funds and the Capital Expenditure Fund of the District pursuant to the Uniform Financial Accounting and Reporting System for Minnesota school districts, are in the amount of $2,052,781.26 for the Operating Funds and in the amount of $167,904 for the Capital Expenditure Fund. Pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, Sections 124.71 through 124.76 and Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 475, the District is therefor authorized and hereby determines to issue $1,105,000 aggregate principal amount of General Obligation Tax Anticipation Certificates of Indebtedness of 1992 (the Certificates).

Section 2. Sale. Pursuant to Minnesota Statutes Section 124.76, public sale of certificates of indebtedness is not required under certain circumstances. Evensen Dodge, Inc., financial consultants to the District, has solicited bids on behalf of the District for the sale of the Certificates, and such solicitation is hereby approved and ratified. Pursuant to the Official Statement distributed to potential purchasers by Evensen Dodge, Inc., sealed bids for the purchase of the Certificates were received at or prior to the time specified for opening bids. The bids have been opened and publicly read and considered, and the purchase price, interest rate and net interest cost under the terms of each bid have been determined. The most favorable offer received is that of FBS Investment Services of Minneapolis, MN, (the Purchaser) to purchase the Certificates at a price of $1,105,000.00, with interest at the rate of 3.80%, payable at maturity. Such offer is hereby accepted, and the Chairman and Clerk are hereby authorized and directed to execute a contract on the part of the District for the sale of the Certificates to the Purchaser. The good faith checks of the unsuccessful bidders shall be returned forthwith.

Section 3. Certificate Terms. The Certificates shall be prepared under the supervision of the Clerk and shall bear interest at the rate stated in Section 2 hereof from date of issue until paid. The Certificates shall be dated, as originally issued, as of February 18, 1992, shall mature on March 18, 1993, without option of prior payment, and shall be in the denomination of $5,000 each or in integral multiples of $5,000. The Certificates shall be issuable only in fully registered form, and the ownership of the Certificates shall be transferred only upon the register of the District hereinafter described. Upon presentation and surrender of each Certificate, the principal amount thereof and the interest thereon shall be payable by check or draft issued by the registrar, transfer agent and paying agent hereinafter described.

Section 4. Appointment of Initial Registrar. The District hereby appoints the Business Manager of the District as the initial registrar, transfer agent and paying agent (the Registrar). The District reserves the right to remove any Registrar upon thirty (30) days' notice and upon the appointment of a successor Registrar, in which event the predecessor Registrar shall deliver all cash and Certificates in its possession to the successor Registrar and shall deliver the certificate register to the successor Registrar. On or before March 18, 1993, without further order of this Board, The Treasurer of the District shall transmit to the Registrar moneys sufficient for the payment of all principal and interest then due.

Section 5. Registrar, Transfer Agent and Paying Agent. The effect of registration and the rights and duties of the District and the Registrar with respect thereto shall be as follows:

(a) The Registrar shall keep a register in which the Registrar shall provide for the registration of ownership of and the registration of transfers and exchanges of Certificates entitled to be registered, transferred or exchanged.

(b) Upon surrender for transfer of any Certificate duly endorsed by the registered owner thereof or accompanied by a written instrument of transfer, in form satisfactory to the Registrar, duly executed by the registered owner thereof or by an attorney duly authorized by the registered owner in writing, the Registrar shall authenticate and deliver, in the name of the designated transferee or transferees, one or more new Certificates of a like aggregate principal amount as requested by the transferor.

(c) Whenever any Certificate is surrendered by the registered owner for exchange the Registrar shall authenticate and deliver one or more new Bonds of a like aggregate principal amount, interest rate and maturity as requested by the registered owner or the owner's attorney duly authorized in writing.

(d) All Certificates surrendered upon any transfer or exchange shall be promptly cancelled by the Registrar and thereafter disposed of as directed by the District.

(e) When any Certificate is presented to the Registrar for transfer, the Registrar may refuse to transfer the same until it is satisfied that the endorsement on such Certificate or separate instrument of transfer is legally authorized. The Registrar shall incur no liability for the refusal, in good faith to make transfers which it, in its judgment deems improper or unauthorized.

(f) The District and the Registrar may treat the person in whose name any Certificate is at any time registered in the register as the absolute owner of such Certificate, whether such Certificate shall be overdue or not, for the purpose of receiving payment of, or on account of, the principal of and interest on such Certificate and for all other purposes, and any such payment so made to any such registered owner or upon the owner's order shall be valid and effectual to satisfy and discharge the liability of the District upon such Certificate to the extent of the sum or sums so paid.

(g) For every transfer or exchange of Certificates, the Registrar may impose a charge upon the owner thereof sufficient to reimburse the Registrar for any tax, fee or other governmental charge required to be paid with respect to such transfer or exchange.

(h) In case any Certificate shall become mutilated or be lost, stolen or destroyed the Registrar shall deliver a new Certificate of like amount and tenor in exchange and substitution for and upon cancellation of any such mutilated Certificate or in lieu of and in substitution for any such Certificate lost, stolen or destroyed, upon the payment of the reasonable expenses and charges of [illegible] evidence satisfactory to it that such Certificate was lost, stolen or destroyed, and of the ownership thereof, and upon furnishing to the Registrar of an appropriate bond or indemnity in form, substance and amount satisfactory to it, in which both the District and the Registrar shall be named as obligees. All Certificates so surrendered to the Registrar shall be cancelled by it and evidence of such cancellation shall be given to the District. If the mutilated, lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate has already matured, it shall not be necessary to issue a new Certificate prior to payment.

(i) The Registrar is hereby designated authenticating agent for the Certificates, within the meaning of Minnesota Statutes, Section 475.55, Subdivision 1, as amended.

Section 6. Certificate Form. The Certificates shall be prepared in substantially the following form:

Lincoln high school German language students planning a trip to Germany this summer received a major boost in meeting their expenses from Eagles Lodge 2368. The Eagles provided $300 per student (a total of $2,700) toward the program. Trustee Richard Olson of the Eagles makes a presentation of the funds to sophomore Jane Bentson and junior Steve Anderson, two of the students who will be making the trip with German language instructor Paivi Young. Other local organizations have also been invited to contribute to the trip.

Photography of Harley Straus

Photography of Harley E. Straus entitled "A Retrospective" will be featured throughout February in the Northland Community college art gallery, open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. The exhibit is on loan from the Rourke Art Gallery.

Harley E. Straus, a native of Minot, ND, never had a formal photography course although he has a Master's degree in journalism from the University of Oregon. He began taking photos as part of his job in the news bureau at Michigan Tech in the middle 1960s.

He first began teaching photography at the University of Iowa and later taught at West Virginia university and Penn State before moving back to North Dakota in 1980 to join the UND faculty.

Straus has exhibited frequently and his work has been published in various magazines and journals. He developed a habit of carrying a camera nearly everywhere and he preferred black and white photography which he felt was more expressive and offered him more control over what his photos looked like.

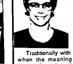
INSURANCE Update
by Carol Nelson



Traditionally with contract law, when the meaning of contract wording is unclear, the reasonable understanding of the party who accepted the words prevails over that of the party who prepared them. This does not mean however, that an insurance policy can be interpreted in whatever way the policyholder wishes. Many of today's insurance companies issue their policies in "plain language" to avoid any possibility of misunderstandings between the company and its policyholders. Plain-language contracts use easy-to-read type, headings, and terminology. In many cases, important terms are defined on the policy jacket.

Don't hesitate to ask questions if you need clarification of your insurance policy. It is important that you fully understand the terms of your policy before a mishap occurs. Review your coverages periodically and make adjustments when necessary. At the office of NORTHERN STATE AGENCY we offer you service, understanding and experience in the world of insurance. Make NORTHERN STATE AGENCY your insurance headquarters. Our office is located in Northern State Bank building. Office hours are 8:30-5, Mon.-Fri., 8:30-6, Thurs.

Note: When reading a policy for the first time, highlight important elements with a pen for future reference.

"Critterman" to talk on wolves here February 20

Dennis Olson, who appears as "Critterman/Wolfman," will make an appearance in Thief River Falls next week for a day and one-half workshop for area teachers under sponsorship of the Northwest Educational Cooperative Service Unit and Opportunities in Science Inc.

A program for the public will be presented from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday, February 20, at the Thief River Falls technical college aviation center at the Thief River Falls regional airport. There is no admission charge but seating is limited and phone reservations are requested by calling Judy at 681-8005.

Olson has trained hundreds of naturalists, teachers and students in "charismatic teaching," designed practical instructional evaluations and conducted workshops nationwide. He has performed as "Critterman/Wolfman" 1,400 times in 46 states for 1.2 million people and appears monthly on "Venture North," a public broadcasting system program syndicated in 10 states.

Olson has formal training as a biologist and geologist and has done research on beavers, hares and loons. He holds an MS degree from the University of Minnesota. His unlikely merging of science, humor and drama has established a national reputation as an innovative performer and educator.

In the Thursday evening program he will have "packs" from the audience set up territories, hunt and display other wolf behavior in what is described as "a bizarre, and yet accurate, experience in wolf biology."

"I've waited four years to bring Dennis Olson to the area and hope we will have a large and interested audience," states Kristen Woolcock, special projects coordinator for the Northwest ECSU.

When its time for mowing at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge east of Holt it's more than the grass that gets clipped. As operator Virgil Erickson demonstrates in the photos above, the hydro mower based at Agassiz has no trouble clearing a path through brush and trees. In trees with soft wood and during temperatures well below zero the mower can pulverize trees up to 12 inches in diameter. Most of the time, however, the equipment is used on willow to maintain a succession of growth for moose and deer browse, to maintain or widen fire breaks to control fires, or to reduce the amount of fuel in an area where a prescribed burn is planned to better control the fire. This winter the machine was used on about 40 acres of willow and about five miles of fire break during a three-week period. Erickson is now operating the machine at Tamarac National Wildlife refuge.

Marshall Co. receives well sealing grants

Marshall county has received two grants totaling $29,500 from the Board of Water and Soil Resources for the sealing of high priority abandoned wells. The grants are a result of comprehensive local water planning efforts.

Abandoned wells can be potentially dangerous to groundwater as they act like drainage systems into the groundwater aquifers. Landowners may be liable for any groundwater contamination resulting from abandoned wells or personal injury resulting from abandoned well accidents.

Having an abandoned well sealed by a licensed well sealer releases the landowner of any liabilities. Improperly sealing an abandoned well is a gross misdemeanor.

As a result of an inventory by the Marshall County and Marshall-Beltrami County Soil and Water Conservation districts, grant money has already been committed to several abandoned wells. Grant money is being disbursed on a 75% - 25% cost share basis with the landowner paying 25% of the well sealing costs.

There is still $10,000 left in the well sealing grant money. Cost of sealing an abandoned well varies on the depth and diameter of the casing, however, sealing costs are often less than people expect, notes John Keller of the Marshall County SWCD. Sealing the average well in Marshall county costs between $500 and $600. That translates into sealing costs for the landowner of $125-$150 under the cost share program.

Persons who have a well they would like to seal may call Keller at the Marshall county SWCD office in Warren (745-5010) or Cheryl Sistad at the Marshall-Beltrami SWCD office in Grygla (294-61[illegible]4).

Income tax aid given at library

OUR NATION'S LEADERS WERE ALWAYS LED BY GOD'S GUIDANCE

The leaders of our nation have always had to face many seemingly insurmountable problems, both at home and abroad; so many, in fact, that we wonder why they ever wanted the job. Moreover, no matter what solutions they proposed, they always received a mixture of praise and criticism at best. However, since they knew in advance to expect this, it is all the more to their credit that they were willing to take on the often thankless assignment. They differed in their philosophies and in many other ways, but they all had one thing in common: they prayed for God's guidance to help them make the right decisions, knowing that their actions would affect our nation's destiny for years to come. At our House of Worship, concerned with only the destiny of our own families, we would nonetheless do well to follow their example.

Let us have faith and let us dare to do our duty as we understand it. — Abraham Lincoln

Counting The Reasons Why Towns Grow

Following information was provided by the Mitchell, S.D., Chamber of Commerce:

A former Kansas State University professor, Dr. Cornelia Flora, has done extensive research on small towns. Her work has focused on why some small towns grow while others fail. When we examine her work, it becomes obvious that her findings can be applied to every community.

(1) The research revealed that in growing communities, controversy was considered normal, it was expected, and regarded as necessary for participatory government.

Just the opposite was revealed in dying towns. People avoided controversy and refused to address issues, regulations and the people who made them.

(2) People in growing towns held an objective view of politics. They did not take sides on an issue because of friendship alone, nor did they oppose someone simply because that person was an educator, a business person or a farmer.

On the other hand, dying communities had a "my side of the street versus your side" mentality. People personalized their politics—they did not separate the person from the job. They gave loyalty to people rather than issues, an attitude that prevailed right up to the end.

(3) In prosperous small towns, the emphasis in schools was on academics, rather than sports.

In dying towns, schools tried to hold people's interest by promoting loyalty to sports. However, when academic programs deteriorated, people moved their children to better schools.

(4) In growing towns there was a willingness to risk for the good of the town. We ought to be able to see the importance of this stance for schools. After all, if we don't risk we will stagnate. There is also a side feature to this characteristic; growing towns had enough success to want to risk—and they had success because they did risk.

Dying towns had neither.

(5) In the same vein as risk, growing towns had a willingness to tax themselves. They moved beyond want and action.

Dying towns accurately identified needs, but that's where everything stopped. They thought someone else should pay the bill for their gain, and weren't willing to tax themselves.

(6) Growing towns had the ability to expand. They made a place for more people—including those who were new to the community.

This was not true in dying towns. The townspeople would not share their power and authority with newcomers. Small groups held all the leadership.

(7) Growing towns also had the ability to network horizontally as well as vertically, therefore, they could learn from anyone.

(8) Growing towns were flexible. They disbursed community leadership. Many people were involved in the work and mission of the community in leadership roles. Therefore, if someone dropped out, another took his or her place.

In dying towns, leadership was often in the hands of one person. When that person died, the community stopped and died with him or her.

"....The Voices Can No Longer Be Ignored."

Former Thief River Falls resident Hal C. Kelley of Englewood, CO, has sent us a copy of a column by sports writer Bob Kravitz in the January 21 issue of the Rocky Mountain News of Denver, CO, and titled "Aim of Native Americans' protest is true."

"I am rather dismayed with attitudes I have seen expressed in your articles and editorials which seem to trivialize Native Americans' protests of degrading sports teams' nicknames and fans' actions," Kelley writes. "This is especially disappointing in light of some of the ugly incidents surrounding the recent casino issue in Thief River.....Perhaps reprinting (Kravitzs) article in The Times or Northern Watch would give your readers an opportunity to consider an alternative point of view."

The column is too lengthy to reprint verbatim, but we will try to give some of the main points. The column carried a Minneapolis dateline and began: "The issue won't die. The voices won't be silenced. First the Atlanta Braves. Now the Washington Redskins. Playing right here, in Minneapolis, home to the American Indian Movement and the largest urban concentration of Native Americans in the country. Ironic. Providential, even."

He goes on to describe an angered Clyde Bellecourt, national director of the American Indian Movement (AIM), whose leaflets had not been included in media packets at the airport or at the Hyatt hotel where the media was staying for the Super Bowl.

"We met with the Minneapolis Super Bowl Task Force and an NFL official two weeks ago," Bellecourt is quoted as saying, "and they promised us they would include our leaflets. If they didn't want it, fine, we'll hand them out ourselves. But don't tell us you're going to do it and then not do it."

Kravitz recounts Bellecourt's conversation with a contingent of the media. "If you look up the word 'redskin' in both the Webster's and Random House dictionaries, you'll find the word is defined as being offensive.

"Can you imagine if they called them the Washington Jews and the team mascot was a rabbi leading them in (the song) Havo Nagila, fans in the stands wearing yarmulkes and waving little sponge torahs?

"The word Indian isn't offensive, Brave isn't offensive, but it's the behavior that accompanies all of this that's offensive. The rubber tomahawks. The chicken-feather headdresses. People wearing warpaint and making these ridiculous war whoops with a tomahawk in one hand and a beer in the other. All these things have significant meaning to us. And the psychological impact it has, especially on our youth, is devastating."

Kravitz writes that "Bellecourt and his people are not idle provocateurs or publicity-hogging ne'er-do-wells, suddenly emerging from the woodwork to crash the NFL's party. These are people, a community, a strong and now-vocal minority that has found that in protesting the demeaning nicknames, they have found an issue that will galvanize other minority communities."

He points out that AIM has been operating jobs programs, alcohol rehabilitation programs, a recreation center, scores of programs designed to help the community for years. It has also been protesting use of Indian names for years.

Kravitz said during the World Series he was a member of the media "which either scoffed at the Indian group's temerity or dismissed it altogether. I was wrong. Very wrong.

"It is only a small gesture," he wrote, "but I vow never to use the word 'redskin' in my copy. I don't use 'nigger.' I don't write 'wop.' From now on, it's just Washington. 'Redskin' has been expunged from this vocabulary. It's just right."

A member of the Super Bowl Task Force summoned to see Bellecourt tells him the leaflets were not distributed because the NFL wouldn't allow it. They objected to the statement in the leaflet that said, "The demonstrations will protest the racist and ignorant remarks of those such as Jack Kent Cooke, owner of the Washington NFL team, who has refused to meet with Indian leaders...." Bellecourt said, "But that's the truth. I'm not changing that."

Realizing that the leaflets were going to be distributed outside the media room door anyway, the NFL placed them on a table in a corner of the room.

"The voices can no longer be ignored," Kravitz writes.

The Masons Cornerstone

A question that has been asked of Masons many times is if they are members of some kind of religious cult or secret organization.

Consider that 31 of the 56 signers of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776, were Masons. Thirteen signers of the Constitution of the United States and the man we call the "father of our country"—George Washington—were also Masons.

These men were no more members of some secret cult than the Masons of today. All Masons have taken the same vows and share the same ideals. The list of famous Masons in all walks of life goes on and on, from inventors to the military to entertainment and medicine.

No, the Masons are not a secret religious cult. Actually, location of Masonic Lodge buildings and regular times of meetings and charitable activities of the members are well known in most communities. Although Masons have a belief in the Almighty and in many cases are also involved in the workings of the community, religion and political preference have no bearing on whether or not a man is accepted as a Mason.

Masons do not discuss religion or political matters, or any other subject likely to activate personal animosities. In a Masonic temple, Masonry teaches men to be religious without advocating a particular doctrine or creed. It requires its members to be good citizens but free to choose their medium of political expression.

Masons have often been called old-fashioned because Masonry has not changed much over the years. If honor, courtesy and compassion are old-fashioned, the description is appropriate. Masons still believe that a man's word should be as good as his signature, that a friendly greeting and common courtesy are everyday practices.

Masons also believe that to help lighten the heavy load of a struggling person brings as much joy to the person helping as to the person being helped. If you really think about it, maybe certain things are better left unchanged.

If you have any questions about Masonry, please write to Northern Lodge No. 236 A.F. & A.M., P.O. Box 209, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

Women's Club Holds Hard-Time Party

"In accordance with the Lincoln Day program throughout the state, to help the Republican party to honor its founder, the local Republican women's club had a hard-time party in the Masonic hall on Thursday evening. A radio was installed so that all could listen to Governor Harold E. Stassen at nine o'clock. Members and guests came dressed in the fashion of the gay nineties. Prizes consisted of defense stamps. Those that did not come in costume were fined 25 cents which added to the treasury."

"Referring to the campaign to end the nuisance of double parking on downtown streets, Mayor H. W. Kinghorn said yesterday, 'I wish to thank the residents of the Thief River Falls community for their cooperation in halting the practice of double parking. I can see a marked improvement, and I believe that if we continue on this program the streets of our city will be much safer to drive on, and many serious accidents may be avoided. Let's make Thief River Falls the safest town in the state."

Lions Discuss Impact of War

"In an interesting round-table discussion in which representatives of a half-dozen lines of business participated at the luncheon meeting of the Lions club Wednesday noon in the Palm Garden cafe, the fact was clearly brought out that the nation's war effort has already had a notably hampering effect on many business activities prevailing in normal times."

From the Editorial Page

"Maybe there is something to that old gag about the first million being the hardest to get. At any rate, after several years of slow climbing for its first million, the local creamery stepped right out and ran its volume up to a million and a quarter this past year: a big gain in any man's language. The figures are in terms of pounds of butter fat, and butterfat, these days, has value. So once again we salute the institution that represents the industry that is the foundation of our economic life in this community. A round of cheers to the creamery."

And Another One...

"Next week is the last week in February which means that March is right around the corner. It's hard to believe that another Spring is actually approaching. If we don't get a little rough weather between now and then, we will not appreciate the Summer weather when it does arrive."

Several special awards were presented at the banquet, including a new Gerald Hamre Memorial award to the herd with the cow having the highest life-time record. Daleford Holsteins, operated by the James R. Muzzy family, received that award for a cow, named "Babe" which was born March 13, 1980, and in eight lactations has produced 191,730 pounds of milk and 8,193 pounds of butterfat. She was one of six cows in the Pennington DHIA to produce more than 1,000 pounds of butterfat in the 305-day lactation completed in 1991 with 1,075 pounds of butterfat.

High herd average award was received by Mark and Audrey Hanson of Thief River Falls who also had the most improved herd over a three-year period. The herd averaged 24,312 pounds of milk, 825 pounds of butterfat and 720 pounds of protein. As most improved herd the Hanson Holsteins showed an increase in average production of 1,238 pounds of milk and 38 pounds of both butterfat and protein over a three-year period.

Honors for individual cows went to Mylo Carlson of Angus who had both the top producer overall and the highest producing two-year-old.

Carlson's top cow completed a 305-day lactation in 1991 as a four-year-old with a record of 29,975 pounds of milk, 1,123 pounds of butterfat and 852 pounds of protein. In her first lactation, Carlson's top two-year-old had a record of 24,845 pounds of milk, 876 pounds of butterfat and 715 pounds of protein.

Three herds were in their first year of testing with the Pennington DHIA in 1991. They included the Ken Krohn Guernsey herd, Jake Schaffhauser of Newfolden and Bob Schindler of Thief River Falls. The James Muzzy herd has been on test the longest with the association at 44 years.

Only three herds in the association had average production in excess of 700 pounds of butterfat—the Hanson herd at 825, Mylo Carlson at 804 and Lyle Swanson of Thief River Falls at 777. Four herds had average production of more than 20,000 pounds of milk—Hanson at 24,312, Carlson at 23,147, Swanson at 21,698 and Walter Bros. Farm at 20,099. The Walter herd was just under the 700 pound average in butterfat with 694 and the only other herd in the association with an average over 650 pounds of butterfat.

The Carlson herd had three of the six cows with more than 1,000 pounds of butterfat, the Hanson herd had one, the Lyle Swanson herd had one and the Muzzy herd had one.

In addition to the top cow in the association, the Carlson herd had the second place cow with 29,751 pounds of milk, 1,068 pounds of butterfat and 876 pounds of protein and the third place cow with 28,156 pounds of milk, 1,059 pounds of butterfat and 806 pounds of protein.

Lyle Swanson's top producer had 26,906 pounds of milk, 1,028 pounds of butterfat and 806 pounds of protein. Muzzy's cow was listed previously and the Hanson cow with production of over 1,000 pounds of butterfat had a record of 26,398 pounds of milk, 1,041 pounds of butterfat and 779 pounds of protein.

All cows in the Pennington association averaged 17,596 pounds of milk—320 pounds above the state DHIA average of 17,276. The local association trailed in butterfat average 623 to 642 but led in protein at 548 to 546.

Average value of product in the Pennington association was $1,975 compared to $2,012 statewide. Feed cost was higher at $833 to $799 in the local association and income over feed cost was lower at $1,142 to $1,212.

World War II memories recalled by residents

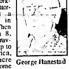
by Donna Myhrer
Times Community Editor

February 1942: ...Rommel takes Benghazi in North Africa and drives Allied Forces south of Gazala; Allied attacks on Marshall and Wake Islands; Japanese attacks on Darwin, Australia, Timor and Java.

Shortly after George Hanestad of Thief River Falls enlisted in the Army infantry on February 20, 1941, he found himself skiing in Newfoundland. Like many soldiers from northern Minnesota, he had spent several weeks in basic training at Ft. Snelling, where he was trained in the use of artillery and rifles.

Then skiing? As the platoon practiced on the slopes, they worried a little at times. "I didn't know where they were going to send us. Maybe Russia or somewhere like that. All we did was ski the whole time we were there, but we never made any use of it."

After this training was completed, George returned to the states and was stationed at Ft. Benning, GA, for a time. He had joined the service at age 21, after working as a buttermaker at a creamery in Badger. Then on March 8, 1945, he traveled by ship to North Africa, where there was still some fighting going on. The troops lived in tents and ate K rations and were "on call all the time" there for a few weeks before going to northern France soon after the Battle of the Bulge. They then marched through France and into Germany. It was summer and, although the weather was nice, there was still a lot of scattered fighting. "The German troops didn't just pack up and go home when they saw us coming."



George Hanestad

The civilians George saw were still very frightened. There was fighting "all around you, wherever you were." As they marched along, the troops saw a lot of destruction, bombed out buildings, trucks and military equipment from both sides. As the German army retreated, Allied troops followed them, shooting at their tanks and small trucks and a lot of ground troops. German planes flew over, according to George, but "never dropped any bombs on us, only on the equipment."

The soldiers slept on the ground or in tents, if they had time to put them up. Sometimes they were able to find bombed-out buildings and bunked in them. "We dug a lot of fox holes." These were actually trenches three to four feet deep with room for four or five people. "You could get shot at any time."

The troops moved very slowly, only about two miles a day. When not marching, they played cards like pinochle and whist and did a lot of talking. George says he met a lot of other guys from Minnesota. He adds that he was only paid $21 to $30 a month, "but I saved money because there was nothing to spend it on." Letters from home were always welcome, but much of the correspondence was censored and "all cut up." George states "When the war was over, then you were having fun no matter what you were doing."

Once the war was over and Germany had surrendered, there were so many troops to be transported back to the United States, that the operation took quite a long time. George spent some time in Paris and London before coming home.

He returned to the United States in a "liberty ship," a supply ship, which made a very rough passage. "I was seasick for five or six days.

Rickshaws were a common mode of transportation for sailors in the late 1930's in Hong Kong. Rufus Dison of Thief River Falls is shown here seated in the left rickshaw.

In acknowledgement of the sacrifices and triumphs of World War II, which took place 50 years ago, The Times will review events of the war in retrospect with a monthly series of articles from January 1992 through August 1995. These articles will feature interviews with local residents about their recollections of the war and pictures from that period.

Speaking Of . . .

. . . He's Not Such a Bad Guy, After All

Remember when I jumped on the bandwagon along with everyone else last year and had some rather snippy things to say about Dan Quayle? Well, I think I'm changing my mind about him.

I've been watching him lately, and I think he must be a pretty good-natured fellow. You must admit, he certainly looks affable enough, doesn't he?

The poor guy has been trekking all over the country, stumping for the President, and I haven't seen him with a frown on his face once. You can bet that there are some pretty tough questions being thrown in his direction, too, but he seems to be able to take them all in stride, and just keep smiling.

Now take the Vice President's recent visit to North Dakota. I'm sure there are quite a few disgruntled citizens in that state, whether Democrat or Republican, after the President's state of the union speech. You know what I mean, don't you? Remember the part about cutting back on spending by government agencies, when the President spoke about imprudent things the government is doing with our money and the "Lawrence Welk Museum" in Strasburg, North Dakota, in the same breath? Ouch! Right then I knew that he wasn't going to do so well in North Dakota this year.

Anyway, I guess the President didn't have time, or whatever, when it came to stumping around North Dakota this year, so he sent the Vice President. And I, for one, think Mr. Quayle did a heck of a job! Yes, I do!

As a matter of fact, I am really getting to like the little guy. It takes a lot of nerve to venture into hazardous territory like North Dakota, especially in the winter. He did it, and he did it with grace and good manners...even though he must have been starving!

Yes, we all saw him buying a doughnut at a North Dakota supermarket shortly after he got off the plane. He said he didn't get any breakfast on the plane!

Well, who would have thought that the Vice President would have to fly in a second class airplane that doesn't even serve breakfast to stump around the country on behalf of the President. Frankly, I don't think much of the President for handing off some old airplane on the Vice President when Mr. Bush gets to do his travelling in a fancy plane like Air Force One.

Anyway, the Vice President didn't get any breakfast on the plane, so he got himself a doughnut, which is, after all, not a very good breakfast for a man on the go like the Vice President. I began to worry about his health.

Then I read what they served for lunch at that gathering they had. Did you read it, too? They had summer sausage and cheese sandwiches, potato chips, an apple, ice cream and milk! This does not sound like a very good lunch for a man on the go like the Vice President, especially since he only had a doughnut for breakfast!

I was really worried after I read about that lunch. A person just can't keep going on a doughnut, sandwich and chips, not to mention all of the bad carbohydrates and fat in those things. I don't think the Vice President is eating properly at all. He should have good things to eat, nourishing things filled with vitamins and minerals, and not just a bunch of junk food.

This little guy has to take care of himself. It has been made obvious to us that he is to stay on the President's ticket this year, and he will be Vice President for four more years if President Bush wins the election. We need that man in good health! By golly, if he is "only a heartbeat away from the presidency," we can't have him getting run down.

No, we certainly can't afford to have the man who might be taking over the presidency at any time get sickly from poor eating. I'm just hoping somebody sees that he takes his vitamins every day, that's all I'm hoping, cuz I kind of like that little guy!

Thief River Falls took an early lead in the division with a 44-point first meet total in November, edging Bemidji with 41 points, and Bagley and Frazee-Vergas with 38 points each.

The local team widened the gap substantially in December with a meet total of 56 points to only 23 for Bagley and 20 for Bemidji. Totals at the end of the second meet had Thief River Falls with 100 points and Bagley and Bemidji tied for second with 61 points each.

At the January meet Thief River Falls tallied 35 points, Bemidji 26 and Bagley 22 as Coach Wallberg's team increased its total to 137 points and its margin to 50 points over the closest rival, Bemidji, with 87 points.

In the fourth meet in early February Thief River Falls again won with 42 points but Bagley took over second place with 29 points and a 112 total while Bemidji scored 24 points and fell to third.

In the final meet Thief River Falls scored 40 points, Frazee-Vergas finished second with 24 and Bemidji out-scored Bagley 22 to 20 to regain second place for the season at 133 to 132.

Motorists pay less for gasoline

Minnesota motorists are paying about 10 cents less for self-serve unleaded gasoline than they did a month ago during the holiday season.

Currently the average price of self-serve unleaded gas is $1.038. The sharp drops in wholesale gasoline have now reversed and moved higher. However, retail prices continue to fall due to the built up pressure from prior months. Prices are expected to bottom within the next few weeks.

Recent cuts in OPEC crude production levels have helped to reverse the plunge in crude prices ahead of their February 12 meeting, according to AAA.

Impressions . . .

--Today was BATH day at our house!!! Now, most of us in our family bathe at least once a day, but, one member of our family feels like she has been condemned when BATH day is announced.

Our dog is the one we so cruelly condemn to a bath every so often. Our dog is the one who suffers every time we demand a little bit of cleanliness from her.

Our dog is not the cute tiny sort of dog which can easily be bathed in a small tub. Our dog is of the size that is determined to be too big for some "Pay for your dog to get a bath facilities." Our dog is a cross between a chocolate labrador and a springer spaniel. She has the size of both and the long hair of the spaniel. She cannot be bathed delicately.

BATH day in the summer is somewhat easier than during the winter. In the summer our dog's bath can be outdoors. With a few buckets of prepared water and a bit of doggy shampoo our dog is given her outside summer baths. If house water conditions are just right, a hose connected from a faucet in the house can even supply a constant supply of warmish clean water for this outside bath.

Following the outside bath, our dog is quickly dried with a few thousand towels and then brought to some corner of the house to finish the drying process without the temptation of a mudhole in which to roll.

Outside baths are made somewhat manageable by the fact that two people can usually somewhat easily bathe her because we are aided by the ability to tie her up as she is being bathed. A dog in one spot in the yard is so much easier to bathe than one trying to escape by running through every humanly inaccessible spot in the yard.

Inside baths are a different story. They are not easy. With our dog that looks like a bear with long hair, these baths are difficult. The whole family usually becomes involved in some way.

The hardest part of an inside bath is deciding that no, we cannot wait for a warm spring day to bathe her out of doors. Yes, we do have to give her a bath inside if we expect to make her smell less doggy. After the decision has been made all that needs doing is the bath.

Our dog is verbal. By that I mean she KNOWS when we are talking about her and she REALLY knows when we are discussing a BATH. When the special hose for the tub, and the towels, and doggy shampoo, and the rubber gloves I wear start to appear, our dog's true courage appears. She knows that she is condemned to be bathed. She does not run and hide. Instead she tries to become invisible. By staying as close to me as she possibly can, she thinks that either I will protect her from this condemnation, or we will only see me, not her, when bath time actually arrives.

As her latest BATH day was announced, she had all of the expected reactions. So, when she proceeded to climb into the bath tub on her own accord—with no coaxing—I was flabbergasted!! Bath time was a breeze. She stood and took her condemnation as bravely as any wet dog can look. She never tried to escape the tub. As usually we need two of us to bathe her—one to hold her in the tub and the other to do the actual bathing—what a privilege it was to be able to bathe her with two people scrubbing.

Now, after the bath comes the drying. That's never easy. This bath was no exception. As some towels were sopping up the water on her, others were sopping up the water she dripped on the floor. After the drying comes the combing of her long hair. And after that comes the scrubbing of the tub. And finally, after the dog and tub are clean, we bathers finally get a chance to feel like humans again as we bathe the wet-dog smell off us!

Once again, though, we have a clean dog. To show us her appreciation she will probably decide to feel sick for a few days, but once she is on the mend again we will appreciate the clean smelling dog she is. We will also remember her courage in spite of her fear and hope that maybe a bit of that courage will rub off on us.

Dear Readers,

Miscarriage, stillbirth, or newborn death is many times treated too lightly by society. We must remember that a mother has already begun to love the precious life she carries inside. In the days ahead, the support and understanding of friends and family will be deeply needed. Do not expect young parents to immediately dismiss their tragedy. We must appreciate the depth of their emotions.

Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home
Larry Belmont

Northern area of Minn. free of pseudorabies

"Congratulations, Northern Minnesota. You have just made a great stride in the eradication of the livestock disease pseudorabies," says Dr. Thomas Hagerty of the Minnesota Board of Animal Health. He has just received notification from the National Pseudorabies Control Board (NPCB) and the United States Department of Agriculture that the northern zone of Minnesota has been declared a Stage III area in the National Pseudorabies Eradication Program.

The NPCB is a group of livestock industry officials which has been assigned the responsibility of monitoring the progress of each state through the five-stage National Pseudorabies Eradication program. The board evaluates the level of pseudorabies control in each state and assigns the appropriate status to the states based on established criteria.

The board has determined that Minnesota's northern zone qualifies for the Stage III status. The Southern zone remains at its present Stage II status. The Northern zone is composed of all counties north of and including Big Stone, Chippewa, Kandiyohi, Meeker, Wright, Hennepin, Ramsey and Washington.

Stage III is the mandatory herd cleanup stage of the program. To qualify for this stage, a state or area must have less than one per cent PRV infected herd prevalence, have all infected herds on a cleanup plan and have an acceptable surveillance program in place. The Northern zone easily met all of these requirements. There are 5,820 swine herds in the Northern zone and currently only 13 of them are known to be pseudorabies infected. Each of these infected herds is on a herd cleanup plan.

In the Northern zone, the board plans to use slaughter plant surveillance as a means of disclosure of any further PRV infection. It also plans to continue the herd monitoring program in the following manner: Any Northern zone swine herd that has a herd monitoring number may no longer be required to test its herd annually. Any Northern zone herds that do not have a monitored herd number must have their herd tested. Feeder pig markets will not accept feeder pigs unless the seller can show a herd monitoring card. Southern zone herds will continue annual herd monitoring tests until their zone or county reaches Stage III status.

The Board of Animal Health is very pleased with the progress of pseudorabies eradication in both the Northern and Southern zones. Five hundred and fifty-three PRV infected herds have been released from quarantine during the last 28 months. "That's quite an accomplishment; keep up the good work," says Dr. Hagerty.

Terry Konickson, a junior at Pershing high school in Plummer, shows the desk he built in the school shop program. It was on display with other shop items during the school's annual science fair which was open to the public Thursday evening.

Tricle Willatt won first place in the fifth grade competition during the annual science fair last Thursday at the Plummer school. Her project studied how smoking and exercise affect the heart. She is the daughter of Tom and Rebecca Willett of Plummer. Second place in the fifth grade competition went to Lucas LaCourelere and third place resulted in a tie between Mark Lorenson and a combined entry by J. R. Fortmen and Steve McMullan. Honorable mention went to Diana Hotsted. In the sixth grade Laurel Hegge earned first place with Kyle Latebvre and Ross Arlt second, John Herndon and Justin Konickson third and Amy Rux honorable mention.

"Don't crowd the plow"

Each winter there are numerous collisions involving snowplows on Minnesota's highways; an average of over 40 per season in recent years. Similar accidents occur on county and township roads and city streets. These accidents result in property damage, personal injury and occasionally death.

Minnesota Department of Transportation (Mn/DOT) accident studies reveal that most of these accidents occur as drivers are attempting to pass a snowplow, or are following too closely. Most occur during daylight hours, most are on four-lane divided highways, and many occur in the left lane.

Drivers will frequently encounter snow removal equipment during winter months. A blue flashing light is the clue that a plow is ahead of you.

Mn/DOT suggests these responses when approaching snow removal equipment:

Reduce speed—Snowplows travel at slow speeds. On two-lane roads, operators will occasionally pull over to enable motorists to pass.

Pass with caution—A standard snowplow has a 12-foot plow, plus a nine-foot wing. On multi-lane roads the wing may be on the left side of the plow when clearing the left lane.

Keep a safe distance—Tailgating is suicide! In dry snow conditions, plows can kick up a tremendous snow cloud. Following too closely in the snow cloud can disorient you, hide you from other drivers and block your vision of the plow.

Snowplow accidents cause injury and damage, and usually mean that a badly needed plow is laid up for repairs. These accidents can be avoided. "Give 'em a Brake—don't crowd the Plow!" states Steven E. Baker, Northwest District Engineer, Minnesota Department of Transportation.

Area students on UND fall dean's list

Listed from the area are Kay Lynn Kainz, Goodridge; Debra Fox, Plummer; Amy Boutain, Karla Moran, Wayde Schultz and Daniel Wetenkamp, Red Lake Falls; Tammy Borowicz, Strandquist; and Spencer Manke, Thief River Falls.

Karla Moran and Jonathan Weiss of Red Lake Falls were named to the President's Roll of Honor with grade point averages of 3.8 or higher. Dean's list placement requires being in the top 15 per cent of the enrollment in one of the university's undergraduate degree-granting colleges or schools.

Jenny Welter, a senior at Pershing high school in Plummer, showed some of her shop projects at the school gym during the annual science fair and shop exhibit Thursday. Her painted boy and girl on swings and cedar chest with aromatic cedar lining attracted considerable interest from people viewing the exhibit.

Jay Malwitz, a senior at Pershing high school in Plummer, had several items on display at the shop exhibit during the annual school science fair. His work involved heavy use of glass and mirrored backs in the display cases.

Branden Delaga received first place in the junior high school division of the Plummer school science fair Thursday in the Plummer school gymnasium. He is the son of Dick and Karen Delage of Brooke and his entry involved the study of how music affects concentration. There were 94 entries in the science fair this year and coordinator Don Fox will select a number of entries to compete March 14 at the Northern Regional Science Fair at Bemidji State university.

Income tax booklets get new design

Two million 1991 Minnesota individual income tax forms and instruction booklets, complete with a new design, have begun their journey to taxpayers' homes.

With the assistance of taxpayer and practitioner focus groups throughout the state, the Minnesota Department of Revenue redesigned its tax instruction booklets and forms to make them easier to read and complete, while providing consistency to their look. The design, which was handled in-house, is part of an effort to help taxpayers comply with tax laws by making it easier for them to do so.

"Giving the department a consistent visual appearance eliminates confusion with other state agencies and the Internal Revenue Service," Commissioner Dorothy McClung said. "This new design standard is part of our overall program to improve communications to the public and will be incorporated into all of our materials."

The department plans to convert all department communications to the new design during 1992.

World War II Memories

The ship kept being carried backwards. Mercy me, I thought we lost 500 miles one day."

After he returned home, he started a creamery at Badger, later owned a cafe there and, in 1951, moved to Thief River Falls, where he was manager of Peterson-Biddick until his retirement.

In early 1942, Rufus Olson of Thief River Falls was serving as postmaster for the 10th Naval District in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Mail was shipped through his office from Miami to South America and flown on patrol bombers, accompanied by flying mail clerks, as the planes also patrolled for German submarines. The naval forces in that area were constantly guarding against the submarines to protect, not only the Panama Canal, but also aluminum shipments.

Rufus Olson

Rufus was newly married, following a whirlwind courtship which took place under some rather unusual circumstances. Early in December, 1941, Rufus was given a 30-day leave from his duty in Puerto Rico to visit his home in Minnesota. He caught a ride on the U.S. Turquoise, on which he had earlier served, as it headed for South Carolina for repairs. He then took the train to Philadelphia. While waiting to change trains on Sunday morning, the loud speaker announced that Pearl Harbor had been attacked and war had been declared. Rufus immediately checked with the nearest Naval facility about whether he should return to Puerto Rico. He was told, however, that there were no orders about that as yet, so he could continue his leave. He married his wife, Violet, on Christmas Eve and returned to Puerto Rico on December 26.

Rufus Olson, a 1935 graduate of St. Hilaire high school, enlisted in the Navy shortly after high school in 1936. He was sent to the Great Lakes Naval Training facility in Illinois for a training period of three to four months and then shipped out on the U.S. Argonne as an apprentice seaman. Once on board ship the new sailors were divided into two categories: the deck force (or right arm ratings) which was trained in things like maneuvering the ship; and the black gang (or left arm ratings) which learned the mechanical and electrical aspects of the ship.

Olson was in the deck force group and received training as a quartermaster (in the Navy this means an assistant navigator). He recalls that, during the war, the ships moved in varying zigzag patterns all the time to avoid submarines.

The Argonne was a flag ship (or command ship) for the base command at San Pedro, CA. From 1936 to 1940 he was a member of its crew, sailing to many ports in the Pacific, such as Borneo and Singapore. During one war games exercise near Hawaii, Olson began feeling ill and, at first, thought he might be sea sick. But after a couple of days, he went to sick bay and, after a blood test, learned that he had an appendicitis. When his appendix ruptured, the medical staff was forced to operate at sea. The war games exercise meant that no lights were available, so the operation took place with the use of flashlights. If that wasn't enough, the sea was very rough, so the destroyers involved in the exercise circled the ship to calm the waves. Even so, Rufus nearly died when he developed a high fever and had to be operated on a second time. After the second surgery, he couldn't eat, and the admiral, who was on the ship, sent food from his own table to tempt Rufus' appetite.

With 30 months left on his first enlistment, he transferred to the Asiatic fleet at Manila and served until 1940 on the U.S. Canopus, a submarine tender, which provided repairs and supplies for six submarines. He then reenlisted and spent some time delivering four-stack destroyers to the British in Canada, as a part of the lend-lease program, in which the United States helped Britain in its war with Germany. In return, the United States got bases in Iceland and Newfoundland (where George Hanestad later learned to ski).

Rufus was then scheduled to serve on the U.S. Barratt on an Antarctic expedition, but this was cancelled because of the approaching war. In 1940 he was on the U.S. Turquoise, a luxury yacht which had been converted for Naval duty. This ship was on patrol duty at San Juan, Puerto Rico. It participated in the original survey for the Roosevelt-Rhodes Navy base, presently the largest one in land size.

After he had served as postmaster at the San Juan base for two years, he was transferred to the U.S. Caperton, a new destroyer, when the post office jobs were filled by civilians, so that naval personnel could be sent to ships. The Caperton sailed through the Panama Canal to San Diego, where Rufus suffered from rheumatic fever and was hospitalized.

He was later assigned to the U.S. Wileman, a destroyer escort operating from Hawaii to the Far East. At one point, it assisted in collecting about 1,000 ships in the lagoons of the Eniwetok atoll, getting ready to attack the Japanese. He also took part in the invasion of the Marianas. After the ship moved into the harbor, "with binoculars, you could see the Japanese gunners getting ready to fire." While at Eniwetok, he heard the news that Japan had surrendered. "There was joy all over!"

Almost immediately, however, Rufus received a letter from his wife telling him that his brother, who had been farming near St. Hilaire, had died. Rufus got permission to return then to the United States on the U.S. President Taft, since he had the most points of anyone on the ship. He arrived in San Francisco in 14 days. He returned to Minnesota from San Francisco on a converted cattle car with bunks and a steam engine.

After returning home, he spent 30 years farming east of Thief River Falls, moving into town in 1977. He has also worked at the post office for ten years.

First Local Casualty of World War II

Local Airman Loses Life in Bomber Crash

Sgt. Kenneth W. Holmstrom is Killed Near Tacoma Last Friday

FUNERAL SERVICES SATURDAY

Was First Local Service Man to Lose Life During Present War

"The Thief River Falls community was saddened last Friday (Feb. 20, 1942) by the news that Sergeant Kenneth W. Holmstrom, radio technician and photographer affiliated with the 76th Bomber Squadron at McChord Field near Tacoma, Washington, was killed in the crash of an air corps bomber on the nearby Fort Lewis military reservation. He was the first local service man to lose his life in World War II.

"Holmstrom, 26 years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Holmstrom of this city, had enlisted in the air corps in Minneapolis last March, and had first been assigned to duty at Fort Douglas near Salt Lake City before going to Boise, Idaho, where he remained until being transferred a few weeks ago to McChord Field. Only last week had his parents received a letter from him, stating that he had been promoted in rank from corporal to sergeant.

"Funeral rites will be conducted Saturday afternoon at the Community church, Rev. S. S. Olafsson officiating.

"Born at Harvey, N.D., November 8, 1915, he came to Thief River Falls with his parents in 1919 and made his home here until joining the air corps. He was graduated from Lincoln high school in 1935, and up to the time he left the city last spring he was employed as an architectural draftsman. Surviving his death, in addition to his parents, is a brother, Edward Jr.

"Colonel Armin F. Herold, commander in charge of McChord Field, said the cause of the crash was unknown. Along with Sergeant Holmstrom, Corporal Forest W. Barlow of Topeka, Kansas, was killed, while three others were injured, including Second Lieutenants Charles R. Solberg of Fargo and Vincent D. Duffy of Butler, Pennsylvania, and Corporal Arnold R. Bell, Fort Dodge, Iowa."

The name of the local American Legion Post (now known as the Eklund-Holmstrom Post) was later changed to include Sgt. Holmstrom's name.

INSURANCE Update

by Carol Nelson

If a policyholder's needs could all be specifically met by a printed standard insurance policy-without any additions or deletions-insurance could be bought from a vending machine. In reality, however, we all have individual insurance needs which must be met by tailored policies. In this respect your insurance agent can be extremely helpful by applying his or her experience in making endorsements to the standard policy. The better your agent understands your family or business circumstances, the better he or she can suggest policy endorsements that give you the protection you require.

Pioneers meet Vermilion in state tournament opener

Northland and Vermilion, after splitting a pair of games during the regular season, will meet for the third time this year Thursday at 3 p.m. in the opening round quarterfinals of the 1992 Minnesota Community College Conference men's state basketball tournament.

The three-day, eight team event will be played at Normandale Community College in Bloomington.

Upper Bracket Thursday quarterfinals include Mesabi vs. Fergus Falls at 1 p.m. and Mankato Bethany vs. Anoka-Ramsey at 6:30. The Northland vs. Vermilion game will be part of the Lower Bracket set-up that also includes Minneapolis vs. Worthington at 8:30 p.m.

Friday schedule will include afternoon consolation semifinals at 1 and 3 p.m., followed evening championship semifinals at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Saturday's finals begin with the consolation championship game at 12-noon, followed by the third place game at 2 p.m. and the title game at 4.

It'll be the 15th state tournament appearance for the Pioneers as the Northwest Division champion or runner-up in the past 19 years. Northland and Fergus Falls wound up in a 7-3 first place division tie this season, but a coin flip gave the Pioneers the No. 1 Northwest Division state tournament seed and sent Fergus Falls in as No. 2 – meaning the Spartans drew Northeast Division champion Mesabi as a first round foe, and the Pioneers wound up with Northeast runner-up Vermilion.

Northland beat Vermilion 102-92 in the first round of the Northern Conference Invitational Dec. 19-21 at International Falls, but the Ironmen claimed a regularly-scheduled Jan. 25 meeting in Ely by a 97-94 margin.

Final MCCC state coaches poll was led by Bethany (20-2), followed by Minneapolis (18-4), Worthington (16-6) and Fergus Falls (14-8), with Northland (13-9) and the University of Minnesota-Crookston (16-6) sharing the No. 5 spot.

"Again, with three ranked teams, that shows just how strong the Northwest Division is," pointed out Chet Engelman, who is completed his 22nd year as Northland head coach. Ironically, the Pioneers were in the Trojans' position a year ago at this time – ranked in the MCCC top five, but shut out of post-season play.

Northland extended its 1991-92 campaign with a strong late-season Northwest Division run that included wins over Brainerd 110-101, Fergus Falls 112-93 and UMC 95-92.

"The kids played hard when they had to play hard," explained Engelman. "We're real happy with their effort. I think they learned their lesson in those three games – if they play hard we can play with anybody."

Bethany drew 20 votes in the latest coaches poll and Minneapolis had 16, while Worthington picked up 11, Fergus Falls 5 and Northland, along with UMC, 4.

"Looking at the voting, Bethany and Minneapolis should be a half-step ahead of the rest of us," acknowledged Engelman. "But we're still going to show up."

Northland's starting line-up will feature three guards – Larone Greer, a 6-0 sophomore from Cleveland Heights, Ohio; Joe Comstock, a 5-10 freshman from Howard Lake; and John Clark, a 6-3 sophomore from Waubun – plus inside players Travis Brown, a 6-6 sophomore from Cleveland Heights; and William Mitchell, a 6-5 sophomore who now calls Thief River Falls his home.

Greer was just named MCCC Player of the Week for his efforts in the Pioneers' sweep of Brainerd, Fergus Falls and UMC when he produced 70 points, 21 rebounds, 26 assists and 15 steals while shooting 55 percent from the field ant 69 percent at the free throw line.

Engelman will also use his bench extensively, starting with Kelly Dahl, a 6-4 sophomore from Newfolden; Paul Lofberg, a 6-3 sophomore from Thief River Falls; Nate Carlin, a 6-3 freshman from East Grand Forks; and Fred Sculfield, a 5-10 freshman from Chicago.

The roster also includes Donald Hardaway and Chip Carter, a pair of 5-9 freshmen from Chicago; Kurt Leader, a 6-0 freshman from Thief River Falls; and Chad Hassel, a 5-7 freshman from Gary.

Al Avelsgard is in his second year as Engelman's assistant coach.

Section 8 hockey moves into Sports Arena

Pairings are in place for both sets of Section 8 high school hockey tournament semifinals scheduled to be played later this week at the Thief River Falls Sports Arena.

Tier II doubleheader Friday will find Alexandria playing Lake of the Woods at 6:30 p.m. and Crookston meeting Red Lake Falls at 9.

Next night the Tier I twinbill will feature Moorhead vs. Fergus Falls at 6:30 p.m., while two-time defending champion Roseau takes on Bemidji at 9.

State tournament-qualifying Section 8 finals will be played next week at the same site – Tier II Thursday, March 5; Tier I Friday, March 6. Championship games have 7:30 p.m. starting times.

Tier I quarterfinals were played Friday when No. 1-seeded Moorhead eliminated No. 8 Warroad 7-2, No. 2-seeded Roseau stopped No. 7 Thief River Falls 4-2, No. 3-seeded Bemidji sidelined No. 6 East Grand Forks 6-3 and No. 5-seeded Fergus Falls knocked off No. 4 Brainerd 4-2. Brainerd, last year's Section 8 runner-up, was the only home ice quarterfinal loser.

Tier II tournament, designed for teams seeded 9-through-18 at last week's Section 8 coaches meeting, played its quarterfinals Saturday when No. 9-seeded Alexandria handled No. 17 Bagley 10-2, No. 10-seeded Crookston defeated No. 15 Hallock 7-2, No. 11-seeded Red Lake Falls beat No. 14 Detroit Lakes 6-2 and No. 12-seeded Lake of the Woods shut out No. 13 Wadena-Deer Creek 7-0.

Tier II started with a pair of first round games as Bagley got by No. 16-seeded Crosby-Ironton-Aitkin-Pequot Lakes 3-2 Thursday and Hallock blanked No. 18 Indus 3-0 Friday in a game that was postponed one night because of the weather.

There will be 300 general admission tickets on sale on a first-come, first-serve basis from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday in the Lincoln High School office of Activities Director Lee Alger. Tickets will be available for all four sessions schedule for the Sports Arena, but ticket buyers will be limited to four tickets per session.

There will also be 750 tickets on sale at the arena ticket window each night of the tournament, with doors opening one hour before game time.

TRF seniors advance from Section 8AA...

Davis, Kaushagen to wrestle at state

A championship effort by Joel Davis and a runner-up showing by Matt Kaushagen in Section 8AA competition over the weekend in Fergus Falls has qualified the two Thief River Falls seniors for the 1992 Minnesota Class AA state high school wrestling tournament, scheduled to be held March 5-7 at the St. Paul Civic Center.

Davis kept his unblemished record intact, going to 32-0 for the year, as he collected three pins and a decision en route to the 125-pound title. He stopped 25-0 Jacob Jensen of Brainerd in the second period of their championship match.

Kaushagen had two pins and a decision to his credit before losing to Todd Faber of Rocori 8-3 in the finals at 160.

Top two finishers in each weight class qualified for the state tournament field.

Kaushagen will be making his second straight state meet trip. Davis, who figured to have a state shot last year before he stumbled at the regional level, will make his first state meet appearance in wrestling, but he has already competed at the state level in cross country and track.

"Joel looked tough," said Thief River Falls coach John Anderson. "He wasn't going to make a mistake this time."

"Matt wrestled three good matches, but he got a little frustrated in the final and got away from his game plan," noted Anderson.

Other Thief River Falls places in the Section 8AA meet included a fourth for freshman John Davis at 145, a fifth for junior Lee Nieland at 152, a seventh for senior Jason Kain at 189 and an eighth for sophomore Rob Bakken at 130.

"We wrestled about as well as we could," said Anderson. "There's always a few matches you hope to win that you end up losing, but you never win them all. I was happy with our performance overall.

Top four point-producing teams in the individual portion of the event qualified for the Section 8AA team tournament, scheduled to be held Saturday at Little Falls – last week's top scoring team. The Prowlers were ninth in the 12-team field.

Team Totals

Little Falls 190, Rocori 193, St. Cloud Tech 175, Bemidji 138, Alexandria 112.5, Brainerd 107.5, Sauk Rapids 106, St. Cloud Apollo 95, Thief River Falls 75, Moorhead 71, Fergus Falls 66.5, Detroit Lakes 60.

Marshall County Central forward Tim Olson took the ball to the basket between Thief River Falls defenders during Monday's high school basketball game played at Northland Community College. Nathan Egge (50) and Tom Upham (30) of the Prowlers couldn't stop Olson on this play. The Nordics won 48-44.

Prowlers lose to Roseau 4-2

There was nothing wrong with the effort, but the results failed to change a pair of frustrating streaks for Thief River Falls Friday when the Prowlers lost a 4-2 decision to host Roseau in the first round 1992 Section 8 Tier I high school hockey tournament quarterfinals.

The win advances the No. 2-seeded 14-7-2 Rams into the tournament semifinals Saturday at the Thief River Palls Sports Arena against No. 3-seeded Bemidji, a 6-3 quarterfinal winner over East Grand Porks. The loss finished a 10-10-3 season for the No. 7-seeded Prowlers.

It also extended Thief River Falls' season-ending winless streak to eight games, and kept the Prowlers from picking up their first win over the Rams in eight years.

In fact, it was a 4-1 loss at Roseau back on Jan. 25 that began an 0-6-2 late-season skid for the Prowlers, who had started the 1991-92 season in promising 10-4-1 fashion – including a 3-3 overtime tie with the Rams in early January.

Thief River Palls, meeting Roseau in post-season play for the first time since a 1-0 championship game loss to the Rams back in 1983, came out hard and grobbed a 1-0 lead when recently-converted forward Nathan Knutson made his first start on defense a memorable one by scoring on an ice-hugging slap shot from the point at 11:23 of the first period.

But that was the only goal the Prowlers would score against Roseau goalie Ross Boldt, their former teammate in Thief River Falls youth hockey. Boldt finished game with 32 saves as Thief River Falls continued its late-season inability to put the puck in the net.

Roseau weathered the early Thief River Palls storm and picked up a tying goal with just 68 seconds left in the first period when Greg Foster was left standing on the doorstep for an easy tap-in.

"We had a lapse in coverage on that one," noted Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo. "We had the right people out there, but it was just a matter of a mistake on our part."

Roseau quickly gained control with back-to-back goals early in the second period. After making saves on two long shots, Thief River Falls goalie Barry Dowers was victimized by a point-blank Ryan Hokanson rebound at 2:35, and just 27 seconds later Jason Lovejoy finished off a Roseau rush for a 3-1 gap.

"They caught us on those two quick goals in the second period," pointed out Chiedo. "I really don't know that we had any breakdowns. It's just a credit to Roseau they can score like that."

The Rams all but put the game on ice late in the second period when Lovejoy scored on a power play tip-in at 12:32, giving the Poster-Hokanson-Lovejoy line all four Roseau goals.

Thief River Falls gained a brief bit of comeback hope when sophomore Jeff Twomey jammed the puck past Boldt on a goal mouth scramble at 9:38 of the third period.

But despite the effort, there were no game-winning rallies as the Rams stretched their success against the Prowlers to 13-0-2 over the last seven years.

"We played a heck of a hockey game," said Chiedo. "We came up short, but you can't be disappointed with that type of effort or performance. We played well. It was a battle between two good teams, and somebody has to come up short at the end. Unfortunately is was us. If my team is going to go out, I want them to out out like that – playing hard to the end."

MCC 48-44 winner over TRF

After a series of frustrating losses in close games, Marshall County Central boys high school basketball coach Ron Ueland finally enjoyed the taste of a tight game victory Monday. Unfortunately for Scott Brekke, the 48-44 decision over Thief River Falls left the Prowlers' first year head coach still starved for wins.

The Nordics had lost five of their previous six games in a series of head-shaking luckless endings, but will now head into their 1991-92 regular season finale Friday in Stephen with a boost of confidence and a 10-8 record. The Prowlers have now lost 13 in a row and will take a 2-18 record into a Friday home final against Detroit Lakes before wrapping things up at Moorhead the following Friday.

Last Thief River Falls win came in the the third place game of the Prowlers' holiday tournament back on Dec. 28 – a 44-40 victory over Marshall County Central.

This time the four-point spread belonged to the Nordics, the home team in the match-up at Northland Community College.

"Finally," said Ueland after the close-game jinx came to an end. "We finally ran into a team that didn't do everything perfect at the end. It was nice to get a win. We really needed a win for any kind of confidence heading into tournament play."

Confidence is not exactly a by-product of a 13-game losing streak, acknowledged Brekke. "It seems like a broken record," he said outside the Thief River Falls locker room. "We played hard. We had our chances at the end, but we couldn't capitalize."

Indeed, Ueland might have envisioned another one of those nightmarish losses down the stretch when the Nordics missed the front end of three consecutive bonus free throw situations in the final 18 seconds. But, like Brekke said, the Prowlers failed to capitalize.

It was a close game from start to finish. A drive by the Prowlers' Tom Upham with .7 seconds left tied it 14-14 at the end of the first quarter and after Thief River Palls went on an 11-0 run early in the second quarter to open up a 25-19 lead – the biggest spread of the first half – the Nordics' Tim Olson went through the back door for a lay-up with 1:12 left to pull his team within 29-27 at intermission.

Despite the halftime edge, the Prowlers were getting beat to the tune of 7-3 on the offensive boards, prompting a switch from a man-to-man to a zone defense to open the second half. But, after a move to the inside by Upham gave Thief River Falls a half-opening 31-27 edge, the Nordics ran off 10 unanswered points, including three-point baskets outside the Prowlers' zone by Robbie Anderson and Jeremy Tallum to go ahead 37-31.

The Nordics were never to trail again, although back-to-back drives of Upham and a free throw by Wald cut the difference to 39-38 in the first minute of the fourth quarter.

A drive by Tim Olson and a short turnaround jumper by Jerod Olson gave the Nordics a little breathing room at 46-40 with 3:55 remaining, but Upham again had back-to-back drives that made it 46-44 with 1:01 left.

However, the 6-0 senior took his game-high 21 points to the bench when he picked up his fifth personal foul with 51.5 seconds showing, and the scoring was completed moments later when Tallum made both ends of a one-and-one free throw situation.

"Upham took us to school," said Ueland. "He was tough. That was probably the game when he picked up his fifth foul."

Tim Olson, a 6-2 junior forward who had 16 points to lead the Nordics, was the game's only other double figure scorer.

Thief River Falls shot 45 percent from the field for the game on a 19-for-42 effort, but the Prowlers cooled off considerably in the second half after opening with a 63 percent 12-for-19 first half.

"We played with no intensity in the first half," said Ueland. "I don't know that we played any better in the second half, but we played harder, and that won us the ball game."

Marshall County Central finished with a 48 percent 20-for-42 shooting performance. The Nordics were 6-for-10 at the free throw line, where the Prowlers were 4-for-5.

The Nordics out-rebounded the Prowlers 25-18, winding up with a 13-7 edge on the offensive end. Marshall County Central also topped the turnover charts, 15-13.

Youth Hockey

Crookston defeated Thief River Falls 8-3 Tuesday in a Ninth District VFW Bantam A hockey playoff game at the Sports Arena.

Thief River Falls scoring included two goals for Kaine Martell and one by Tim Barry. Thief River Falls goalies Chanc Keefe and Shane Duffy combined on 23 saves; the Crookston goalie stopped 21 shots.

Jeff Tunberg-coached Thief River Falls Bantam A squad will close out its 1991-92 season with games Saturday at Fargo South and Sunday at home against Fargo North.

In position under the basket, Northland Community College sophomore Travis Brown put up this shot against North Dakota State School of Science Saturday in the Northland gym.

Huskies edge Eagles 62-58

One of the streaks had to end Friday when Grygla-Gatzke played host to Goodridge in boys high school basketball. The Huskies came into the game with a 10-game win streak; the Eagles had won eight in a row.

Goodridge came out of it a 62-58 winner, boosting the Huskies to 17-3 for the year. Grygla-Gatzke fell to 13-7, with three of the seven losses coming at the hands of their neighboring rivals.

However, this one was a lot closer than the 55-42 final of the Northland Community College Invitational back on Dec. 21 and the

Wildcats sweep Pioneers

There was a lesson in scheduling for Northland Community College Saturday as the Pioneers absorbed a basketball doubleheader beating at the hands of visiting North Dakota State School of Science.

Northland completed its 1991-92 Minnesota Community College Conference-counting schedule Thursday in dramatic fashion against rival University of Minnesota-Crookston when the Pioneers lost a final-second state tournament-eliminating 66-64 women's game and won a down-to-the-wire 95-92 Northwest Division title-clinching men's game.

They followed that two days later with the meaningless regular season finale against the Wahpeton teams. And it didn't matter if you approached it as the final game of the year for the Northland women, or as a state tournament tune-up for the Northland men – they both played flat, uninspired basketball and wound up getting drubbed by a combined 55 points. The Wildcats won the women's opener 67-48 and took the men's nightcap 99-63.

"There was nothing on the line," acknowledged Northland women's coach Sue Barnd. "It was awfully hard to get them motivated. It was not the same intensity, obviously, that we had Thursday at Crookston."

Northland men's coach Chet Engelman echoed similar thoughts. "First of all, we have to recognize they're a very good team, and they played very well today," he said. "But from our perspective, we had just asked our kids to play three games that were very important to us very hard in a five-day span. I think we were a little tired both physically and mentally. The fact we didn't play real well is understandable."

The Northland women ended their season at 9-13. The Northland men will take a 13-9 record into the Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament, scheduled to get underway Thursday at Normandale Community College, located in Bloomington.

NDSSS....................67

North State State School of Science (NDSSS) never trailed in the 67-48 win over over the Northland women.

It was tied at 2-2, and the Pioneers were within 10-8 on back-to-back moves on the inside by Rhonda Rothschadl at the five-minute mark of the first half. But then a 6-0 NDSSS run, an 8-0 burst and finally a half-ending 14-1 blitz supplied the Wildcats with a 40-20 cushion at intermission.

It was never closer than 17 points in the second half. A 12-0 scoring spree gave NDSSS its biggest lead of the game, 67-38, with 5:16 remaining before Northland saved some face by scoring the final ten points.

The winners were led by starting guards Cheryl Arnhalt and Jackie Smith with 19 and 16 points, respectively. Northland's usual 1-2 inside punch surfaced again as Rothschadl scored 22 points and grobbed 11 rebounds, while Alice Dunning netted 17 points and finished with 10 rebounds.

Jill Brantl and Nanotte Berg also finished with 10 rebounds apiece, and the four double figure producers on the boards led to a 45-42 Northland rebound edge.

But the Pioneers shot only 24 percent from the field on a 19-for-79 showing, including an 0-for-6 effort from three-point range.

The Wildcats shot 43 percent by hitting 30 of 70 attempts.

Northland was 10-for-18 at the free throw line, where NDSSS went 6-for-10. Both teams had 19 turnovers.

Same script used in the women's game was followed by the men – a 2-0 North Dakota State School of Science lead, a 2-2 tie, and then a couple of scoreboard runs by the Wildcats, who never trailed in winning 99-63.

The win put NDSSS at 22-2 for the year, good for a No. 1-ranking in the five-state area NJCAA Region 13 poll.

An 8-0 run provided the visitors with an 10-2 lead and a little later they began what would be a 13-2 outburst that opened up a 25-8 gap just seven minutes into the game.

It was 56-32 at halftime, and it kept getting worse after intermission as the Pioneers came up with their lowest point total of the year.

Northland's offense was sabotaged by the Pioneers' 22 percent 17-for-76 shooting. And that was with a second half comeback from an 18 percent 7-for-38 first half showing. They made more free throws than field goals with a 26-for-35 effort at the line.

NDSSS, meanwhile, shot 58 percent on a 40-for-69 showing. The winners were also accurate at the free throw line with a 16-for-19 afternoon.

Guard Prentiss Perkins and forward Wayne Charles, both Minneapolis products, led the Wildcats with 25 and 15 points, respectively. Travis Brown scored 14 points and Joe Comstock had 11 for the Pioneers.

Thief River Falls girls lose 63-59 at Moorhead...

Spuds hold off Prowlers

Moorhead held off Thief River Falls 63-59 Saturday in a girls high school basketball game that featured 62 free throw attempts.

"It was not pretty," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Sally Wiltse. "It was very physical. It was really hard to get into any offensive rhythm with all the fouls."

The eight-member Thief River Falls varsity lost three players to fouls and two of the five remaining Prowlers finished the game with four fouls apiece. Both sides put up 31 free throws, with the Prowlers hitting 20 of them and the Spuds sinking 18.

Moorhead led at the quarter stops 18-7, 34-15 and 46-34, but the Spuds almost lost that lead in a bizarre finish.

With Thief River Falls throwing up three-point shots in an desperate comeback attempt at the end, Moorhead players were driving their coaches crazy by fouling Jodi Kruta on three successive three-pointers. That gave the Thief River Falls guard three sets of three free throws, and on each occasion she hit the first two attempts and purposely missed the third try – which the Prowlers rebounded to start the whole process over again.

All that helped Thief River Falls cut into the Moorhead lead with the clock stopped. The Prowlers had it within 59-56 before the Spuds finally put it away. A three-point basket at the buzzer by Thief River Falls' Leslie Ammerman made the final score look closer than what it really was, admitted Wiltse.

The Prowlers, who beat the Spuds 51-48 earlier this winter, fell to 12-9 with the loss. They will finish regular season play Thursday at home against Detroit Lakes, with the winner of the 7:30 p.m. game likely securing a No. 2 seed behind front-running Fergus Falls in the upcoming North Sub-Section 8AA tournament.

Kruta finished with a game-high 27 points. Teammate Amy Adams had 10. Julie Schellhase led the Spuds with 22 points, while Kerry Nistler netted 14.

Thief River Falls shot only 25 percent from the field – a 17-for-67 showing that included a head-shaking 4-for-35 first half. The Prowlers made just one of 15 second quarter field goal attempts.

"We're struggling on offense right now," noted Wiltse. "You can see our confidence level going down."

Moorhead wound up with a 50 percent 23-for-46 performance from the field, and the Spuds hammered the Prowlers on the boards 44-26 to make up for a 14-8 high figure in the turnover department.

North Dakota State School of Science shooter Cheryl Arnhalt had to contend with Northland Community College defender Rhonda Rothschadl as she put up this jumper during Saturday's basketball game in Thief River Falls. The Wildcats beat the Pioneers 67-48.

Prowlers fall 65-34 at Warren

Offense was not a Thief River Falls strong suit Friday as the Prowlers lost a 65-34 boys high school basketball game at Warren.

The outcome mirrored a 49-35 Warren win in Thief River Falls back on Dec. 20.

Shooting was the Friday night culprit for the Prowlers, who connected on just 13 of 47 attempts from the floor during a 27.6 percent showing. Warren, meanwhile, turned in a 55.5 percent 25-for-55 effort.

"Everything we put up was a little short," explained Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "I don't know if the kids were tired, or what. We had some good shots, but they just wouldn't fall."

Warren jumped out to a 16-7 first quarter lead, made it 27-14 at halftime and opened up a 47-20 third quarter gap.

The Prowlers were 6-for-9 at the free throw line, where the Ponies went 10-for-13. Warren had a 32-21 rebound advantage and Thief River Falls topped the turnover charts 11-10.

RLCC girls open tournament play

Red Lake County Central girls high school basketball team opened post-season play Monday with a 57-46 win over Mahnomen in Section 8A Sub-Section 2 at Ada.

Other first-round results in the old District 30A tournament found Gary beating Circle of Life 84-11 and Fertile-Beltrami topping Twin Valley 58-43.

Quarterfinals will be played Thursday. At Fertile, Red Lake County Central will take on top-seeded Ada at 6:30 p.m. and Norman County West plays Waubun at 8. At Ada it'll be Win-E-Mac vs. Fertile-Beltrami at 6:30 p.m. and Fosston vs. Gary at 8.

Semifinals will be played Saturday at the University of Minnesota-Crookston at 1 and 2:30 p.m. Finals will be played March 5 at UMC.

Cheryl Greenwald scored 21 points, Dawn Bachand had 13 and Jill Radniecki netted 10 as Red Lake County Central improved its record to 9-13. The Mustangs lost an early-season 52-48 decision to the Indians.

"We played a real nice game, outside of a few minutes in the second quarter," said Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto.

The Mustangs had a 15-12 first quarter lead and led by as many as six points before a half-ending surge by the Indians tied it at 24-24 at intermission. Red Lake County Central re-established its faster-paced offensive attack in the third quarter to go ahead 42-35.

Red Lake County Central shot an impressive 51 percent from the field for the game, a 24-for-47 showing that included a 70 percent 14-for-20 second half. The winners were 9-for-16 at the free throw line.

Jenny Bauman led Mahnomen with 16 points. The Indians were 20-for-51 from the field (39 percent) and 5-for-6 at the free throw line. They had a 34-33 rebound edge, but also topped the turnover charts 13-10.

Three Northland selections were listed among the ten players earning spots on the 1991-92 Minnesota Community College Conference All-Northwest Division men's basketball team.

The honors went to Travis Brown, Joe Comstock and Larone Greer, Northland; Tom Ness and Ken Kendall, Fergus Falls; Gary Arrington and Tony Glenz, Brainerd; Jason Yutrzenka, Marion Bankston and Jeff Oseth, University of Minnesota-Crookston.

Boosters Club meets

A revised list of guest speakers will find Lincoln High School basketball coaches Scott Brekka (boys) and Sally Wiltse (girls) addressing the Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club Thursday at 12-noon in the back room of the Rex Cafe.

JV boys split games

Thief River Falls lost a Friday night decision to Warren, but won a Monday night match-up against Marshall County Central in boys junior varsity high school basketball.

Warren led at the quarter stops 12-8, 20-17 and 41-31 before claiming a 55-35 victory. John Gunstad led Thief River Falls in scoring with 8 points.

Thief River Falls grabbed a 12-4 first quarter lead, had a 22-16 halftime edge and maintained a 37-27 third quarter spread en route to a 54-43 win over Marshall County Central. Shane Zutz led Thief River Falls with 11 points; Scott Zak led Marshall County Central scorers with 8.

Skippers finish regular season against Eagles

Seventy-three points was apparently the magic figure as the Middle River boys high school basketball team split a back-to-back Thursday/Friday assignment against Roseau and Hallock-Kennedy.

The winning team hit the 73-point mark both nights – a 73-42 Roseau victory Thursday and a 73-60 Middle River triumph Friday.

Results left Middle River with an 11-10 record going into a regular season-ending game at home against Argyle Friday.

Roseau..............................73
Middle River.......................42

Roseau decided the issue in a hurry as the host Rams jumped out to a 19-4 first quarter lead en route to a 73-42 make-up game decision over Middle River.

The Rams had a 32-13 halftime advantage and maintained a 50-32 third quarter spread before making it an official rout in the fourth quarter when Middle River gambled – and lost – with a pressing defense in an effort to get back in the game.

"We played a poor ball game, and they played well," pointed out Middle River coach Eldon Sparby.

A balanced Roseau attack featured Mike Hulst with 15 points, Jeff Taylor 14, Tom Nikunen 12 and Dave Pankratz 11. Gilbert Olson led Middle River with 16 points. Teammate David Blazek had 11.

Middle River shot only 27 percent from the field for the night, and that 17-for-64 showing included a 2-for-16 first quarter. Roseau, on the other hand, shot 49 percent on a 29-for-59 night. At the free throw line, the Skippers were 7-for-11 and the Rams went 12-for-20. Middle River finished with a 35-33 rebound edge. Turnovers were not a problem – eight for the Rams; seven for the Skippers.

Hallock-Kennedy...................60

A Hallock-Kennedy decision to go with a full court press opened up the court for the Middle River offense Friday as the Skippers capitalized by turning a bundle of 3-on-2 and 2-on-1 breaks into a 73-60 victory.

David Blazek sparked the up-tempo Middle River attack with 26 points. Teammate Jarrett Walton had 19. Aaron Hedman led Hallock-Kennedy with 25 points.

The Skippers led at the quarter breaks 13-9, 31-24 and 55-36.

Middle River was 29-for-67 from the field (43 percent) and 12-for-22 at the free throw line. Hallock-Kennedy went 23-for-62 from the field (37 percent) and 12-for-16 at the line. Gilbert Olson led the way with 12 rebounds as the Skippers finished out-boarded the Wolfpack 45-20. Hallock-Kennedy topped the turnover charts 17-9.

Ueland on MSU squad

Newfolden native Natalie Ueland is a contributing part of the basketball revival underway at Moorhead State University.

A junior at MSU, Ueland is back on the court after a year off, reports the Moorhead State sports information office. With a number of experienced Dragon guards to call on, Ueland's playing time has been somewhat restricted this winter, but she has provided backcourt insurance, and has made a favorable impact on MSU head coach Lori Ulferts.

"Natalie is one of the best defensive players I've ever coached," said Ulferts. "She can really move her feet and she's an excellent rebounder. She's a very good team player and is very fundamentally sound."

While attending the University of Minnesota-Crookston for two years after high school graduation, Ueland was an important part of both the UMC volleyball and basketball teams, earning team MVP, first team all-division, all-state and all-region honors in both basketball and volleyball.

Ueland also had an impressive prep career at Marshall County Central, where she helped the Nordics claim a Region 8A basketball title in 1987. Team MVP and an all-conference selection in basketball, Ueland was also a volley-

Grygla-Gatzke wins another close one

Grygla-Gatzke basketball fans are getting a full return on their entertainment dollar this winter.

The Eagles treated the home court crowd to another down-to-the-wire finish Monday in beating highly-regarded Stephen 78-75 in double-overtime.

Grygla-Gatzke is 14-7 this year, which includes a triple-overtime win against Kittson County North, last night's double-overtime affair with Stephen and an single-overtime conquest of Roseau. There has also been regulation time wins by margins of 1, 2 (twice), 3 and 4 points, along with a pair of two-point losses and a four-point defeat.

"We've had a lot of close games this year," offered Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson after the Monday night win, "but this one was one of the biggest gut-wrenching games I've been involved in for a long time."

The Eagles owned a 64-61 lead before the Tigers' Bryce Lingen banked in a 22-foot three-point shot with 15 seconds left in regulation time.

It was still deadlocked at 72-72 when the first three-minute extra session ended, but Grygla-Gatzke finally won out with an 11-for-13 showing at the free throw line in overtime.

It was a solid shooting night for the Eagles, who were 26 of 54 from the field (48 percent) and 22-for-30 at the line. They also out-rebounded Stephen 36-20 and had only 12 turnovers.

"It was a good win for us," said Johnson. "We did a nice job on the boards and we were aggressive on offense. We attacked the basket and went after the rebounds."

The Grygla-Gatzke offense featured four double figure scorers as Ryan Bakken netted 21 points, Mitch Bernstein 20, Scott Rindahl 17 and Jeremy Engelstad 13.

David Borowicz scored a game-high 29 points for the Tigers, who were 32-for-70 from the field (46 percent) and 7-for-12 at the free throw line. They wound up with eight turnovers.

Grygla-Gatzke will complete its regular season schedule Friday by hosting Tri-County.

Final shot beats Nordics in overtime

February, 1992 will not be remembered fondly when Ron Ueland reflects back on his long boys high school basketball coaching career at Marshall County Central.

The Nordics may have suffered the hardest-to-accept defeat yet in a mounting series of tough-luck setbacks when Nathan Lubarski of Argyle crossed the center court time line and, despite solid defensive coverage, threw in one of those video highlight film shots at the buzzer to give the Eagles a 46-44 overtime win at Northland Community College.

It was fifth loss in the Nordics' last six games – by five, three, six, three and now two-point margins.

"It just about defies description," said Ueland about the Nordics' tough luck losing streak. "February has been the toughest month of my entire coaching career."

It was the third straight final-shot Argyle victory over Marshall County Central, dating back to the finals of the 1991 Thief River Falls Russ Smith Holiday Classic championship game.

Marshall County Central was in good shape at the start with an 18-8 first quarter lead, but when Argyle switched to a zone defense from a man-to-man the Nordics' shooting percentage took a dive – a 33 percent 16-for-49 showing for the night.

"We shot the ball poorly after the first quarter," acknowledged Ueland.

Marshall County Central held on to a 28-22 lead at halftime and began the fourth quarter with a 34-29 edge. It was tied 39-39 at the end of regulation time.

A free throw by Robbie Anderson gave the Nordics a 44-43 edge with just seven seconds left in overtime, but Lubarski promptly turned that into a 46-44 Argyle win.

Lubarski finished with a game-high 15 points. Anderson led the Nordics with 12 points, while Tim Olson netted 11 and Ivan Hirst had 10, to go along with 11 rebounds.

Huskies defeat Eagles

68-41 regular season match-up in Goodridge Jan. 23.

"It was a great high school basketball game," reported Goodridge coach John Rahn. "Both teams played well, and the crowd was great. It was a lot of fun."

The two teams were never separated by more than five points. It was 12-11 Goodridge at the end of the first quarter, 30-26 Grygla-Gatzke at halftime and 47-46 Goodridge through three quarters.

It was tied 56-56 with two minutes left, but Goodridge won it by going 9-for-10 at the free throw line down the stretch.

Donavon Quam of Goodridge continued his scoring exploits with a 33-point game. Hit by early foul trouble, just nine of those points came in the first half. Shane Wilkens joined Quam in double figures for the Huskies with 19 points.

"Donavon was outstanding and Shane had a real, real good game," noted Rahn.

Jeremy Engelstad led Grygla-Gatzke with 16 points, while Mitch Bernstein and Justin Lunsetter both had 11.

Goodridge was 23-for-52 from the field (44 percent) and 13-for-19 at the free throw line. Grygla-Gatzke went 22-for-59 from the field (37 percent) and 11-for-18 at the line. The Huskies finished with a 34-27 rebound edge as Quam grabbed 12 rebounds, while Wilkens and Willie Vettleson both had seven.

"It was a good ball game," offered Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "I thought both teams played fairly well, although we didn't shoot as well as we have been lately. It came down to the fact that Quam put on an exhibition in the second half, and they hit their free throws in the fourth quarter."

Both teams will wrap up their regular season schedules Friday when Goodridge hosts Clearbrook-Gonvick with the North Tri-County Conference title on the line and Grygla-Gatzke entertains Tri-County.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF SANDY OLSON WHO PASSED AWAY 2 YEARS AGO FEBRUARY 21, 1990

A million times we've thought of you
And a million times we've cried,
If our love alone could have saved you
You never would have died.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we love you still,
In our hearts you hold a place
No one can ever fill.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you didn't go alone,
For a part of us went with you,
The day God took you home.
You will forever be loved never forgotten and deeply missed.

Charges filed in burglary of Altra Power

Two men face burglary charges following an investigation into a burglary at Altra Power in Thief River Falls.

Pennington county investigator Howard Seim reported that through investigation, two men who had been temporarily living in Thief River Falls face charges in the incident. Seim also reported that some of the merchandise reported stolen has been recovered and that the sheriff's department has confiscated a car allegedly used in the commission of the crime.

Chamber Spotlight

What's the Chamber going to do for me?

Who is it? It is the farmer, the merchant, the professional, the industrialist — who makes Thief River Falls their city by living and doing business here. It's the person on the street who says, "aren't these new streets fine?" It's the little boy who says, "Gee, I had fun at the new swimming pool." It's the lady who says, "I like to shop at So and So's shop." It's the man in the service department who says, "Sure, I've got a good job and a nice home."

It's all of us who choose Thief River Falls.

What is it? Basically, it is the business community at work. It is the enthusiastic business, farmer, industrial and professional people of Thief River Falls banding together to promote the expansion and civic welfare of the area in which you have chosen to live and make your living.

Why join the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce? It is the only organization, to which you can belong, that is solely dedicated to the betterment of our city and your business or your profession.

The Chamber will be holding its Membership Drive the week of February 24 at which time one of its representatives will be contacting you.

Plummer school spelling bee winners are shown in the school library. First place winner Derick Vettleson (left), son of Annette Vettleson and Mark and Anita Vettleson, will participate in the regional spelling competition Saturday, March 7, at Northland community college in Thief River Falls. Kay Mercil, daughter of LeRoy and Mary Mercil of Brooks, was second in the Plummer spelling bee and Ryan Halvorson, son of Charles and Betty Halvorson, was third. Coordinator for the event was Lea Hotstad.

Bus fatalities involve many pedestrians

What many people don't realize about school bus accidents is that most injuries and deaths are the result of pedestrian accidents. During the 1989-90 school year, 35 pupils died in school bus accidents, including two in Minnesota. Of those 35, five were passengers on the school bus and 30 were either entering or leaving the loading zone.

The Minnesota Safety council urges school officials and parents to stress the importance of pedestrian safety to young children:

– Allow enough time to get to the bus without hurrying. One of the Minnesota fatalities involved a student who was running to catch the bus.

– At the bus stop, wait a safe distance from the roadway. Don't horse around in streets or alleys.

– When boarding the bus, wait for the vehicle to come to a complete stop before boarding. Then, using the handrails, enter the bus and find a seat quickly. Never leave bags in the aisle.

– When exiting the bus, wait for it to stop completely before getting up from your seat. Walk to the front door and exit using the handrails. If you have to cross in front of the bus, walk along the side of the road, until you can see the bus driver. Stop and wait for the driver's signal to cross the street. Continue to look left, right, left. Stay clear of the bus' rear wheels at all times.

– When crossing a street, stop at the curb or the side of the road and look left, right, left. If the road is clear of oncoming vehicles, walk directly across the street continuing to look left, right, left. Use a crosswalk whenever possible.

– If your view of traffic is blocked by parked cars or other obstacles, move out to where drivers can see you and you can see the vehicles. Stop and look left, right, left before crossing.

– Never assume the right-of-way. Drivers may ignore traffic signs and signals, and could strike pedestrians in marked crosswalks. Look over your shoulder for turning vehicles.

Where there are no sidewalks, walk facing traffic and keep as far to the left of the road as possible.

– In bad weather, don't allow your umbrella or jacket hood to block your visibility. Allow extra time for vehicles to stop.

Clearwater Co. receives grant for recycling

Minnesota Office of Waste Management (OWM) has awarded a grant of $121,110 to Clearwater county to help finance construction and equipment costs for a recycling facility in Bagley.

The $242,000 facility will employ handicapped workers from the Clearwater Day Activity Center to process recyclable materials. The facility will accept old newsprint, high-grade paper, corrugated cardboard, glass bottles (clear, amber and green), aluminum, tin/steel cans, plastics and textiles.

Clearwater county generates about 3,300 tons of solid waste annually. The recycling facility will have the capacity to handle approximately 500 to 1,000 tons of recyclable materials annually from a collection system that will include residential curbside collection in three cities, commercial collection and rural drop-off sites.

"Clearwater county is making progress to reach the state recycling goal of 25 per cent by December 1993," said Dottie Rietow, director of the OWM. "This recycling facility will add to the county's infrastructure for collecting and processing recyclable materials and help it reach the goal."

Clearwater county received the grant through the OWM's Solid Waste Processing Facilities Capital Assistance Program (CAP), a bond-funded program set up by the Minnesota Legislature to help cities and counties finance the capital costs of solid waste management facilities. Through CAP and its other programs, the OWM has provided technical and financial assistance for more than 50 projects throughout Minnesota.

GIVE THANKS TO THE LORD FOR THE EXTRA DAY IN LEAP YEAR

We encircle the sun, yet it somehow appears
That we don't come out even, and every four years
We discover a twenty-four hour delay,
Which compels us to add a remedial day.
Now a glance at the calendar showed it was best
In a month which is shorter than all of the rest.
Then we also decided this year needs a name,
And by calling it Leap Year, established its fame;
But our Scriptural lessons have taught us the worth
Of each day we were granted to live on this earth.
So give thanks to our Father, who showed us the way
To provide February its twenty-ninth day.

YOUR TIMES

by Jeffrey Smedsrud

As the health care crisis moves to center stage in the American psyche, we find ourselves at a crossroad. The decisions we make will profoundly impact our lives, and that of our children, and their children as well.

Almost all of us agree we must do something. Nearly 35 million Americans do not have health insurance. For millions more, the cost of insurance may soon be out of reach. Health care eats a greater share of our gross national product, harming our national productivity and hurting our abilities to compete in a world market. Each day it consumes more and more of a debt-plagued federal budget.

As we move forward toward change, many ask: Which path do we choose?

According to opinion polls, most Americans want to choose a road that leads to a system modeled on that of many European nations, and patterned on the experience of our neighbors to the north—Canada. Congress has heeded that call and is offering many plans that inevitably lead to a system where the federal government is the principal decision maker.

That path is wrong for America. Not only because it will drive health costs higher, although it will. Not only because it will compromise access to care, although waiting periods, rationed care and ethical compromises have proven to be part-and-parcel of the "success" of such systems. But because it removes that most basic of American rights—self-determination and individual choice.

While the rest of the world embraces freedom and moves to privatize its health care, why do most Americans want to march to the beat of yesterday's drummer?

Why? Because it sounds so simple. In one swoop...gone—those awful insurance companies; finished—those greedy doctors; terminated—those troublesome lawyers. To all our problems we can collectively say, "Hasta la vista, baby." In this dream world everyone would have access to whatever care they want. And it would cost next to nothing. The trouble is—it's not that simple. And the reality is waking up to discover the cure we swallowed was worse than the disease.

There is a better path. And let me clearly state this alternative is not to preserve the status quo. It is every bit as much a change as a socialized system. We need an American solution for a uniquely American problem. A plan rooted in individualism, consumer choice, personal responsibility. And less government intervention.

Currently state and federal governments pay 42 per cent of America's $800 billion health care bill, most of it to fund Medicare. As our population ages, costs will increase and so will our taxes.

The 15.3 per cent in payroll tax is projected to reach 32 per cent by the year 2020, most of that increase not to fund Social Security, but to pay for Medicare. The path that leads to socialized medicine would add, for starts, eight to 10 per cent to the payroll tax. Then add state taxes—seven percent is an average—and a federal tax rate of from 15 to 31 per cent, and the total could be as high as 80 per cent.

Such tax rates destroy the very idea of who we are as Americans.

I've been privileged to visit some 30 countries in the last 12 years. And while there are no initials after my name to suggest an expertise that enables me to critique either national economics or the finer points of health systems, my friends in those places tell me there is a direct relationship between evasive taxes and reduced productivity. Many of them like their medical system until it is used! (Our system is generally disliked...until it is used.)

Seven years ago for example, my grandmother died of a massive heart attack in a Copenhagen hospital. There were no extraordinary efforts to save her life. The doctors told my aunt that, "She is old. She is sick. There is not much we can do." They did nothing. She was 72.

From my perspective, there is a world of difference between "not much" and "Nothing."

And then I think of the daughter of a friend back home. His wife went into labor 18 weeks early. The doctors at the University of Minnesota said there was "not much we can do." But they tried. And they were successful. And this September, Rachel starts nursery school.

My aunt in Denmark now has private insurance. It lets her—not the government—decide which doctors will treat her, and what type of care she can receive. As human beings, no matter what country we live in, we want the right to choose. And that is why nearly every socialized system is moving to include private options. That is the lesson we should be learning as we study the health plans of other countries.

But first we must study our own system and determine why it doesn't work, principally why it costs so much.

Part of the reason lies in our culture and the diversity of our nation. We have higher expectations from medical treatment than do the peoples of most countries, and we use expensive new technology at a greater level.

We are also a nation with serious social ills. Violent crime. Drug and alcohol abuse. Sexual diseases. Crack babies. Obesity. Malnutrition. Our health care system is not the reason for these problems. But these maladies are part of the reason our health care system is in a crisis stage.

In my view, the principal reason our health care system is out of control is this: When health dollars are spent, most often it is someone else paying the bill. When my 18-month-old needed surgery to unplug a blocked tear duct, I worried about the trauma it would cause him, but not about the cost. My insurance pays it. And when your loved one needs care, your insurance or health plan does, too.

Nearly 90 per cent of all Americans receive their insurance from either their employer or union. Reliance on this type of insurance creates a marketplace where individuals don't spend their own money. While deductibles help slow down utilization, individuals with insurance have every incentive to overuse care and almost no incentive to comparison-shop.

Favorable tax-treatment of employer-provided insurance also has changed the kinds of insurance policies sold. Study after study confirms the obvious: the more comprehensive the medical insurance, the greater its use. A person with a $100 deductible utilizes health care services more often than someone with a $1,500 deductible.

Beyond its effect on spending, current tax policy that allows employees to receive their insurance as a "free" benefit is blatantly unfair to the self-employed Americans who must pay for insurance with after-tax dollars.

Individuals are pushed further away from making choices about the type of care, treatment and insurance they can purchase by state insurance departments that mandate more than 800 specific treatments or therapies.

Fewer state mandates would reduce insurance costs, thus increasing the number of Americans who would buy insurance. This, in turn, lowers the number of uninsured and reduces the cost-shifting associated with uncompensated care.

Tax and regulatory reform can lower the number of uninsured Americans from 35 million to less than five million. But we must never forget that there are some Americans who are medically uninsurable. Insurance pools for these high-risk individuals now operate in 24 states.

I do not want to abandon the notion of private insurance. But let us make health insurance work like insurance should—to cover the loss for unanticipated catastrophic accident or illnesses. Insurance is not a pre-payment voucher for routine or non-emergency care.

Let's instead give consumers a chance to save and spend their own money for such procedures...while insuring them against catastrophic costs. Let's give tax incentives to save for medical expenses.

If it is acceptable tax policy to let employers provide their workers with a low deductible health plan that costs $5,000 a year, should it not be equally OK to provide a high deductible plan at $3,000 and let the employee invest the difference in a Medical IRA to be used solely for present or future health care?

Both scenarios cost the employer the same. Both are tax-free benefits to the employee. There is no difference in federal tax revenue.

Yes, we can lower costs and reduce the number of uninsured. But only if we choose the road less traveled by. One that lets people—not their bosses, their unions or their government—decide the level of insurance they need. Or the type of care they desire. A solution that brings the consumer squarely into the decision-making process. And one that gives each of us as much access to unbiased information about the outcomes of health care procedures, as we have in nearly all other major purchases—be it the cars or homes we buy, the food we eat or the schools we choose. One where the doctors must look in the eyes of their patients and explain their recommendations based on need, effectiveness and cost.

What will it take to get us down this road? For starts, we need to stand up for the very essence of who we are as Americans—a people committed for generations to the notion of individual choice and self-determination.

And then we must tell our elected officials to remove tax and regulatory policy that put up barriers, and replace it with inducements to take care of part of our own health needs. Such experiments are being tried by a few large companies, and by some individuals. Early results give us cause for hope.

With all its inherent flaws, I believe in the political process. Our politicians are reacting to what they think we want—a nationalized, state-controlled health care system. As Shakespeare said, the problem is not in our stars, it's in ourselves.

Let's think long and hard about the health care future we want. And let us remember that the changes we make will effect our lives to some degree, but not nearly as much as it does the lives of our children.

For once, let's not buy foreign. Let's build an American solution.

Facts About Fetal Alcohol Syndrome

According to medical authorities, there is only one known form of mental retardation which is entirely preventable. It is fetal alcohol syndrome, something that happens to one in every 500 children born in America.

Any preventable health problem which occurs with such frequency and impacts on the public to such a degree should be of national concern. And the following facts about fetal alcohol syndrome should scare the bejeebers out of every woman who becomes pregnant.

(1) Alcohol consumed by a pregnant woman always reaches the developing fetus. There is no safe time nor a safe amount.

(2) Fetal alcohol syndrome causes physical as well as neurological damage in unborn children.

(3) The effects of fetal alcohol syndrome are irreversible. There is no cure for the victims of fetal alcohol syndrome.

(4) Many behavior disorders are linked to fetal alcohol syndrome including misbehaving without fear of consequences, inability to follow basic rules, and peer alienation. Many children are also unable to remember and to learn.

(5) Neurological damage may have occurred due to alcohol use during pregnancy even if physical damage is not apparent.

(6) Often alcohol-dependent women are unable to care for their children and give them up for adoption. Therefore, unsuspecting parents may adopt a fetal alcohol syndrome child.

(7) Fetal alcohol syndrome is the only form of mental retardation which is entirely preventable.

(8) Many children with fetal alcohol syndrome become adults who fall through the cracks of society, winding up among the homeless street people, prostitutes, victims of crimes or as criminals themselves.

(9) Experts can easily identify victims of fetal alcohol syndrome through photographs and facial measurements.

Wouldn't it seem that responsible people would want something so preventable to be prevented? Of course they would, and they prevent it by avoiding using alcohol during pregnancy. Unfortunately, there are far too many irresponsible people in our society who are unwilling to provide even the most basic care for the life that they bring into being.

Planning Health Care Based On Facts

With elections looming in the fall, there is certain to be a scramble in the next few months to develop a national health care system which assists the individual in providing payment for health care. Attention must be paid to taking action based on facts and not emotions or myths.

One of the ways to do this is to listen to what all groups with a vested interest in providing for health care have to say. There is no shortage of factual information available; the difficulty is in sorting out the straight facts from the slanted ones.

One point to consider is that while the number of people without health insurance coverage has remained fairly constant at around 31 million for a number of years, the number with health insurance has increased more rapidly than the growth of our overall population and now stands at some 216.6 million. In other words, there does not appear to be a massive dropping of health insurance by previously insured people.

Another point to keep in mind is that while health care spending in the United States has increased more than eightfold from 1970 to 1989, health care costs during the same period have risen by nearly 13 times in Britain, nearly 12 times in France, nearly nine times in Canada and about eight times in Japan. Britain, France and Canada have nationally-run programs.

In Germany and Holland the health care costs have not risen as steeply, and in those countries there are systems where there is active competition both among those who provide health insurance and those who provide health care. Before tossing out a system of choice in health care, we would do well to look for change within the system.

Today' Quote:

"The kind of spending to which Mr. Bush seems devoted, along with the power that spending confers on government, portends not only a lowered standard of living—less disposable income for clothes, food and other consumer goods—but also a greatly diminished sphere of personal freedom for the average American.

"Instead of the government's working for us, we work for the government."

To The Editor:

I am writing this letter to you because of a few things concerning me about our judicial system. First of all I am currently doing a year in jail for my third DWI. But while I have been serving my time I have seen quite a few people come through the jail with more—sometimes twice as many DWIs—than myself and doing considerably less time.

I am not trying to say that I shouldn't be punished, I just feel there is no consistency in the punishments. I feel that there should be a little more even punishments for the crimes than go from one extreme to the next.

I feel that when it comes to sentencing it matters who you are, or how much one's worth, or who one knows. But for the most part it is really frustrating to me to see people with just as many or more DWIs as myself and doing a lot less time. To me it seems really unfair to have a system like this.

I have my sentence to do, and I will do the time that has been given to me. I feel that in writing this letter I will feel better about all of the things that bother me about the system, at the same time letting the community know how our judicial system operates.

There is another matter that is of concern to me. As I was appearing in court on another matter, while I was seated in the courtroom I overheard the public officials talking in the back room, making some derogatory remarks about me. One of the statements made was, "Here is a guy doing a year for aggravated DWI, working on getting five years" and then the person began laughing.

I feel it is really unnecessary for a public official to say something like that in a public building, or anywhere for that matter, but especially right in hearing distance of a defendant, in this case myself. I feel that type of criticism is for the backyard or in your own home, not in a courtroom. I feel that there should be in this case at least an oral reprimand.

In closing, I am not trying to justify my actions for I know and am aware of my wrongs. But I feel that our system has no consistency, and is really not in most cases fair. For the most part I would just like to see people treated equally for their crimes, not one extreme to the next. I just want to let my frustration and anger toward the system out and let the community know how I feel about our legal system.

In writing this letter I am not trying to wanting to anger anyone. I just went and feel I should voice my opinion on these matters. I hope that in writing this letter it will not cause me more problems in the future. Thanks for your time.

Sincerely,
Kent Hamre

To The Editor:

Is the news media giving us unbiased and objective reporting?

Lately we read numerous accounts in newspapers and magazines about how bad the "gun" is. Television is no better in its reporting.

Every year over 25,000 criminals are apprehended by the armed citizenry. There also are thousands of stories whereby potential victims' lives were saved because they were armed:

(a) A man was recently attacked in his business establishment by men with knives; he reached for his gun and saved his life. —Wichita, Kansas

(b) A man babysitting the neighbor's children heard someone pounding on the door. It turned out to be a psycho killer. He saved all their lives by getting his gun.

(c) An 84-year-old lady living alone heard someone breaking in. As he entered her bedroom, she grabbed her gun. He fled.

We could mention many, many other stories like this. Why aren't they, too, reported?

We don't live in a perfect world. The problem is NOT the gun but the blatant misuse of it. That's not the gun's fault! It should be kept out of the hands of the criminal but the honest, law-abiding citizen must be allowed to keep it under his Second Amendment rights. Cars and alcohol kill thousands yearly.

Here's where the problem is: Weak courts and judges. Consider this:

(a) Carl Wayne Buntion: 11 felony convictions, nine prison terms, serves 15 months of 15-year term for sexually assaulting a child, released and kills police officer.

(b) Alan Rose: Shoots wife, serves seven months of seven-year sentence, out on probation, kills girlfriend.

(c) Ray Wiscarver: Serves four years of eight-year sentence for manslaughter, released, pulls off 60 armed robberies in seven months.

Statistics show the average crime in the U.S. will cost the criminal an average of 8.5 days in prison. According to many police there's a 95 per cent chance criminals won't do any jail time!

The whole problem is with our justice system and I'm simply tired of seeing the honest, law-abiding citizen taking the blame for people in our justice system who aren't doing their job. Quit blaming an inanimate object (gun) for man's problem.

Furthermore, I find it hard to trust a government that doesn't trust me with a gun.

Sincerely,
Ken Chruszch
Greenbush, MN

Modest decline in crime reported in '91

During a city council meeting Tuesday night, Thief River Falls Police Chief Ken Froschheiser reported a modest decline in crime during 1991.

Chief Froschheiser presented his annual report of activities to the city council Tuesday night. The report details the total number of calls handled by the department and includes traffic, crimes and requests for services.

While a modest decline in crime has been reported, Chief Froschheiser also pointed out that categories of the more serious types of crime reported increases. For example, in 1991 assaults, criminal sexual conduct and theft were up about 11.5 per cent.

In his annual report, Froschheiser said that, "if one looks at disturbances, drinking problems and protection orders, which all showed increases, we may see some trends in regards to mental stableness and anxiety by some members of the community. We also tend to believe that the critical housing problems associated with the secondary schools may be a factor in these areas of concern."

Of traffic violation statistics, declines were observed in the number of parking tickets issued, registration violations, and moving violations. Parking tickets or violations of city ordinances, were down from 3,335 to 2,930. Froschheiser said he was pleased that of the city

Dyrud wins first place in oratorical contest

Lars Dyrud, son of Loiell and Mary Dyrud of Thief River Falls and a senior at Lincoln high school, was awarded a $300 scholarship for earning first place in the American Legion Post 117 Oratorical contest.

As first place winner he advanced to the 9th District Oratorical contest in Detroit Lakes on Saturday, February 29, where he placed second.

Joel Johnson, son of Mark and Beth Johnson of Thief River Falls and also a senior at Lincoln, earned a $200 scholarship for second place in the local contest.

The contest consists of two parts, the prepared oration and an extemporaneous discourse. The subject to be used for the prepared oration in the oratorical contest must be on some phase of the Constitution of the United States which will give emphasis to the attendant duties and obligations of a citizen to our government. The prepared oration must be the original effort of each contestant and must not take up less than eight minutes nor more than 10 minutes for delivery.

The extemporanous discourse must not consume less that three minutes nor more than five minutes for delivery.

Purpose of the high school oratorical contest is to develop a deeper knowledge and appreciation of the Constitution of the United States on the part of high school students. Other objectives are those of leadership and the ability to think and speak clearly and intelligently on the rights and privileges of American Citizenship. In addition to the local scholarships the four finalists in the American Legion Department of Minnesota contest receive scholarships which may be used to attend any post secondary institution in the United States—the winner, $1200; the runner-up, $900; third place,

Ruberto moving to Saudi Arabia

Dr. Leo Ruberto, former superintendent of schools for District 564 in Thief River Falls, has accepted the directorship of the International Schools headquartered at Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, beginning in mid July.

Since leaving Thief River Falls in 1989, he has been superintendent of schools at Farmington near the Twin Cities metro area. He has resigned his present position effective July 1 but with accumulated vacation time will actually leave that job in early June.

Dr. Ruberto said he considered the position which was advertised in professional journals for two reasons: (1) It appeared to be an incredible career opportunity and (2) he has a friend, Dr. Heni Gascon, who he met while working in Grand Forks, ND, and who now lives in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, about 100 miles inland from Dhahran.

One of more than 200 applicants for the position last fall, he became one of 10 finalists in early November and one of four finalists a few weeks later. He said he never visited the country or the schools but was interviewed extensively by telephone prior to being offered the position in January.

The International Schools has 11 schools located in about a 160-mile strip along the Persian Gulf. Two of the schools have British faculty and curriculum and nine have United States faculty and curriculum, Dr. Ruberto said. Total enrollment is about 2,900 students in grades K-9, all English-speaking

Mock trial team finishes second in regional trial

Lincoln high school's mock trial team suffered its first defeat of the season Friday and it came in the regional championship to determine entry into state competition.

After edging a strong Perham team 207 to 202 in the first trial of the four-team event at Park Rapids, Lincoln fell to Fergus Falls 198-179 in the championship round.

Thief River Falls had earned its way into the mock trial finals by handily winning its three trials during the regular season and finishing second in the standings behind Bemidji. Fergus Falls defeated Bemidji in the other opening round trial Friday.

Perham carried a strong tradition into the finals Friday, having earned a state berth all but one year since the mock trial program began several years ago. Thief River Falls won the coin toss and elected to represent the prosecution, scoring five perfect 10-point performances from one judge enroute to the victory. Both judges gave the decision to Thief River Falls on points, one by a 108-105 margin and one on a 99-97 margin.

Matched against Fergus Falls for the championship, Lincoln again won the coin toss and team members voted to again represent the prosecution. Through its five trials during the year the Lincoln team represented the defense only once.

"Fergus Falls caught us off guard with a tactic of objecting to nearly all of our questioning," coach Cal Lindberg said. "This required our attorneys to rephrase their questions extemporaneously and upset our strategy in laying the foundation for the case."

Lincoln's team was separated from Fergus Falls by only four points on one judge's performance rating sheet, 104-100, but trailed by a wide margin on the other's sheet, 94-79.

Attorneys for the Thief River Falls mock trial team in both trials were Karmen Ortloff, Gayle Rhineberger and Joel Johnson. Witnesses were Beth Natvik, Kym Peters and Linnea Dimich. Lisa DeLap served as bailiff/timekeeper for the Perham trial with Jackie Wold operating the video camera. Lisa and Jackie exchanged duties for the trial with Fergus Falls.

In its final two trials leading up to the regional event, Thief River Falls defeated Gary and Wadena. On the defense in the trial against Gary, attorneys for Thief River Falls were Gayle Rhineberger, Karmen Ortloff and Lisa DeLap with witnesses including Jackie Wold, Kym Peters and Joel Johnson. Beth Natvik was bailiff/timekeeper with Linnea Dimich operating the video camera.

The prosecution team which defeated Wadena was the same as that in the regional event with Lisa DeLap as bailiff/timekeeper and Jackie Wold operating the camera. This was the same arrangement that was used in the first trial of the year against Cass Lake.

Michael Jorgenson, Thief River Falls attorney, assisted Cal Lindberg in coaching the team. There were 20 teams participating in mock trail competition in this region this year.

Now is the opportunity for you to acquire the most desirable of all gemstones, the "diamond of your dreams" in any shape, size, or color. During this spring buying trip, we would be happy to handpick a diamond just for you. Because we are buying directly from the diamond sightholder and cutter, we have eliminated the middleman. You benefit from our buying power. With an advance commitment, you are assured of these special savings.
If you want to take advantage of this opportunity, please stop in the Grand Forks or Thief River Falls store for more information. Or you can call us. In Grand Forks, contact me or Linda at 701-746-8436. Please contact LeeAnn in Thief River Falls at 218-681-4837. We need to hear from you by March 12.

Dear Readers,
When we lose our spouse, we lose someone whose life was completely enmeshed with ours. The grief is overwhelming. We have heard widows and widowers say, "I feel like half of myself is missing." It does help to remember that the severity of grief will diminish, and memories will be left to cherish. This does not mean it will ever disappear completely — you will grieve a little the rest of your life.

Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home

Modest decline noted in Thief River Falls crime

ordinance violations, the largest decline occurred in calendar parking violations, which seems to indicate that people are getting used to the idea of calendar parking. But as a result, fine monies collected on parking tickets was down by almost $2,000 from $13,523.06 to $11,566.

Because of increases in the fines chargeed for a traffic violation — other than parking — the fine monies collected by the court increased despite a modest decline in total numbers. Total fine monies collected and paid to the city in 1991 was $51,639.17. Parking tickets that are handled by the court are paid back the same as traffic tickets — on a one-third, two-thirds basis.

Moving violations, which were also down from a year ago, include types of violations such as driving while intoxicated, exhibition driving, speeding illegal turns etc. . . . Registration violations, which were also down from a year ago, include types of violations as no current registration, fraudulent use of plates and motorcycle violations.

Calls for service, which includes calls involving criminal activity or requests for assistance, such as for opening a car door, declined in 1991 from 11,224 to 11,031. The analysis brakes down call type between criminal calls for service and miscellaneous calls for service. Both showed declines. Criminal calls for service declined from 1,630 to 1,513. Miscellaneous calls for service declined from 9,594 to 9,518 despite the fact that miscellaneous calls include airport security, which was required by the FAA during the war.

Despite the decline, Chief Froschheiser is concerned about the results from the analysis of criminal calls. Significant increases, as mentioned above by Froschheiser, were monitored in criminal sexual conduct, up 11 from 7, thefts, up 20 from 210, and weapons offenses, up 5 from 5. Other violent crimes, such as assault, drugs/narcotics, and crimes against the family remained about the same.

In response to a question from councilmen, Froschheiser explained that the increase in criminal sexual conduct charges was not in response to the reporting of less severe forms of the charge. Froschheiser said it is true that there are different degrees of the crime, however, the crimes in this category are getting more serious.

Froschheiser was encouraged by a decrease in accidents. Accidents, which include personal injury, fatal accidents, and property damage declined by about nine and one-half per cent from 534 to 483.

One statistic of particular interest in Northern Minnesota involves snowmobiles. The number of snowmobile traffic stops increased significantly from 60 to 104. Chief Froschheiser noted that the police department began patrolling more regularly with its own snowmobile this year and as a result there have been more traffic stops.

For the first time in many years, the number of calls to open car doors dropped. In 1990, police officers opened 1,105 locked car doors. In 1991, they only opened 1,045.

The number of reports of disturbances (such as parties), drinking problems and family trouble, increased this year as well. Disturbance calls increased from 607 to 654. Drinking problem reports increased from 71 to 78. Family trouble reports increased from 93 to 95.

The increase in public nuisance calls, he said, are a direct result of parties. In addition, Froschheiser mentioned that in responding to reports of assault, his officers observed many youths living in crowded apartments. He believes the crowded apartments are contributing factors in the number of assaults.

The annual analysis also lists the crimes reported to the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension (BCA). The report to the BCA just re-classifies some of the same reports made to the police. Crimes reported to the BCA declined from 1,255 to 1,221. According to the BCA classification, the number of criminal violations charged out increased from 636 to 681 for adults, and increased from 163 to 183 for juveniles. The most common violation charged out to juveniles involved liquor law violations. That classification increased from 49 to 69.

Ruberto heads for Arabia

and primarily children of British and American people working in Saudi Arabia.

Only married couples who both have teaching certification are hired as teachers at the schools, Dr. Ruberto said, and his wife Linda will be on the faculty there. Their son Lee, 11, will attend the schools. Their daughter Katie, 16, who will be a junior next year, will attend Visitation Academy in the Twin Cities.

During the summer months of their three-year contract, Linda will have a 12-week vacation period and Leo will have an eight-week vacation. The schools will provide air transportation for the family to return to the United States during that time and Dr. Ruberto said he is looking for a place to purchase on Lake of the Woods to establish as his permanent residence.

While he preferred not to discuss the financial situation of the position or the schools which are privately supported and operated by an 11-member board, Dr. Ruberto did say that "the conditions of the area and the situation involving the schools makes it possible for them to do things that other schools are not able to do."

One of those "things" is to send him to an international conference in Athens, Greece, and to send the entire faculty of more than 200 teachers to a four-day conference next February in Nairobi, Kenya, Africa.

The Rubertos will live in a compound at Dhahran. Leo will report for duty there July 18 and Linda will follow with Lee in late August.

Although the initial contract is for three years, Dr. Ruberto said he is looking at the position as a career job. "If all goes well, as we expect it to, Linda and I intend to complete our careers over there. All income is untaxable, and the educational challenges should be stimulating. In the long run—and you can print this—our long range plans are to live in Thief River Falls after we finish our education careers."

Masons Open house Sunday

Members of Northern Lodge 236 of the Masons in Thief River Falls will conduct an open house for the public along with a brunch Sunday, March 8, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Heritage Community center in Thief River Falls.

The event is being coordinated with the other 37,000 Minnesota Masons in over 200 other Masonic lodges in the state to call attention to the Masonic Lodge, what it is and what it is not.

"This seventh annual event is a great opportunity for our non-Mason friends and neighbors to get a better understanding of who we are, what we stand for and the work we do in the community," states Dale Nelson, a spokesman for the organization.

"Masonry is the oldest and largest fraternal organization in the world with over 3.5 million members worldwide. It began as a building craft union in the early Middle Ages and until the 17th century its membership was restricted to craftsmen of the building trades.

"Gradually men from business and professional ranks were admitted, including such famous Americans as George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman and Gerald R. Ford. In all 14 U.S. Presidents have been Masons. Today, Masons come from all walks of life and are known for their beliefs of pride in America and importance of family."

Active in charitable concerns, Minnesota Masons support the Masonic Cancer hospital on the University of Minnesota campus, donate blood glucose monitors for diabetic students in schools throughout the state, fund the Crippled Children's Hospital in Minneapolis, and offer thousands of dollars of scholarships for deserving high school students.

"Cost of the pancake brunch is $3," Nelson said, "and information on Masonry such as the Blue Lodge, Chapter, Shrine and Eastern Star will be presented. Any questions on Masonry will be answered."

Severe crimes noted during slow period at LEC

Accidents. On February 25 a 1969 International truck driven by Jeff George Hayduk of Goodridge, was going east on Highway one when some ice dislodged from his truck and struck a vehicle driven by Sharon Elizabeth Hamre of Thief River Falls. The Hamre vehicle, a 1990 Dodge mini van, was traveling west. Damage to the left front was estimated at $1,000.

On February 27 at 2:46 p.m. police received a report of an accident at Third and Spruce. On March 1 at 3:57 a.m. the law enforcement center received a report that Kevin Duane Horn, Moorhead, age 28, driving a 1985 Yamaha ATV in Wyandotte township, failed to negotiate a turn and the ATV rolled several times. The vehicles were recovered in Thief River Falls. Charges are pending against Jason Wayne Fimrite, 19, Thief River Falls. INSURANCE Update

by Dave Nelson

When shopping for a new car, it pays to get one equipped with an air bag. Today 60% of automobiles have driver-side air bags as standard equipment. This is up from only 1% five years ago. This increase is causing a positive effect, with 28% fewer driver fatalities in cars outfitted with driver-side air bags than in those without them. This applies to head-on crashes, which account for approximately 60% of all car accidents involving serious or fatal injuries.

Air bags are a great safety measure and hopefully a life saving device. However, they can give one a false sense of security. Don't overlook the need for wearing seat belts or your responsibility to adequately insure your vehicle. At NORTHERN STATE AGENCY, we can tailor a policy to fit your individual needs. Our office is located in the Northern State Bank Building. To reach us call 681-4042. Hrs.: 8:30 - 5 Mon.-Fri., 8:30 - 6 Thurs.

Note: Air bags are not effective in preventing injury in other than head-on crashes.

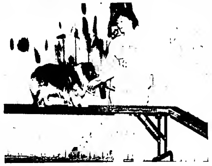
Thief River Falls Kennel club members work with their dogs on the Dog Agility course. Among the stations on the course are a table where dogs are required to lie down, hurdles and a chute which dogs must crawl through at the command of their handlers. The program which will be taught by the Thief River Falls Kennel club beginning this month will be demonstrated Tuesday, March 10, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Northwest vocational center.



Guiding her Sheltie "Calvin" on the elevated dog walk as part of Dog Agility training is Christine Shetler of Thief River Falls. Members of the Thief River Falls Kennel club experimented with the program recently. It will be demonstrated at the club's dog show and graduation Tuesday, March 10, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Northwest vocational center's auto body shop and offered as a club instructional program beginning this month.

Carrying a wooden dumbbell in its mouth, this black Cocker Spaniel owned by Frank Hazard enthusiastically jumps a hurdle during Dog Agility course training. A new program being offered by the Thief River Falls Kennel club, Dog Agility involves a fast pace, an athletic challenge, strategy and teamwork. Agility will be demonstrated at the club's dog show and graduation Tuesday, March 10, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Northwest vocational center school auto body shop at Zeh street and LaBree avenue.

and teamwork. It calls for a dog and handler who can work independently and together at the same time and have fun doing it, according to club members who have been practicing the sport.

The handler and dog must negotiate an obstacle course consisting of hurdles, tunnels and climbing obstacles within a designated time period with as few mistakes as possible. The handler guides the dog through the course while the dog does all the work.

All of the obstacles are accomplished with the dog off leash and the handler is responsible for the dog following the course in a designated pattern, using only his voice and hand signals.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

For nearly 10 years I have waited to serve God's people as an ordained pastor. On February 9 that prayer was answered. I would like to thank the community of Thief River Falls for your support, for your prayers and for your attendance at this very important celebration. I also want to thank you for your cards, your gifts and your good wishes.

Though my days here at Shepherd of the Pines parish have been extremely busy ones, I know already I am richly blessed with God's gifts—the members of this parish. Our shared ministry has begun, and we look forward to growing together in that ministry.

Not only has the community of Thief River Falls supported me in my preparation for this ministry, but many of you helped to shape that ministry. You were my teachers, my mentors and my role models. Your ministries to each other and to the community were my example since I was a small child. And when I returned, as an adult, your strong examples, your lights still gleamed brightly to serve God's people. For your examples of love I also thank you. Continue to be that example for others.

Your sister in Christ,
Pastor Terri Cuppett

Speaking Of . . .

. . . Just Grin and Bare It, But Bring Tape

Does anyone enjoy having a physical exam or see anything humorous about it? I had one recently and thought I might write something funny about it that other people could relate to. After thinking and thinking, I decided a physical wasn't very funny at all. After a few days passed, I thought some more and decided one or two things were funny. Now that I think of it some more, maybe it is me that is funny and not the exam at all.

By hook or crook, I managed to put off having a complete physical for several years. Yes, dumb, I know. Anyway, the time came when all of my procrastination caught up with me, and so did the doctor, and I couldn't avoid it any longer. So I did it. I made the appointment, the time came, and I actually went to the clinic to have the exam instead of canceling out at the last minute like I usually do.

Needless to say, it had been several years since I visited the doctor's office for a thorough exam, and I thought I would see some great changes in the way they perform everything, since this is the age of computers and technology and all. No such luck.

I hoped I might see the use of computers, particularly one that could scan my entire body in 30 seconds and that would be that, all done, end of exam. No such luck. No computers in sight.

I hoped that I might see some sort of Robo-Doc sitting there, ready to perform the nitty gritty of the physical in a very impersonal manner. No such luck. No Robo-Doc, just a real, live one. And he smiled.

I hoped I wouldn't have to disrobe completely and that the exam would at least now be performed while I was fully dressed. No such luck in that area, either. There was the old paper smock, ready and waiting for me. And, do you know, it still comes in the same old "one size fits all" that doesn't fit anyone.

I put on that paper smock in no time flat, grabbed the paper sheet that was to cover the rest of me, and jumped up on the table. Then I sat there, breathing fearfully and rustling.

Isn't it amazing how quiet that clinic gets once you are sitting there dressed in nothing but paper? You rustle and rattle every time you breathe, let alone when you move something or shift your position, and you must know everyone else in all those other little rooms down the hall can hear you. And you shift around a lot, because the paper scratches and itches, and also because the paper doesn't stay put.

First the smock fell off my shoulder. While I was trying to crimp it to stay up there, my sheet slid down. When I quickly pulled up the sheet and tucked it in, the other shoulder of my smock fell off. When I tried to crimp that side, the other side began to tear. While all this smock crimping and tearing was going on, my sheet came untucked. Now that the sheet was all wrinkled, it tore when I tucked it in again.

I was just thinking about hopping off the table, getting dressed, and sneaking out when the doctor came in. I didn't tell him what I had been thinking. Maybe he knew, because that's when he smiled.

I was thoroughly examined, from head to toe and in between, too. I feel better, at least I do until I get the letter from the doctor with the blood test results and he starts to talk about things like diet and smoking and exercise. Then I might feel worse. But at least I had my check-up, didn't I?

How about you? Have you had your physical lately? If you haven't and you plan to go soon, let me give you a little tip. Take some tape along.

TRF Council looks at Avenue of Flags

Thief River Falls city council gave its approval to continued study of a proposal to create an Avenue of Flags.

Tuesday night during a regular meeting of the city council, Bob Bergan, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, presented the concept of an Avenue of Flags. The concept came along with a project model, which Bergan displayed to the council.

Bergan explained that the chamber had talked to all of the clubs in the community and that they seemed to favor continued study of this project. The concept envisions an Avenue of Flags probably in Greenwood cemetery and possibly extending down Pennington avenue to the intersection of First street some day. Bergan doesn't believe the flags would be up 24-hours a day but believes the flags would be designed to be set up and taken down for special occasions.

While a model has been created, Bergan said much of the project remains open to discussion. They haven't even decided whether an American Flag will be used. The type of polls to be used and the cost also have to be researched, Bergan added.

Bergan said the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce is spearheading the project for the community.

■ Agreement between the city and the police federation has been reached.

Thief River Falls city council approved the police federation contract for 1992 following a brief description of the agreement from Alderman Dale Wennberg, who is a member of the city's labor committee.

The proposal approved by the council contains the following items, which were briefly discussed at the council meeting: a one year contract period; a wage increase based on top patrolman salary from $13.22 to $13.60, an increase in vacation time for the last step (over 20 years) from 21 days to 22 days, which also allows the officer to use up the time 90 days past the employee's anniversary date; holiday pay and severance as per contract; a wellness plan change increasing the amount from $10 per day to $15 per day; an increase in personal leave days from two to three days; shift commander pay as per contract; a night shift pay increase from $2 to $4, and insurance coverage (80/20) as per contract.

■ Northland community band will receive $2,100 for a band budget.

Ormond Johnson, band manager, and Les Torgerson, band director, requested $2,100 from the council for a band budget. The band is entering its 20th year and has always received part of its operating budget from the city council. The request does not cover director's salary, music, instruments, and rehearsal time and space at Northland Community College. It helps cover costs associated with travel to and from performances and performances. In addition to seasonal performances locally, the band sometimes performs at arts festivals or other events. This year, Torgerson proposes that the band participate this spring in the Minnesota Community College Fine Arts Festival held at Arrowwood Resort near Alexandria. Part of the cost of traveling to the event will be covered by individual members of the band who also pay tuition to participate in the band.

In other business, the council: approved the final plat for the Southwoods Addition on condition certain details are taken care of; a public hearing on the 1992 street and sidewalk improvement project will be held March 23 at 7 p.m.; bids for the Highway 32 project will be opened May 8 at 9:30 a.m. in the Transportation building in St. Paul; approved use of MSA funds to fund the city's share of traffic signal costs for Highway 32 and Third street project, which is estimated at $105,000; approved a request to restrict each side of Highway 1 east from Red Robe parking lot to Sherwood avenue as no parking; approved a progression raise for Ralph Swrck, part-time police officer; approved a bid of $33,511 for a generator rewind at the power plant; approved bids for surplus property; and approved a study of problems at the Sports Arena.

Sheriff's deputy resigns position as investigator

Pennington County Chief Deputy and Investigator Howard Seim has resigned.

Howard Seim presented his resignation to the Pennington county board of commissioners Tuesday. Seim told the board that he has accepted a position with the Rochester police department and will be starting employment there on March 9.

Seim has been employed with the Pennington county sheriff's office for 13 years. In his resignation, Seim says his decision to make a career change was a very difficult one to make. He stated that he has made many lasting friendships with co-workers and other people in this area. He also said he feels that Thief River Falls and the surrounding communities are very good areas to work and raise a family. He added that he was grateful for the valuable experience he gained while working here and thanked the sheriff's department, board of commissioners and all the fine people of Pennington county who made his stay as enjoyable as it has been.

The county board accepted his resignation which becomes effective March 6.

The county board has decided not to fill the position of chief deputy and investigator at this time, but has put part-time deputy Ben Kuznia on full-time status.

Slow Drains?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again!

The secret? Clean drains don't run slow. Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are signals that a thick layer of "gook" is choking your pipes. This gook coats the entire length of your pipe - from sink to sewer, or septic.

Conventional drain openers cannot remove this build up. Even a small tunnel through the waste lets them flow through the pipe, leaving the gook behind!

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes like new... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That allows it to liquefy even years of build up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, Plumb Clean is money-back guaranteed!

Save Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, you would have to buy over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35 ¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safety. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some, may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course all plumbing.

So, if your drains are signalling you, get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today! Available at:

Lakers get by Prowlers 59-52

Detroit Lakes was the survivor Friday in a 59-52 boys high school basketball match-up with Thief River Falls that would have to be scored low for artistic impression.

It was a case of winning ugly for Detroit Lakes. For Thief River Falls, it was....another loss. The Prowlers' losing streak reached 14 games and their record dripped to 2-19, including an 0-7 effort against North Sub-Section 8AA opponents.

Detroit Lakes is just a couple of steps ahead of Thief River Falls at 4-16, which includes a home-and-home sweep over the Prowlers.

The basketball in the first half of Friday's rematch wasn't bad. The lead changed hands six times and it was tied on five occasions as the Lakers posted a 14-12 first quarter lead and the Prowlers had a 27-26 edge at intermission.

But things took a turn for the worse when the teams came out for the second half. They were a combined 0-for-6 from the field while turning it over seven times in the first 3:17 of the third quarter.

Detroit Lakes finally broke the ice on a drive by Jason Soyring – following a Thief River Falls turnover. That was the start of an 8-0 run for the Lakers as Jason Maneval drove the base line, then Kevin Lillis and Toby Steinmetz went in for fast break lay-ups following turnovers on the part of the Prowlers.

Thief River Falls finally picked up a second half basket when Nathan Egge scored with 5:52 elapsed. And since they went the final 2:41 of the first half without scoring, the Prowlers wound up with an 81/2-minute scoreless steak.

"It was a case of deja vu," said disappointed Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "It was the same thing that happened down there – the same quarter. We were happy with our first half, but we just couldn't get in sync in the third quarter."

A rebound basket by Tom Upham with 44 seconds remaining kept the Prowlers within 36-33 at the close of the third quarter, but the Prowlers' season-long scoring leader picked up his fourth foul in the final seconds of the period, then lasted just 16 seconds of the fourth quarter before ending his night with a fifth foul.

James Horvick opened the fourth quarter by scoring from underneath, and then Soyring grabbed his own rebound to produce a three-point play that opened up a 41-33 spread the Prowlers would never overcome.

The Lakers had a 10-point lead on six occasions in the final 5:39, and they never led by less than six down the stretch.

Two free throws by John Wallberg and a short jumper by Kelly Swanson managed to get the Prowlers within 55-49 with 59 seconds remaining, but Steinmetz and Soyring both sank two free throws in the next 23 seconds to seal it.

Soyring, a 6-2 senior forward, led all scorers with 21 points. Steinmetz, a 5-9 sophomore, had 17. Swanson, a 6-1 senior, was the Prowlers' lone double figure scorer, finishing with 12 points. Upham, a 6-0 senior, left with 9 points.

Thief River Falls shot just 36 percent from the field for the night on an 18-for-50 showing. "We tried everything, but no one could put the ball in the hole," offered Brekke.

Detroit Lakes had a 47 percent 22-for-47 shooting night.

The free throw figures were nearly identical – 13-for-20 by the Prowlers; 13-for-21 by the Lakers. The Prowlers had a 28-21 rebound edge. The Lakers topped the turnover charts 17-16.

It was the final home appearance of the year for the Prowlers, who will complete regular season play at Moorhead Friday. They will open North Sub-Section 8AA tournament play on the road March 12.

Grygla-Gatzke rally falls short

A Grygla-Gatzke comeback effort fell short Friday as the Eagles lost a 66-59 boys high school basketball game to Tri-County.

Poor first half shooting (5-for-26) put the Eagles in a 43-23 hole, but they stormed back to make it a three-point game with 2 1/2 minutes left before Tri-County sealed it at the free throw line.

"They out-played us in the first half," reported Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson, "but we made a good run at them. I'm never happy to lose, but I was real happy with the way the kids came back after being down like that."

Corey Spilde netted a game-high 23 points to lead a group of four double figure Tri-County scorers. A balanced Grygla-Gatzke attack included Justin Lunsetter with 16 points, Ryan Bakken 15 and Jeremy Engelstad 14.

The Eagles recovered from their first half shooting woes to hit the 40 percent figure from the field for the game (25-for-62). They also cashed in on 13 of 18 free throw opportunities. The Wildcats were 25-for-42 from the field (59 percent) and 13-for-19 at the line.

Grygla-Gatzke finished with a 38-28 rebound advantage. The turnovers were even at 14-apiece.

The 14-8 Eagles will begin Section 8A Sub-Section 4 tournament play Saturday with an 8 p.m. match-up against the winner of a Thursday night Argyle vs. Lake of the Woods contest.

The Skippers turned in a 60 percent 24-for-40 shooting performance from the field as they reversed a 55-54 regular season loss to the Eagles.

Krissi Super scored 19 points and Holly Gram had a 17-point, 18-rebound performance for the winners, who converted a 12-12 first quarter tie into a 28-22 halftime lead, then broke it open by producing nine points on their first four possession of the second half en route to a 45-30 third quarter spread.

"It was by far our best game of the season," reported Middle River coach Tom Neibauer.

DeAnn Ellefson led Argyle with 12 points.

Northland will host NJCAA Region 13 tournament Friday-Saturday...

Pioneers win first state basketball tournament title

A Northland Community College trophy case that has enough hardware to make Pat Summerall proud added another piece to its collection Saturday when the Pioneers turned a remarkable late-season run into the school's first-ever Minnesota Community College Conference men's state basketball tournament title-winning performance.

The Thursday-Friday-Saturday sweep of Vermilion 110-94, Worthington 109-97 and Bethany 110-98 at Normandale Community College in Bloomington not only brought the MCCC state championship trophy to Thief River Falls, it made Northland the host school for the four-team National Junior College Athletic Association Region 13 Division 1 tournament.

The four-team event, featuring state champions from Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin and Michigan, will be staged as afternoon doubleheaders Friday and Saturday.

Friday semifinals will find Wisconsin's Milwaukee Area Technical College (21-5) playing Gogebic Community College of Ironwood, Michigan (15-8) at 1 p.m., followed by Northland (16-9) vs. North Dakota State College of Science from Wahpeton (24-2).

Saturday finals include the third place game at 1 p.m. and championship game at 3.

The Region 13 winner will be the host team for a first-round NJCAA national tournament game March 13 vs. the Region 9 champion. The one-game match-up will produce a qualifier for the field of 16 teams appearing at the NJCAA tournament in Hutchinson, Kansas.

That Northland is a state champion, hosting a regional tournament and bidding for a national tournament spot has floored even Pioneers' long-time coach Chet Engelman. "Three weeks ago it didn't look like we would even be in the state tournament," he admitted.

At that time Fergus Falls led the Northwest Division with a 6-0 record and Northland was a distant second at 4-3. But the Pioneers finished MCCC regular season play with wins over Brainerd 110-101, Fergus Falls 112-93 and the University of Minnesota-Crookston 95-92 to wind up in a first place Northwest Division tie with the Spartans.

That finishing kick put an Engelman-coached team in the state tournament for the 15th time in the past 19 years. And for the fourth time in the past seven years, the Pioneers reached the MCCC state finals. But unlike those Bud Grant-coached Vikings of the 1970's who were 0-for-4 in Super Bowl appearances, Engelman's Pioneers came out a champion this time.

Summerall, a spokesman for a national hardware store chain, could probably put together a sales pitch for Northland's basketball trophy case that includes nine state tournament mementos – two consolation titles and three third place finishes to go along with the three runner-up efforts and now the state crown.

Northland has also won state titles in hockey and golf – two sports that are no longer offered at the school.

"The kids have been great," said Engelman, who has over 300 wins in his 22 years at Northland. "We asked them to play hard, and they did. I couldn't be more proud of them. They did what they had to do to win."

The state championship performance was a total team effort, pointed out Engelman, but three Pioneers were singled out for all-tournament recognition – Travis Brown, Joe Comstock and Larone Greer.

Other all-tournament selections were Gerrell Clardy, Anoka-Ramsey; Eric Thomson, Minneapolis; Jeff Berkhof, Worthington; Brett Inniger, Fergus Falls; Rodney Ousley and Damon Scott, Bethany; along with Earl Foster, Vermilion.

General admission tickets for the Region 13 games in the 900-seat Northland gym will be $4 for adults and $2 for students. Ticket sales will start and doors will open at 12-noon both days of the tournament.

"It should be a good tournament," said Engelman, whose team has lost a pair of games this year to NDSCS, the season-long leader in the Region 13 coaches poll. "Wahpeton has to be considered the favorite. We're going to have to play a great game to beat them. But, hey, we beat some good teams to get to this point."

Pioneers outlast Ironmen 110-94 in opener

Northland sacrificed short term gain for a bigger prize at the end of the game Thursday as the Pioneers opened the 1992 Minnesota Community College Conference state men's basketball tournament with a 110-94 quarterfinal win over Vermilion.

The Ironmen enjoyed early success as the Pioneers shuffled players in and out of the line-up. But once Northland coach Chet Engelman got a bulk of his team warmed up, the Pioneers took over.

"We got a lot of people in the game early," confirmed Engelman. "We wanted to let everyone get a taste of playing a state tournament game and get the jitters out of their system. And we wanted to keep fresh legs on the court. We might have sacrificed some things at the start, but if we're a running team and we're in condition, then it should show up in the second half. It did."

Vermilion had a 38-31 lead with 3:08 remaining in the first half, but 3-point baskets by Joe Comstock and Larone Greer sparked an 11-3 Northland finish that gave the Pioneers a 42-41 halftime edge.

Northland's running game then out-scored Vermilion 68-53 in the second half. "I never felt we were in danger," said Engelman. "Our kids played well. We're happy."

Five Northland scorers hit double figures as Greer netted 23 points, Travis Brown 18, Comstock 14, Fred Sculfield 13 and John Clark 12.

"We got some great play off the bench from kids like Fred Sculfield, Donald Hardaway, Kelly Dahl and Nate Carlin," pointed out Engelman.

Troy Degroot led a trio of high-scoring Ironmen with 25 points, while Earl Foster had 22 and Brock Lortcher finished with 21.

Northland was 38-for-73 from the field (52 percent) and capitalized on Vermilion's must-foul situation at the end to finish with a productive 26-for-40 night at the free throw line. The Ironmen were 36-for-74 from the field (49 percent) and 10-for-17 at the line. They had a 34-32 rebound edge, but also topped the turnover charts 27-22.

Northland wins semifinal 109-97

A late-game surge from the field, then a win-clinching finishing kick at the free throw line produced a 109-97 Northland win over Worthington Friday night in the semifinals of the 1992 Minnesota Community College Conference men's state basketball tournament at Normandale.

Northland started strong, running up an early 15-4 lead. But Worthington promptly answered the challenge and wound up with a 56-50 halftime lead.

The Pioneers went back on top when William Mitchell finished off a 10-point run that put Northland ahead 65-60 near the midway mark of the second half.

Northland never trailed after a three-point basket by Donald Hardaway produced a 77-75 lead with 9:03 remaining, but there were six ties before an eight-point run turned an 84-84 draw into a 92-84 Northland advantage following a basket by Brown with 3:17 left.

That was the last field goal of the game for the Pioneers, who finished it off with an 11-for-14 showing at the free throw line, including a 4-for-4 effort by Joe Comstock and a 7-for-8 performance by Larone Greer.

Brown turned in a 26-point, 17-rebound game, while Comstock netted 22 points, Greer and Kelly Dahl both had 12 and John Clark added 11. Greer also had nine assists and Fred Sculfield had eight assists and five loose ball recoveries off the bench.

Worthington, No. 3 in the final regular season MCCC coaches poll, also had five double figure scorers, led by Dominik Turner with 27 points.

"We played hard," said Northland coach Chet Engelman. "Everybody did a great job."

Northland was 35-for-78 from the field (45 percent) and a productive 26-for-31 at the free throw line. Worthington went 35-for-82 from the field (43 percent) and 19-for-22 at the line. Worthington finished with a 51-47 rebound edge. The Pioneers had 16 turnovers, but also came up with 26 recoveries.

Pioneers beat Bethany in finals

Like all basketball teams, Northland has five starters. But unlike some teams, the Pioneers also have a very deep, very talented bench. That was proved big time Saturday when Northland upset No. 1-ranked Bethany 110-98 in the championship game of the 1992 Minnesota Community College Conference men's state basketball tournament in Bloomington.

In logging 121 minutes of playing time, the Northland starters produced 63 points and 36 rebounds. But just as important to the Pioneers' first-ever state title were the 47 points and 24 rebounds the bench supplied in 79 minutes of relief work.

"We played ten kids and they all contributed," pointed out Northland coach Chet Engelman. "Our starters all did a great job, and kids like Nate Carlin, Fred Sculfield and Donald Hardaway were outstanding off the bench."

Bethany turned an 11-11 tie into a 21-11 lead five minutes into the game and the Mankato school rolled into halftime with a 52-45 advantage. The Bethany lead was 60-49 with 17:41 remaining and still sat at 74-66 with 10:57 to go before an 11-point Northland run produced the Pioneers' first lead of the night when a three-point play by Sculfield was followed two Hardaway free throws.

Bethany went back on top 79-78 when Erik Church hit a three-point basket and Jeff Younge got one worth two, but Northland grabbed firm control with a 16-2 scoreboard run that put the title in reach.

That game-clinching surge was highlighted when Kelly Dahl, who had just re-entered the game, hit a trio of three-point baskets. Carlin, Hardaway and Larone Greer also scored during that time to build a 94-81 cushion with 3:30 remaining.

And following a pattern set in the earlier tournament wins over Vermilion and Worthington, Northland finished it with nothing but free throws in the final 3 1/2 minutes.

Greer wound up with 24 points, William Mitchell 18, Hardaway 14, Dahl 13 and Carlin 12, along with 12 rebounds. The 60-47 Northland edge on the boards included 20 rebounds for Travis Brown.

Damon Scott led Bethany with 22 points, while Church had 21.

Northland was 42-for-83 from the field (51 percent) and 20-for-28 at the free throw line. Bethany went 37-for-92 from the field (40 percent) and 18-for-26 at the line. The Pioneers had 18 turnovers and 13 recoveries.

It was just the third loss in 25 games for Bethany.

All-Section 8 hockey selections are listed

Bemidji and Moorhead both placed two players on the 1991-92 All-Section 8 high school hockey team, announced this week following voting by the coaches.

First Team selections included goalie Toby Kvalevog and defenseman Andy Brink from Bemidji; defenseman Rhett Marsten and forward Josh Arnold of Moorhead; defenseman Jason Wensloff, Roseau; forward Jerr Johnson, Brainerd and forward Jason Bies, East Grand Forks. Arnold is a sophomore and Kvalevog is a junior; the rest of the First Team picks are seniors.

Coaches are asked to vote for two goaltenders, four defensemen and six forwards, with the top vote-getters being named to the First and Second Teams, while the others are listed as honorable mention picks. Bagley did not vote, and coaches could not vote for players on their own team. A tie in the voting between Marsten and Wensloff produced three First Team defensemen.

Thief River Falls junior forward Jason Svir was a Second Team selection, while the Prowlers' Aaron Broten, Barry Dowers, Marc Haugen, Nathan Knutson, Rick Osthy and Carter Rogalla were all included in honorable mention list.

Terry Cullen of Moorhead was named Section 8 Coach of the Year for the third time in his six year with the Spuds.

Championship game will be played Tuesday, March 10.

All North Sub-Section 8AA games will begin at 7:30 p.m. Ticket prices are $3.50 for adults and $2 for students.

Skippers fall 51-39 to Tigers

Middle River's offense dried up in the fourth quarter Monday as the Skippers lost a 51-39 Section 8A Sub-Section 4 girls high school basketball tournament semifinal game to Stephen at Warroad.

A third place game Friday at 6:30 p.m. against Roseau will close out the 1991-92 season for the 14-10 Middle River squad.

The Skippers challenged the favored Tigers most of the way, trailing only 19-14 and 31-29 and 40-37 at the quarter stops.

In fact, Middle River led 37-36 with a minute left in the third quarter. But that's when Holly Gram picked up her fourth foul, and the Skippers did not hit another field goal the rest of the night.

"It was a good game to that point," said Middle River coach Tom Neibauer. "But we just hit a wall when Holly got her fourth foul. She stayed in there, but we just didn't execute our offense after that. Our first option to Holly wasn't there, and we didn't execute the second option."

Gram and Krissi Super, the Skippers' season-long 1-2 scoring punch, finished with 10 points each. Darcy Kuznia hit the offensive boards hard in scoring a game-high 21 points for the Tigers. Teammate Rachel Kazmierczak added 10 points to the Stephen total.

"We gave them too many second shots," acknowledged Neibauer.

Moorhead forward Jim Jacobson put the puck past Fergus Falls goalie Ben Schierer at the start of the second period in Saturday's Section 8 high school hockey tournament Tier 1 semifinals at the Thief River Falls Sports Arena, but officials disallowed the apparent goal – saying that Jacobson directed the puck into the net with his skate. The Spuds won 8-3.

Section 8 hockey tournament...

Cards, Pirates in Tier II finals

First-ever Section 8 Tier II high school hockey tournament title will go to either Alexandria or Crookston Thursday when the Cardinals and Pirates face off at 7:30 p.m. in the Thief River Falls Sports Arena.

Highest seeds among the teams that were not among the top eight schools picked to compete for the Section 8 Tier 1 crown, Alexandria and Crookston will try to make the most of an opportunity to earn a first-ever state hockey tournament appearance.

They advanced through Friday's quarterfinal doubleheader at the Sports Arena when the Cardinals shut out Lake of the Woods 5-0 and the Pirates got by Red Lake Falls 5-4 in overtime.

Alexandria is 17-6-1 for the year. Crookston is 6-18. They haven't met on the ice since 1985. The Cardinals have never been in a Section 8 title game. The Pirates reached the finals in 1987 before losing to Warroad 4-1.

The winner will move into the Tier II state tournament, scheduled to get underway Wednesday, March 11, at the St. Paul Civic Center.

Red Lake Falls	4

A controversial finish ended regulation time, and a goal by Scott Blackburn put an abrupt end to overtime as Crookston pulled out a 5-4 win against Red Lake Falls.

Goals by Red Lake Falls' Mark St. Marie, Mike Schafer and Andy Knott in the final 5:36 of the second period provided the Eagles with a 4-2 lead.

Crookston's Paul Johnson scored at 12:51 of the third period, but the Eagles looked like they were going to hang on for a 4-3 win before a goal mouth scramble in the final moments sent the puck past Red Lake Falls goalie Jesse Barbot as the scoreboard clock hit :00.

After conferring for several minutes, the officials ruled the goal – awarded to Corey Normandin – beat the clock and tied the game 4-4.

Blackburn then won it 1:57 into sudden-death overtime.

Wade Demarais had given Crookston a 1-0 first period lead, but Tom Delmore tied it just 13 seconds into the second period. Mike Peterson gave the Pirates another one-goal edge at 7:10 before the Eagles' caught fire at the end of the middle stanza.

Barbot, a freshman, finished with 32 saves. Crookston goalie Steve Sims stopped 14 shots.

Donavon Quam joins 1,000-Point Club...

Huskies lose shoot-out

An 11-game Goodridge winning streak ended Friday when the Huskies lost a 102-81 boys high school basketball shoot-out with Clearbrook-Gonvick.

Goodridge finished the regular season at 17-4, with two of the losses coming at the hands of Clearbrook-Gonvick – a 78-53 winner when they met in Clearbrook back on Jan. 10. The home-and-home sweep produced a North Tri-County Conference crown for the Bears. The Huskies would have gained a title tie with a win in the regular season finale.

Despite the setback, there was reason for celebration on the Goodridge bench when 6-4 senior Donavon Quam was recognized for breaking the 1,000-point barrier. The game was stopped momentarily and Quam was given the game ball after he drilled a quick three-point basket to begin a 24-point night.

It was the Huskies' highest point production of the season, but still came up short against the hot-shooting 16-5 Bears. "I can't fault the kids' efforts, except to say we should learn to be more patient on offense when the other team is that hot," said Goodridge coach John Rahn."

High-scoring Jeff Brunsberg had four three-point baskets as part of a 20-point first half when the Bears out-scored the Huskies 25-18 in both the first and second quarters for a 50-36 halftime lead. He finished with 33.

Joining Donavon Quam in double figures for the Huskies were Peter Grosz and Brandon Blaine with 13 points each, Eldon Quam 11 and Travis Kotrba 10. Other double figure point producers for the Bears were Perry Torgerson with 18, Craig Nelson 15 and Joe Johnson 10.

Goodridge was 34-for-70 from the field (48 percent) and 11-for-21 at the free throw line. Clearbrook-Gonvick was 42-for-72 from the field (58 percent) and 10-for-18 at the line. The Huskies out-rebounded the Bears 28-24.

Missed free throws cost Nordics, 52-41

Marshall County Central missed 11 of 16 free throw attempts Friday and wound up losing an 11-point, 52-41 regular season-ending boys high school basketball decision at Stephen.

The Tigers capitalized on 3-for-11 first half Marshall County Central free throw shooting to build a 30-13 cushion at intermission.

"The free throws really hurt," acknowledged Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "Actually, we didn't play so badly, but they played almost flawless."

David McGlynn was 8-for-9 from the field en route to a 20-point first half performance for the winners. He finished with a game-high 26 points. Ryan McGlynn added 12 points to the Stephen total. Ivan Hirst was the lone Marshall County Central scorer in double figures, netting 16 points.

Stephen shot 49 percent from the field (22-for-45), while Marshall County Central had a 38 percent shooting night (18-for-48). While the Nordics were struggling through their 5-for-16 free throw performance, the Tigers had a quiet 3-for-6 night at the line.

Tier I hockey finals are set

Roseau is 15-7-2. They met Feb. 8 in Moorhead and the Rams skated to a surprisingly easy 5-1 victory.

The winner will advance to the 1992 Tier I state tournament, which begins Thursday, March 12, at the St. Paul Civic Center.

Roseau beat Brainerd 3-2 in double-overtime in last year's single-class Section 8 tournament finals. And the Rams downed Bemidji 6-1 in the 1990 title game en route to a state championship finish.

Moorhead's only appearance in the Section 8 finals came in 1986 when the Spuds were overwhelmed by Bemidji 10-0.

Moorhead 8
Fergus Falls 3

Moorhead scored four times on the power play and once while shorthanded in beating Fergus Falls 8-3.

The Spuds were 3-for-3 on the power play en route to a 4-1 first period lead as Rhett Marsten scored from the point at 4:01, Greg Salvevold shoved one in from the side at 5:23, Justin Wegner sent an ice-hugger through a crowd at 7:29 and Louis Paquin finished off a goal mouth scramble at 13:54.

Fergus Falls defenseman Tim True, who had scored from the middle of the slot area just 32 seconds after Salvevold's goal in the first period, added a second goal at 8:26 of the second period when he held on to the puck at the point as a Moorhead forward went down to block the shot, stepped around the defender and beat goalie Troy Brekke.

Just 43 seconds later it was a 4-3 hockey game as Greg Buckmeier reached in behind Brekke, who got a piece of a shot from the point by Brady Fredrickson but couldn't hold on.

However, Moorhead took the starch out of the Fergus Falls comeback when Paquin put a long rebound into an open net just 1:55 into the third period.

Ryan Kraft skated out from behind the net to score a shorthanded goal at 6:30 to make sure the Fergus Falls rally was dead.

The Spuds made it 7-3 at 11:33 when a long shot by Haberlach got through the pads of Fergus Falls goalie Ben Schierer, and wrapped things up on a perfect power play set-up for Josh Arnold at 13:55.

The balanced Moorhead attack featured two goals and an assist for the speedy Paquin, along with a one goal and two assists apiece for Haberlach, Kraft, Arnold and Marsten.

Scoring

First period - Moorhead, Rhett Marsten (Louis Paquin), 5:03. Moorhead, Greg Salvevold (Josh Arnold-Rob Gramer), 6:23. FF, Tim True (Brady Fredrickson-Jeremy Stigen), 5:55. Moorhead, Justin Wegner (Arnold), 7:29. Moorhead, Paquin (Ryan Kraft-Jason Blake), 13:54.

Second period - FF, True (David Olson), 8:26. FF, Greg Buckmeier (Fredrickson), 10:15.

Third period - Moorhead, Paquin (Marsten-John Haberlach), 1:55. Moorhead, Kraft (Haberlach), 6:30; Moorhead, Haberlach (Marsten-Kraft), 11:33. Moorhead, Arnold (Salvevold-Erick Sloen), 13:55.

Goalie Saves

FF - Ben Schierer 11-8-19 – 38.
Moorhead - Troy Brekke 3-13-7 – 23.

Bemidji 2

Roseau scored twice in a 1:57 span midway through the third period as the Rams erased a 2-1 deficit and went on to beat Bemidji 4-2.

Although two different players scored the goals, tying and game-winning shots were from nearly the identical spot on the rink – the top of the face-off circle to the right of Bemidji goalie Toby Kvalevog.

Jon Byfuglien got the equalizer at 6:45 and Dion Waage came back for the game winner at 8:42.

An open net goal by Ryan Hokanson in the final six seconds finished it.

It was Hokanson who opened the scoring at 3:54 of the second period when the Rams ended up with two players standing all alone in front of Kvalevog while Bemidji tried – unsuccessfully – to clear the zone. Hokanson stickhandled the puck behind the netminder for the 1-0 edge.

Bemidji tied it 1-1 at 5:37 when John Somrock slipped behind the Rams and took Andy Brink's long pass for a breakaway. He put a wrist shot over the shoulder of Roseau goalie Ross Boldt, just under the crossbar.

A power play rebound by Tony Burlingame put Bemidji ahead 2-1 at 7:35 of the second period.

The Lumberjacks' close-to-the-vest style of play kept that score from changing until the look-alike shots by Byfuglien and Waage.

Scoring

First period - none.

Second period - Roseau, Ryan Hokanson (Greg Foster), 3:54. Bemidji, John Somrock (Andy Brink), 5:37. Bemidji, Tony Burlingame (John Grand-Somrock), 7:35.

Third period - Roseau, Jon Byfuglien (Dale Lund), 6:45. Roseau, Dion Waage (LeEarl Rugland), 8:42.

Goalie Saves

Bemidji - Toby Kvalevog 3-7-7 – 17.
Roseau - Ross Boldt 2-8-2 – 12.

Murder charges to be filed following knife incident

A local man, arrested for allegedly slasbing another local man with a knife, is being charged with attempted murder in the second degree, assault in the second degree, and gross misdemeanor assault.

On March 1 at 1:42 a.m. the law enforcement center received an emergency 911 call from a residence in Northwest Trailer court. According to the report, Randy Berg, 31, Thief River Falls, allegedly slashed a young male with a seven-inch buck knife outside the residence and also allegedly assaulted a female.

The man who was slashed with a knife was taken to Northwest Medical Center by ambulance, treated and released for cuts to his neck and face. Berg had fled out the back door of the trailer but was later located at a residence in Thief River Falls. He remains in custody at the law enforcement center.

A law enforcement center spokesperson announced Tuesday that Berg was being charged with attempted murder in the second degree, assault in the second degree in the knife incident, and a gross misdemeanor assault charge, which stems from the incident involving the local female.

TRF man arrested after accident

Law enforcement officers arrested Chad Michael Hageman, 21, Thief River Falls, on February 27 at 9:45 p.m. Hageman, who was arrested for driving while intoxicated and possession of drug paraphernalia, was also picked up on a warrant for failure to appear on a drinking in public charge.

When officers arrested Hageman they discovered that he had injured himself. According to the report, Hageman injured himself when while riding his snowmobile, his right arm struck a mailbox while traveling north on State Aid 3 in Rocksbury township. Three fingers were broken, one lacerated. Hageman was treated at Northwest Medical Center.

Crime reports to Co. sheriff decline in '91

Pennington county sheriff's department realized a slight increase in activity last year. Pennington county sheriff Bob Wold presented the sheriff's department annual report to the Pennington county board of commissioners Tuesday.

The report indicates that acitivity, which includes traffic violations, crime and assistance reports, increased from 4,908 to 5,047 — virtually no increase when the 141 airport checks required by the FAA during the war are removed from the analysis, said Sheriff Wold.

Traffic violations increased from 240 to 266. Most of the increases were a result of a significant increase in open bottle violations, which increased from 8 to 23. Driving after revocation violations also incrcosed signficantly, from one to 7.

Criminal calls for service, which include assault, burglary, forgery/counterfeit, drugs/narcotics etc. . . , declined from 718 for the year to 683. Sheriff Wold found no significont changes in these statistics to study.

Miscellaneous calls for service, which include abandoned autos, business checks, funeral escorts, warrants etc. . ., showed an increase from 4,190 to 4,364. Sheriff Wold noted that increased responses by his department to court orders and warrants could indicate difficult economic times.

Miscellaneous colls for service also include the number of prisoners held at the jail. During the year, the sheriff's department held 322 people in jail, compared to 302 from the previous year. Sheriff Wold did say the sheriff's office was studying a proposal to increase the jail's copacity from 14 or 15 to 18. Such a proposition would require extra people on duty at the jail and state approval, however.

The sheriff's department is required to report certain crimes to the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension in Minnesota. Those reports also remained virtually the same. The total number of calls declined from 496 to 490.

The number of crimes charged out and reported to the BCA increased, however, from 232 to 252. Crimes charged to juveniles remained virtually the same at 45, down two from 1990.

Once again the sheriff's department maintained a high percentage on check collections. The sheriff's department collected 90 per cent of the value of the checks turned over the sheriff's department for collection. A total of 1,506 checks were turned over to the sheriff's department for collection in 1991, which compares to 1,513 in 1990. The total value of those checks, however, dropped from $60,665 in 1990 to $48,201 in 1991. Of the total, $28,631 was collected by the sheriff's department, $2,491 was paid directly, and $12,572 was charged through the court. Total collected was $43,694.

Fourth concert of series on Monday

Fourth concert of the Thief River Falls Concert association series for 1991-92 will be presented Monday, March 9, when the Ecco Trio performs at 7:30 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium.

Admission will be by season membership only.

The trio includes pianist Collette Valentine, violinist Junko Ohtsu and cellist Evelyn Elsing, each a virtuoso performer on her respective instrument. In combination they provide an exceptional musical ensemble.

Valentine is a prize-winner in the MTNA Collegiate Finals and the Gina Bachauer, University of Maryland and Washington International Piano competitions.

Ohtsu is a graduate of Juilliard, a recipient of a diploma from the Fritz Kreisler competition and a John D. Rockefeller grant. She made a strong debut at Carnegie Recital hall.

Elsing was a finalist in the prestigious Tchaikovsky competition and winner of a 1985 National Endowment for the Arts fellowship grant.

Together the trio has performed numerous times for the Library of Congress and has recently appeared at the National Gallery in Washington, DC, the University of Maryland and Yale University. It debuted at the Carnegie Recital hall and has performed concerts in France, Belgium, England, Japan and most of the United States.

Ecco Trio will perform in the fourth concert of the Thief River Falls Concert association series Monday, March 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium.

Piano concert reviewed

by Phyllis Dalager

Because of the generosity of Ron Stordahl and Digi-Key Corporation, all in our community were invited to attend the February 17 piano duo concert free of charge. Thank you so much, Ron and company!

The performers were Elena Camarena and Friedemann Kessler, two international pianists who have performed in Europe, the Far East and Latin America for the past 17 years. However, this is their first tour in the United States.

Elena was the spokesperson for the two, speaking well enough so most of what she said could be understood. She wanted us to understand that all the selections for the evening were original compositions written specifically for four hands, one piano and one sound. the "one sound" was indeed accomplished. It seemed they even breathed together.

With dedicated precision the sensitivity and warmth seemed to flow from their fingers. The two Sonatas by Mozart—whose death 200 years ago was commemorated by the world in 1991—were beautifully played with articulate and melodic phrases. I especially enjoyed the "Sonata in F Major," a big work not unlike a symphony.

Of the three Schubert marches the "March Militaire" was the most familiar and one which some of us have even played at one time or another.

The two duets "En Bateau" and "Ballet" by Debussy, who was from the Impressionistic Period of music

THANK GOD FOR WHAT YOU HAVE BEFORE YOU ASK FOR MORE

There are many ways of saying our prayers, according to our faith and our personal style of doing things, and most of them are acceptable, as long as we are sincere and don't turn the prayer into a "shopping list" of unnecessary material things. We should begin by thanking God for all the blessings He has already granted us, including every day of our lives. Then we should pray for the health and well-being of our loved ones and friends, for the sick and the bereaved, for the cure of disease, for world peace and harmony, and for freedom and friendly cooperation among all nations. Beyond that, let us remember that God will grant only the requests that are right for us, because in His infinite wisdom He knows what is best, far better than we do.

Prayer is the opening of the heart to God as to a friend.

Impressions . . .

Saturday was Leap Day. February 29th comes but every four years to help us rectify our calendars to time.

I heard a discussion about Leap Year and found an item in that discussion to be new to me, so, I decided to take a look and see what actually are the components which make up Leap Year.

So, to refresh all of our memories, here are some facts about our year. Every year is 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes and 46 seconds long. Every fourth year, Leap Year, an extra day is added to our year to make our calendar year and the actual solar year more in line with each other. But, this added year every fourth year actually makes our calendar year 11 minutes, 14 seconds too long. So, to correct this, only the century years divisible by 400 have an extra day added to them. The year 2000 will have 366 days. The year 1800 did not have a Leap Day.

Our current calendar is the Gregorian Calendar. In 1582, it replaced the Julian Calendar which had been in use for 1500 years. It replaced the Julian Calendar because in the Julian Calendar there had been no calculated way to correct the calendar to the actual solar time. So, in 1582, Pope Gregory XIII ordered that 10 days be dropped from the calendar for that year.

October 5, 1582 became October 15, 1582. By deleting these 10 days, the calendar and the sun once again became aligned.

But, there needed to be a way of seeing that the calendar and the sun stayed in line with each other. So, at that time, Leap Year was decreed.

Because of Leap Days, our calendar will vary by one day in several thousand years. Pretty amazingly accurate!

How were these calculations made which are still affecting our modern day twentieth century lives? Think of the lack of technology available to the mathematicians and astronomers in the days of our early calendar. They had no fancy computers. They had no data bases. They had no electronic means of speaking to one another. They were limited to themselves and any simple means of calculations they could devise.

How would we do today if we were called upon to make the same kind of calculations those ancient calendar creators had to make? I doubt that many of us would even know where to begin in our calculations. I know that simply reading about the various calendars in our world's history and how they came to be is mind boggling to me.

We have become an age of people who no longer depend upon ourselves for the answers to the questions of life. We must put our data into computers and wait for the machine to whir a bit before it tells us what we want to know. We have needed to change our thinking into a type of thinking that makes a computer work. We must think in black and white, not gray. We are not allowed to make errors in the commands we give the computer. We speak to one another via telephones hooked up to computers so we no longer hear the voice on the other end of the line, we simply see the computer generated words. We rely on computers, not ourselves for answers.

If the computers were taken from us and we once again had to think the answers through for ourselves, would we find that we no longer knew, for example, how to formulate simple mathematical equations which those ancient astronomers must have been able to devise?

I worry about a world that can place so much of its trust in computers of all types and sizes and capabilities. I worry that this world will forget about the minds of the inhabitants of the world. I pray that in spite of the intelligent machines we have created we will never forget the minds that created those machines. I pray that we will be sufficiently in awe of the minds of those who created our Leap Year centuries ago so that we will never forget that our minds are too valuable to waste. We dare not allow the computers in this world to replace even one thinking mind.

Pennington County Sheriff Bob Wold (center) received a donation of $8,000 from representatives of the Eagles last week. Sheriff Wold said the donation will be used to upgrade the radio system and repeaters for deputies in the sheriff's department. Sheriff Wold said he also received a grant of $4,000 to pay for the remaining cost of the upgrade. He said he really appreciated the assistance and support of the Eagles club. history, expressed a sort of sensuous loveliness at which Debussy was a real master.

The "Slavonic Dances" by Dvorak are so peppy and fun with, of course, Slavonic "sounds." These duets are difficult to play but I felt the artists came through with great clarity and emotion. Certainly these dances were an exciting note on which to end the concert.

The audience warmly urged Camarena and Kessler back for an encore to which they responded with a "Rondo" by Mozart which he composed when he was nine years old.

The standing ovation was evidence that the performance was greatly enjoyed and appreciated by all.

THANK GOD FOR WHAT YOU HAVE BEFORE YOU ASK FOR MORE

There are many ways of saying our prayers, according to our faith and our personal style of doing things, and most of them are acceptable, as long as we are sincere and don't turn the prayer into a "shopping list" of unnecessary material things. We should begin by thanking God for all the blessings He has already granted us, including every day of our lives. Then we should pray for the health and well-being of our loved ones and friends, for the sick and the bereaved, for the cure of disease, for world peace and harmony, and for freedom and friendly cooperation among all nations. Beyond that, let us remember that God will grant only the requests that are right for us, because in His infinite wisdom He knows what is best, far better than we do.

Prayer is the opening of the heart to God as to a friend

by Beth Johnson

Saturday was Leap Day. February 29th comes but every four years to help us rectify our calendars to time.

I heard a discussion about Leap Year and found an item in that discussion to be new to me, so, I decided to take a look and see what actually are the components which make up Leap Year.

So, to refresh all of our memories, here are some facts about our year. Every year is 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes and 46 seconds long. Every fourth year, Leap Year, an extra day is added to our year to make our calendar year and the actual solar year more in line with each other. But, this added year every fourth year actually makes our calendar year 11 minutes, 14 seconds too long. So, to correct this, only the century years divisible by 400 have an extra day added to them. The year 2000 will have 366 days. The year 1800 did not have a Leap Day.

Our current calendar is the Gregorian Calendar. In 1582, it replaced the Julian Calendar which had been in use for 1500 years. It replaced the Julian Calendar because in the Julian Calendar there had been no calculated way to correct the calendar to the actual solar time. So, in 1582, Pope Gregory XIII ordered that 10 days be dropped from the calendar for that year.

October 5, 1582 became October 15, 1582. By deleting these 10 days, the calendar and the sun once again became aligned.

But, there needed to be a way of seeing that the calendar and the sun stayed in line with each other. So, at that time, Leap Year was decreed.

Because of Leap Days, our calendar will vary by one day in several thousand years. Pretty amazingly accurate!

How were these calculations made which are still affecting our modern day twentieth century lives? Think of the lack of technology available to the mathematicians and astronomers in the days of our early calendar. They had no fancy computers. They had no data bases. They had no electronic means of speaking to one another. They were limited to themselves and any simple means of calculations they could devise.

How would we do today if we were called upon to make the same kind of calculations those ancient calendar creators had to make? I doubt that many of us would even know where to begin in our calculations. I know that simply reading about the various calendars in our world's history and how they came to be is mind boggling to me.

We have become an age of people who no longer depend upon ourselves for the answers to the questions of life. We must put our data into computers and wait for the machine to whir a bit before it tells us what we want to know. We have needed to change our thinking into a type of thinking that makes a computer work. We must think in black and white, not gray. We are not allowed to make errors in the commands we give the computer. We speak to one another via telephones hooked up to computers so we no longer hear the voice on the other end of the line, we simply see the computer generated words. We rely on computers, not ourselves for answers.

If the computers were taken from us and we once again had to think the answers through for ourselves, would we find that we no longer knew, for example, how to formulate simple mathematical equations which those ancient astronomers must have been able to devise?

I worry about a world that can place so much of its trust in computers of all types and sizes and capabilities. I worry that this world will forget about the minds of the inhabitants of the world. I pray that in spite of the intelligent machines we have created we will never forget the minds that created those machines. I pray that we will be sufficiently in awe of the minds of those who created our Leap Year centuries ago so that we will never forget that our minds are too valuable to waste. We dare not allow the computers in this world to replace even one thinking mind.

history, expressed a sort of sensuous loveliness at which Debussy was a real master.

The "Slavonic Dances" by Dvorak are so peppy and fun with, of course, Slavonic "sounds." These duets are difficult to play but I felt the artists came through with great clarity and emotion. Certainly these dances were an exciting note on which to end the concert.

The audience warmly urged Camarena and Kessler back for an encore to which they responded with a "Rondo" by Mozart which he composed when he was nine years old.

The standing ovation was evidence that the performance was greatly enjoyed and appreciated by all.

"Checks And Balances In The United States Constitution"

Joel Johnson, a senior at Lincoln high school, placed second in the annual American Legion oratorical contest in Thief River Falls with the following presentation which will serve as our guest editorial for the day. First place entry by Lars Dyrud will be printed as a guest editorial in a later issue. Topic for the contest was:

"Checks and Balances in the United States Constitution."

In May of 1787, fifty-five delegates from 12 states met in Philadelphia to create a better government for the new United States of America. The Articles of Confederation, established in 1781, simply were not powerful enough and did not provide for an effective central government. The Articles called for a weak legislative body that would oversee a loose association of the 13 independent, sovereign states.

The Confederation lacked both a federal executive branch and a federal judicial branch. As a result, the Congress had no power to enforce its will upon the people.

Leading statesmen such as Alexander Hamilton and James Madison helped bring about a convention of state representatives in Philadelphia in 1787. The initial purpose of this convention was to modify the Articles of Confederation, but the delegates in attendance decided instead to write an entirely new plan of government. This new plan, known as the Constitution of the United States of America, has withstood the tests and trials of more than 200 years, thanks in part to the equal distribution of power between the three different branches of government.

In the first three Articles of the Constitution, the Executive, Legislative and Judicial branches are established. The power of the governing body is divided between the branches in such a way that no part of the government is more powerful than another. This separation of powers stemmed from America's fear of a monarchy, where one person would rule the nation. The United States had just won its independence from King George the Third and his British army, so the American people wanted nothing to do with royalty.

Many delegates at the Constitutional Convention of 1787 hated the idea of a chief executive, fearing that a corrupt person in that post would take advantage of his power and become a king. Similarly, many people believed that a legislature with only one house, like under the Articles of Confederation, would exclude the common people from government, and allow only the voices of the wealthy to be heard.

A compromise: An executive branch balanced with Congress, with the judiciary to keep things from getting out of hand. Congress was to have two houses to further balance the power of government: the House of Representatives and the Senate. Under the Constitution, no branch of the federal government can become too powerful, since the other two branches are continually watching.

The Presidency is the highest office a person can hold in the United States. The President serves four-year terms, which forces him to be more accountable to the people of America. He receives a salary for his work, which allows a poor person to become President and not have to worry about personal finances.

The President has the power to make treaties, but only with the support of the Senate. He also appoints ambassadors, Supreme Court Justices and other officials, but again only with the approval of the majority of the Senators....

The legislative branch of the U.S., represented by Congress, is the only part of government that has the power to make laws. A bill must be passed by both the House and Senate, and then signed by the President, before it becomes law. This set of conditions allows only a few bills to become law....

After a bill becomes a law, the Supreme Court may decide that the law is unconstitutional. The Court's word is final, and the law is dropped.....

Only Congress can appropriate funds, thus limiting the executive department from overspending. Congress is given substantial power by the Constitution, but both the executive and judicial branches have considerable power to regulate legislation passed by Congress.

The Judicial branch of government, represented by the Supreme Court, is responsible for interpreting the Constitution. The Constitution makes every effort to keep the courts separate from the President and Congress. Justices of the Supreme Court can hold their office for life, unless impeached. This prevents the President from removing unfavorable judges from the Court. The salaries of the justices can not be decreased, which deters Congress from pressuring judges into resigning by lowering their salaries.

In 1937 Franklin D. Roosevelt proposed a reorganization of the Supreme Court by adding a new justice for every judge over the age of 70. This would increase the size of the Court, and since the President appoints the justices, the majority of the Court would be in support of new programs such as Roosevelt's New Deal.

Congress refused to go along with the plan, and as a result the judicial branch remains relatively free of Presidential influence. Congress checks the courts with its powers to organize the judicial system and make rules of procedure for it, so that all the branches of the U.S. government are balanced.

Although considered a new nation, the United States has one of the oldest governments in the world, since the governments of most of the European nations have changed drastically since America won her independence. The U.S. certainly has the oldest written Constitution. Many new republics have been patterned after our government, due to the ingenious system of checks and balances the framers of the Constitution invented. No part of government is allowed to be more powerful than any other branch.

The flexibility of the Constitution has allowed it to survive as the law of the land for more than 200 years. It has outlasted numerous wars, including a terrible civil war, and has proved itself strong enough to handle even 50 states, as opposed to the original 13.

America has changed from a country almost entirely engaged in agriculture to a nation that is now a modern industrial superpower. In 1787 John Adams called the Constitution "the greatest single effort of national deliberation that the world has ever seen." He was certainly correct when he described the masterpiece of American political philosophy in that manner.

Public Opinion Standing Head

To The Editor:

Your first editorial critical of Hennepin County's attempt to reduce firearm danger was easy to ignore. Choosing to recycle this Pablum on the editorial page and impugn our world championship Twins in the process demands a response.

How could any legitimate sportsman be offended by this program? This is a strictly voluntary program in which firearms can be turned in for cash or Twins tickets. Those individuals who need their guns for sporting purposes or to feel safe, strong or secure need not participate.

Those of us who read medical journals and public health literature rather than N.R.A. propaganda can easily see the wisdom in this program. The advisability of keeping firearms in the home for protection must be questioned. For every case of self-protection homicide involving a firearm there have been 1.3 accidental deaths, 4.6 homicides and 37 suicides (New England Journal of Medicine vol. 314 p. 1557). Restricting access to handguns would be expected to reduce suicide rate in persons age 15 to 24 (New England Journal of Medicine vol. 322 p. 369).

Hennepin county, the Twins and other program sponsors are to be congratulated for their efforts to encourage people to dispose of unwanted firearms. Several years ago I spent an evening in our emergency room unsuccessfully attempting to resuscitate a six-year-old who accidentally shot himself at home. If this program prevents one such incident in the future it is worth the cost a thousand times over.

Sincerely,
Jim Langland, M.D.

To The Editor:

It is hard to believe that our President George Bush and our three big car makers, plus about 50 other dignitaries, went all the way to Japan to beg them to quit sending USA so many cars, and open the door so we could sell them more of everything.

I am sure it cost the taxpayers of this country at least a million dollars. It could have been better to have given that money to the poor people; we have a lot of them and more every day. The trip to Japan was only a waste of time and money.

It is not that many years ago when the three big car makers were building and assembling cars in a lot of foreign countries in order to get cheap labor and save on taxes, and in return would ship those cars back to the USA. The shoe is on the other foot now.

It is only 10 or 11 years ago we were the richest country in the world; today we are next to the poorest, figuring our national debt. We were the envy of the whole world.

The turning point started in 1980 when Reagan became President. The first thing he did was lowered the taxes to the rich and and raised them to the middle class and poor, so today we have more billionaires and millionaires than we ever had in the last 200 years.

Then he approved over $300 billion for defense, the biggest buildup in our nation's history. He continued to do so for his eight years as President. He had enough arms built to kill the Russians 10 times. Reagan bragged he put more people to work and brought more prosperity than any President in peace time history. Today our country is in chaos.

So now poor George Bush is trying to put the USA back together again, which is pretty hard. Our country is near bankruptcy. Our infrastructure is breaking down. We need to build 10,000 new bridges, thousands of miles of roads in this country. Education is most important for our boys and girls, but in math and science and other subjects we are way behind other countries.

We can only blame the leaders of this country. If we want to talk about other problems I will only mention a few. Crime is on the increase—thieves, crooks, murder, drugs, suicide and much, much more.

Then we have the sick and poor and feeble-minded; some have no home, no money for food and sleep in a paper box. We have thousands of them. Some even freeze to death. Still George Bush has cut the funding for all these people in need. For Bush it is a time to make a move. Every year it gets worse and more in debt. Our grandchildren will have to pay.

We should elect a good Democrat like Roosevelt in the 30's to get this country going again. Leadership is all we need.

The way I see it we are going the way of the Roman Empire. They ate, drank and had a good time and soon the enemy took over and there was no more Empire. Wake up, America! It is later than you think.

Sincerely,
Melvin Joppru

Scouts take part in Good Turn project

Boy Scout and Cub Scout units in Thief River Falls will be participating in a national Scout Good Turn project to collect food for distribution through area food shelves.

Monday through Wednesday of next week, March 16-18, local scouts will deliver approximately 3,250 plastic food collection bags to households in the area. Bags are to be filled and hung on the door knob or set in a visible place near the door prior to 10 a.m. Saturday, March 21. Between 10 a.m. and 12 noon scouts will return to pick up the bags of donated items to be delivered to the Thief River Falls area food shelf in the basement of the Falls Mall.

Cash donations will also be accepted and used by the food shelf to purchase items for distribution.

While participating in this national project, scouts are advised to wear their uniforms. They are also reminded by leaders that scouts are helpful and cheerful and that they are expected to perform tasks willingly and cheerfully without pay or reward.

The community has been divided into areas and each area assigned to a scout unit. Participating will be Pack and Troop 57, Pack and Troop 59 and Pack and Troop 199. Collection will take place at Viking and Newfolden the same day.

NCC band to begin rehearsal March 16

Get that trumpet, clarinet, or whatever out of the closet. It's time to crank up the Northland Community band again. This spring will complete the 20th year of the band. Some members have been with the group since its inception in the fall of 1972. A lot has happened since then. Some of the landmarks for the band include a performance at the Minnesota Music Educators Convention, and the Graz American Music Festival in Austria.

Rehearsals will begin the first Monday of classes Spring quarter, which is March 16 at 7 p.m. in Room D 100 at Northland Community College.

"We have some interesting music to rehearse, including selections by Leonard Bernstein and Aaron Copland, outstanding American composers who passed away during 1991," said Les Torgerson, director.

A spring concert will be held Monday, May 11 at Northland Community College.

Grand Forks trade encroaches on TRF

TRF still dominant retail structure in northwestern Minnesota

Thief River Falls remains a dominant retail structure in northwestern Minnesota, according to a study of shopping behavior. But, Thief River Falls should have more pulling power in northern Minnesota where residents are traveling twice as far to go to Grand Forks instead of Thief River Falls.

An overview of a Shopping Behavior survey was presented to representatives of the business community Friday morning at the Technical College in Thief River Falls. That survey made some interesting conclusions about shoppers' behavior. The purpose of the study was to determine the following for Roseau and Red Lake Falls households:

- Household outshopping destinations?
- Household frequency of visitation to outshopping destinations?
- Household outshopping by merchandise line and outshopping destination?
- Designation of stores most frequently visited by households?

The study consisted of a phone survey and resulted in a sample of 200 responses from Red Lake Falls and Roseau residents each, who were 18-years or older. The interviews were conducted in the fall of 1991 by Social Researchers at Bemidji State University. The estimated confidence rate for the survey is 95 per cent. According to the researchers, the age mix and household size of the sample fit well with the age and household size of the general population in the sampled area.

The survey was part three of a program on "Gaining the Competitive Edge in Retailing: Rural Retailing", a workshop sponsored by the Small Business Development Center, Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, and Jobs Inc. Funds for the study were provided by the Small Business Development Administration.

The survey presenter at the final series was Art Gullette, professor of business administration at Bemidji State University (BSU) and former director of the Small Business Development Center at BSU.

Jan Hoff, director of the Small Business Development Center in Thief River Falls, said she believes the survey adequately answered the questions it set out to answer. She doesn't anticipate any further studies unless members of the retail community want to see more information. Hoff commented, however, that not very many retail merchants attended the meetings. She speculated that there could have been many reasons why so few attended the meeting. In any event, the information presented by Gullette was provided for the benefit and use of retail merchants.

> ". . . the primary concerns of the Thief River Falls community should be trade area population decline and the encroachment of the Grand Forks, ND, trade area into the historical trade area of Thief River Falls."

Roseau:

Results from the questionnaire of Roseau included the following, as presented by Gullette in his study summary: "Roseau, perhaps in part due to its isolation, is a self-contained retail center with only modest outshopping. Grand Forks, ND, and Thief River Falls are the two primary outshopping destinations for sampled Roseau households with 36 per cent of sampled households visiting Grand Forks one or more times a month and 30 per cent visiting Thief River Falls
